

Cincinnati, Cards Make Hurler Trade

By JOE SARGIS
United Press Sports Writer
Frank Lane, famed for his trading talent, has completed a swap which he figures is bound to strengthen the Cardinals' bullpen, and from the looks of things, there's more coming.

The trade he made Tuesday involved righthander Brooks Lawrence and lefty Jackie Collum. Lane sent Lawrence, a disappointment last year after a fine rookie campaign, to the Cincinnati Reds in exchange for Collum, a hard-working little guy who figures to add balance to St. Louis' predominantly right-handed relief corps.

"It's not earth-shaking," he admitted, "but it's a start."
Lane may visit the Redlegs and Chicago Cubs training camps later in the spring after those clubs have had a chance to appraise their own talent and Gabe Paul, the Cincinnati general manager, and Wil Mathews, in charge of Chicago player personnel, might like to make it a round robin affair.

Signing Action Brisk
Meanwhile, action on the signing front was brisk. The Giants corralled knuckleball relief artist Hoyt Wilhelm, who lost his touch in 1955, the Phillies bagged four players including Richie Ashburn, the National League's leading batsman last year with a .338 average; the Yankees agreed to terms with first-baseman Bill Skowron; the Tigers satisfied Ray Boone, J. W. Porter and Charley Maxwell; the Cubs announced the signing of catcher Clyde McCullough, and the Orioles signed a pair of rookies and first baseman Bob Boyd, up for another major league trial.

Wilhelm had a 4-1 mark, in 1955, considerably under his 12-4 mark during the 1954 championship year. But in four years with the club he has compiled a 38-16 record and is credited with having saved at least 75 games by the Giants.

Four Agree To Terms
Besides Ashburn, who reportedly signed for $25,000, outfielder Jim Green and rookie catcher Joe Lonnett and Mack Burk agreed to terms with the Phillies.

Right-hander Charlie Locke, who had an 18-13 mark last year at San Antonio, and shortstop Pat Witty Quintana, who batted .226 and hit 19 homers with the same club, signed rookie contracts with the Orioles.

Elsewhere, Willie Mays of the Giants, Bob Feller of the Dodgers, Clem Labine of the Cubs and Bob Porterfield and Mickey Vernon of the Red Sox will be among the honored guests tonight at the eighth annual baseball dinner of the Union Leader Fund, Inc., of Manchester, N.H.

James Keelty, president of the Orioles, has confirmed reports the club may sell its San Antonio farm club if the right offer comes along.

Cisco Fights Jim Carter

Chicago—(U.P.)—Cisco Andrade risks his hopes for the world lightweight championship tonight against a three-time titleholder, but the determined 25-year old westerner was an 8 to 5 underdog for his television brawl with veteran Jimmy Carter.

"I think the fight's a stepping stone for me to the title," Andrade said. "I've been told that if I beat Carter, I definitely get a title chance against Wallace Smith in Los Angeles next."

"My manager told me that, but I don't know who told him, maybe the International Boxing Club."
Will To Win
Andrade, who has been beaten only twice in 34 pro fights, anticipated that determination and "my will to win" would be enough to offset the experience of Carter, who has won 70 of 99 pro battles with nine draws.

Carter lost and regained the lightweight title three times, but Smith took the crown from him the last time and held it in a return match.
"If I can lick him convincingly, I imagine I'll get a shot at the title again," Carter said. "I want to keep active anyhow because when you're not active they drop you in the ratings."
Andrade expected to weigh about 135 for the scrap while Carter said he would be 136 or 137.

Rogue River	2	4	.333
Jacksonville	0	6	.000

Tuesday night activity brought only slight change in positions in the Jackson County B league basketball standings.
St. Mary's maintained its unmarred lead by outlasting Prospect 65 to 56. Talent kept a game behind in second place by trouncing Butte Falls 67 to 37 and Rogue River moved into a tie for fourth by downing Jacksonville 61 to 44.

The Crusaders of Medford took a wide command in the second quarter and, while Prospect had the better of it in the final half were not severely threatened by the Cougars. Talent caught Butte Falls cold and held down high-scoring Bill Irwin to take a substantial lead and keep it. Rogue River pulled away in the third quarter to trim Jacksonville.

Four Lead Changes
The lead switched four times in the SM-Prospect game before the Crusaders took it for keeps. Medford's parochial quint had a 7 to 2 early bulge but Prospect went on top on a pair of gifters by Don Vannice. Laval Meunier scored on a fast break for a 9 to 8 SM edge but Lyle Pope tallied off a rebound for 10 to 9. Prospect leading. A pair of free shots by Dick Paup made it 11 to 10 for the Crusaders.

St. Mary's went on to an 18 to 10 quarter margin. Outdriving, outthrusting and outshooting the Cougars, busting up the Prospect attack time and again and outfighting the Prospect club under the backboards, the Crusaders built up a 41 to 20 spread. They led 41 to 23 at the half.

