

HORNHOOK Californians Welcome Sun

By MRS. H. H. CHAPMAN
Hornbrook — A welcome breath of "springtime," in the form of sunshine and clear skies, greeted this part of water-logged northern California Sunday morning.

Siskiyouans by the hundreds turned out on the highways to take advantage of this first nice Sunday in weeks. Among those enjoying the day were John and Mike Brunk, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Brunk. The boys were part of a group of about 75 students from St. Mary's academy in Medford who enjoyed a snow party at Siskiyou summit, skiing, tobogganing and sledding. The youngsters were accompanied by a large number of their parents.

Hornbrook Troop 38 of the Boy Scouts also took to the snow

Wayne Ralston, district deputy from Yreka, was installing officer, Park Shelley of Yreka, who is insurance agent from Greenhorn Grange, gave a talk on Grange insurance. Mrs. Mary Lemos, also a member of Greenhorn Grange, was a visitor.

Tom Watt Jr., part owner of the Johnson Trucking lines and dock manager of Willamette Builders supply, reports that their trucks are now able to get through on the Klamath River road for the first time since the pre-Christmas floods of Dec. 21. The first loads of veneer arrived here from Happy Camp last Saturday, after having been pushed out by "cat" on the detour which was established where the Scott river bridge had been washed out in the flood.

Since Sunday the trucks have been able to make the entire trip under their own power. The veneer is brought in here to the loading dock where it is transferred to railroad cars for ship-

Bids For Prison Boiler Are Opened

Salem — (U.P.) — Low bids totaling more than $330,000 for construction of a state prison boiler house were accepted here yesterday by the State Board of Control on condition that they be approved by the legislative emergency board which meets here Feb. 10.

E. E. Bateman, Salem, was low at $11,982 for the general building construction. Low bid for mechanical construction was submitted by P. S. Lord, Portland. It was $122,600. The Electric Corporation, Salem, was low for electrical work with $81,970.

The boiler house, which will be located outside the prison walls, will cost $335,545. However, an additional $20,000 will be needed to extend a steam tunnel inside the walls.

The board agreed that it should wait for an Army report on flight patterns which might affect location of a proposed mental hospital in the Wilsonville or Hillsboro areas.

Several sites are being considered for the air base in areas where the state has options to build the hospital. A flight pattern report is expected within two weeks.

In other business, the board accepted the resignation of its secretary, E. J. Bill Ireland, with regret and ordered a letter of commendation for him. William Ryan was named the new secretary and Arthur Handy his assistant.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—THREE

County Road Crews Found Playing Cards

Flemington, N.J.—(U.P.)—The Hunterdon County Board of Freeholders decided Tuesday to crack down on county road gangs.

The board made the ruling after learning that several road gangs had been surprised playing cards and sipping beer on the job. The freeholders said that in the future they will require official reports of such instances instead of just reprimands.

Lose Pork Selling Contest; Beef Dinner

Cozad, Neb.—(U.P.)—Cozad residents lost their pork selling contest to Audubon, Ia., in a campaign to promote pork and will pay off with a dinner for 75 persons.

The dinner will feature a beef menu, however. Residents of both towns said they simply got tired of eating pork day in and day out during the campaign.

Port Glasgow, Scotland—(U.P.) They were unable to launch the new motor cargo ship "Squall" as planned Tuesday. It was too windy.