In the third period, which ended 54 to 37, Prospect outtalled SM 14 to 13 and in the final stanza the Cougars had a 19 to 9 edge. Closest Prospect got to SM in the final quarter was eight points at 64 to 56.

Coach Millard Webb of the Crusaders used several combinations in the final half but the Medford team never got back its second quarter efficiency. Prospect, which missed a lot of early shots, in the meantime got more and better shots and made them more consistently.

Meunier got 19 points for SM and Gerald Darland collected 16 and played a great game under the boards. Dave Gardner potted 16 and J. Daniels 14 for Prospect.

Talent ran up 31 field goals to nine by Butte Falls. The Bulldogs had two men on the Loggers' Bill Irwin much of the time and held him to two points during the first three quarters. Irwin had 10 for the game. The victor club had 13 to 4, 28 to 12 and 53 to 20 leads. Gary Combs headed the Bulldogs with 18 counters and Bob Hoffman got 14. Pat Conley scored 13 for Butte Falls.

Chieftain Player Now at Medford

Bilbee Lane, who has been a regular on the Rogue River high basketball team and who was a football halfback for the Chieftains, has transferred to Medford high.
He reportedly is out for the Black Tornado junior varsity hoop squad.

Tornado varsity players resumed maplecourt drills today after a two-day lay-off following their week end trip to Coos Bay and North Bend. Coach Frank Roelandt indicated that this afternoon's drill would be fairly vigorous.
Medford will play Roseburg here on Saturday night, Feb. 4. Both varsity and junior varsity tangles are slated. Frays with the Indians are make-up affairs. Roseburg postponed its scheduled Dec. 23 trip to Medford because of bad weather and uncertain highway conditions.

12 to 9 at the quarter and the score was deadlocked 26-all at the half. In the third quarter the Chieftains rolled up 20 markers to Jacksonville's six for 46 to 32 advantage. Harold Moore had 18 points and Bill Weaver 16 for Rogue River and Jack Daley 14 for the Redskins.

In junior varsity prelims St. Mary's won 83 to 42 as Jack Birmingham of the Crusaders and Leo Daniels of Prospect each scored 20. Rogue River nipped Jacksonville 55 to 54 at the buzzer and Talent won 52 to 36.

Mikan Spurs Lakers' Win

By UNITED PRESS
The Minneapolis Lakers' slow comeback, since George Mikan returned to the squad, moved them within a half-game of second place in the Western Division of the National Basketball association today on another victory sparked by "Large Jarge."

The Lakers' downed second-place Rochester, 92-86, at St. Louis Tuesday night in the first half of a twin bill.
The second game saw the St. Louis Hawks score 63 points in the first half as they trounced the Boston Celtics, 114-91. And the league's only other action saw the New York Knickerbockers down the Philadelphia Warriors, 105-95 at New York. Go Ahead.

The Lakers trailed, 84-83, when Mikan sank three straight free throws to put them ahead with four minutes to play. They never fell behind again as Mikan scored 19 points and Clyde Lovellette 20.

Paul Arizin scored 38 points for the Warriors at New York but the Knicks won as they celebrated "Dick McGuire Night." Playmaker McGuire reaped the evening honors as fans paid him tribute for seven years of stardom with the Knicks. The former St. John's star received many presents, including a car, and gifts from the Warriors and the Celtics.

Coach Resigns At Wake Forest

Wake Forest, N. C. —(U.P.)—Wake Forest's college's athletic problems were back today after the sudden resignation of Baseball Coach Taylor Sanford.
Sanford, who coached the demon Deacons to the college "world championship" last summer, quit Tuesday because "I was given no assurance that I will have a job here after June 30."

He called a team meeting to announce his decision, which he had reached "only a couple of days ago," and then handed a formal letter of resignation to Dr. Harold W. Tribble, president of the Baptist institution.

It was the third blow-up in the Wake Forest athletic department since the Dec. 3 resignation of Athletic Director Pat Preston and Head Football Coach Tom Rogers.
Last week the college hired former Army assistant Paul Amen to replace Rogers and named FBI agent William H. Gibson athletic director.

Gray Quits North Salem

Salem—(U.P.)—Al Gray said today he has resigned as football coach at North Salem high school. Gray played college football at Oregon State. No successor has been named.

GOLD HILL VICTOR

San Francisco Takes Front Place In CBA

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer
Those amazing San Francisco Dons turned their attention away from record-busting today and started looking for a ticket into the NCAA post-season tournament.

The league title in the California Basketball association is the item that will admit the Dons to the tourney — and Tuesday night they took over first place in the loop by romping to a 67-40 victory over San Jose State at San Francisco for their 41st straight triumph.

Although San Francisco set a major-college record by winning its 40th in a row last Saturday night, San Jose State actually had been in first place in the league with a 4-0 mark to the Dons' 3-0—until Tuesday night.
The ranks of the major college "perfect record" teams remained intact at three with this victory by San Francisco and a 92-82 victory posted by St. Francis of Brooklyn (14-0) over St. Peter's of New Jersey. The third unbeaten outfit, Temple (13-0), shoots for its 14th victory tonight against Muhlenberg.

SMU Takes Lead
Tuesday night's action also saw Southern Methodist seize undisputed first place in the Southwest Conference and North Carolina State, ranked the No. 4 team in the nation by the United Press Board of Coaches, try to battle back into the Atlantic Coast Conference race.

SMU sank a phenomenal 60 per cent of its shots in beating Baylor, 92-72, to push its conference record to 5-0 for a half-game lead over idle Arkansas.
North Carolina State gained a tie for third place in the ACC by crushing Virginia, 99-54—one of the most lopsided games in that league's history.

The national invitation tournament announced the acceptance of its second team—Seton Hall (14-2). Previously named was defending champion Duquesne.

Other Top Games
In other leading games: Kansas nipped Oklahoma A&M 56-55, to give Coach Forrest Phog Allen a 17-16 edge over Henry Hank IBA in their personal duel—the game ending with Mel Wright of the Aggies sinking a basket that officials ruled came a split-second after the gun; Hardin-Simmons trounced Arizona State, 94-72, in the Border Conference; Western Kentucky downed Middle Tennessee, 86-78; and Xavier, O., routed Spring Hill, 70-47.

In addition to Temple's bid for another win, tonight's excellent schedule will see: Arkansas try to tie SMU for the Southwest Conference lead by beating Texas Christian; Dayton, the No. 2 team nationally, try to rebound from its overtime loss to Louisville against Loyola, Ill.; ninth-ranked Kentucky meets 11th-ranked Duke; and 15th-ranked Holy Cross hosts Creighton.

Ex-Chicago White Sox Player Dies

Chicago—(U.P.)—George (Buck) Weaver's dream of clearing his name may come true some day, but it will be too late.

Weaver, 64, once a famed third baseman with the Chicago White Sox, collapsed suddenly and died Tuesday on a South Side street not far from his home. He apparently suffered a heart attack.

Weaver was one of eight members of the 1919 White Sox team charged with "throwing" the World Series of that year to Cincinnati in the famed "Black Sox" scandal. The eight were barred from baseball.

But Weaver throughout the years maintained his innocence and made several efforts to return to baseball. Once 30,000 persons signed a petition asking for his reinstatement.

Landis Firm
Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis, who barred the players, remained firm. In effect, Landis blamed Weaver for not reporting overtures made to him to the proper authorities.

Weaver broke in with the White Sox in 1912 and was a star almost immediately. Always known as a great fielder, he hit .300 in 1917 and .296 in 1919, both Sox pennant years. He hit .333 in 1920 before the scandal broke.

With professional baseball closed to him, Weaver played semi-pro baseball for many years in the Chicago area. In recent years, he had been a mutual clerk at Chicago race tracks.

OSC's Dave Gambee Heads Coast Conference Scoring

Los Angeles—(U.P.)—Statistics showed today why UCLA and Washington will be battling for the Pacific Coast conference basketball leadership in their two-game series here this week end.

UCLA, undefeated in four games, leads the conference in total offense and rebounding. Washington, tied with Southern California for second place with a 5-1 mark, tops PCC teams in total defense, free throws and field goal defense. SC is top ranked in the sixth team statistical department—field goal accuracy, the PCC commissioner's office reported.

In individual scoring, Dave Gambee of Oregon State is the leader with 139 points in eight games. He is followed by Larry Beck, Washington State, 119; Bill Bond, Stanford, 119; George Selleck, Stanford, 115; and Morris Taft, UCLA, 105. Taft has the top game average, however, getting his points in only four contests for a 26.3 average.

Bruins Average Best
UCLA has averaged 87.8 points in each of its games, well in front of Southern California, 68 points, and Stanford, 66.5. In rebounding, the Bruins have grabbed 224 rebounds to their opponents' 139 for 61.8 per cent. SC has a 54 per cent rebounding mark and Washington 53.3.

Washington has held opponents to 53.3 points a game, followed by SC's 55.2 defensive average and Stanford 57.4. The Huskies' tight defense is demonstrated by the fact that their opponents have hit on only 30.3 per cent of their field goal attempts. Southern California leads teams in field goal shooting with a 43.7 per cent average.

Other individual leaders are field goal shooting, Taft, 42 of 77 attempts, and Ray Bell, Oregon, 12 of 22 for a 54.5 percentage each; free throw shooting, Bob Blake, California, 16 of 21 for 85.7 per cent; and rebounds, Willie Naulls, UCLA 71 of 363 opportunities for 19.6 per cent.
Dead line Sunday Classified is at noon Saturday, 10 a.m. Monday for Monday other days 5:30 previous day.
