

Yanks Face Russians in Hockey Fray

Cortina, Italy — (U.P.) — The most dramatic face-to-face clash of the United States and Russia in the 1956 Winter Olympic games will take place tonight with the ice hockey championship hanging in the balance.

A week ago you couldn't have found an expert here who would have given the Yanks a chance in this clash with the swift Soviets.

But today the rousing, high-spirited play of the Americans in their victories over Canada and Sweden had won them a host of followers. Coach Johnny Mariucci of the Yanks, thinks his team can win; his players are certain of it; and the experts now figure they are no worse than even money.

The two teams headed into the game tied for the lead in the championship competition. The Russians haven't lost a single game here; the Americans have lost only a preliminary round game that doesn't affect the final standings.

If the Americans win this one, they can wrap up the Olympic title by beating Czechoslovakia tomorrow. If the Russians win it, they can take the crown by beating Canada tomorrow. If either wins today and then loses tomorrow, a three-way tie for the title could result.

Hebert Tops Phoenix Golf

Phoenix, Ariz. — (U.P.) — Lionel Hebert, hardly an "unknown" but still looking for his first major professional championship, carried a one stroke lead into the second round of the $15,000 Phoenix Open today.

Hebert, 28, of Erie, Pa., shot a three-under par 68 in the opening round of the tournament Thursday on the Phoenix Country Club course. His sound approach shots helped him gain an advantage over the field, most of which had trouble on the course's bumpy greens.

One stroke behind the leader were two professionals and one amateur.

Bo Winniger, Oklahoma City, and Bill Nary Jr., Detroit, a former Tucson golfer, both carded 69s on the par 71 course, while Jim Tom Blair, Jefferson City, Mo., equalled their performances to take the lead among the amateurs.

Hedrick Tips Ashlanders

Hedrick seventh and eighth grade basketball teams won encounters yesterday with Ashland clubs.

The seventh won 27 to 19 and the eighth 41 to 35.

Hornet eighth graders emerged from a mix which was close all the way and in which play was rugged under the boards. Period standings were 8 to 7, 21 to 18 and 33 to 27 all for Hedrick.

Jerry Anderson totaled 16 points for the Hornets. He was charged with his fourth foul in the third quarter, hurting his effectiveness but John Frohnmayer sparked the Hornets with all of his nine counters in the stanza. Frohnmayer and Paul Moore were tough under the backboards for the Medford club. Gray was the scoring and ball handling star for Ashland. He had 16 points.

Hedrick made 15 out of 17 free shot tries and Ashland 17 for 22.

Mike Monroe got 10 points for the Hedrick seventh which led at the intermissions 10 to 4, 16 to 11 and 23 to 13.

Louis Tax Liens Total $1,210,789

Chicago — (U.P.) — Joe Louis, former heavyweight boxing champion, received another staggering blow from the Internal Revenue Service. A new income tax lien for $11,351 was filed against him yesterday.

This brought the total of such liens against Louis to $1,210,789 for the years 1946 through 1951.

Hollingsworth, Hoffine 2nd, 3rd In Oregon Collegiate Tallying

Scoring percentages increased during the past week in the Oregon Collegiate Conference. Still on top, though, is Eastern Oregon's Ted Schadewitz, according to standings release today.

Schadewitz has hit an average of 25.1 markers per game, pumping through 201 points in league games to date.

Right behind the steady Mountaineer area a pair of Southern Oregon hoppers, Bill Hollingsworth and Lloyd Hoffine. Hollingsworth has hit an average of 22 per outing and Hoffine a mark of 20.6.

Others in the top ten are: Lowell Kolbaba, EOCE, 19.8; Jack Parker, Portland State, 19.7; Jack Viskov, Portland State, 17.7; John Foster, Oregon Tech, 17.6; Paul Poetsch, Portland State, 12.8; Fletch Frazier, Portland State, 12.1; and Cecil Miller, Oregon College, 11.2.

Husky, Bruin Tussle PCC Cage Highlight

By HAL WOOD
San Francisco — (U.P.) — Washington and UCLA clash in the southern tonight and tomorrow in what may be the tell-tale series for the Pacific Coast Conference championship and a berth in the NCAA play-offs.

Although both teams have been bounced around more than somewhat in non-conference engagements, they look powerful inside their own loop.

UCLA, with an over-all record of 10 wins against five defeats, has a perfect 4-0 record inside the conference; the Huskies, winners of nine and beaten seven times over-all, have a 5-1 mark in league play.

This clash is expected to steal some of the thunder from the upstart California Basketball Association race, which will feature the University of San Francisco Dons going after their 42nd consecutive triumph tonight against Loyola of Los Angeles.

UCLA fans who have been used to watching such great performers as Moorie Taft and Willie Naulls in action, will get to see something new in Bruno (Bonco) Boin — one of the finest young hook-shot artists to come along in recent years.

Boin is only 18 years old and a sophomore, but he stands six feet, eight inches tall and still is growing. He has developed an overhead hook shot from the corner of the floor that is tremendously successful and so far this season he has averaged 16 points per game — which isn't bad for just a beginner.

But the Bruins, playing in their own back yard, are slight favorites to win and help Coach Johnny Wooden along toward another championship. In his seven previous years at UCLA, Wooden has led his club to five division championships and two league crowns. There is no division this year — just one nine-

Medford High Participant In Physical Fitness Tests

A five-member University of Oregon team will be in Medford on Feb. 14 to conduct physical fitness tests at the senior high school.

Medford is among high schools in 12 Oregon cities which have accepted invitations to participate in a pilot physical fitness program. Invitations were issued by the Oregon Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation through its central physical fitness committee.

Portland, Salem, Eugene, Springfield, Willamette, Roseburg, Coos Bay, Klamath Falls, Bend, Pendleton and Baker schools are others participating. Superintendent of Schools Leonard Mayfield accepted for Medford.

University of Oregon testing teams under the direction of Dr. H. Harrison Clarke, are visiting each of the high schools to administer physical fitness index tests to 100 boys and 100 girls. Following the testing, the pupils with the lowest PFI scores will be selected for special developmental activities to improve their physical fitness.

Individual Needs
This program will be adapted to meet the individual needs of pupils based upon studies of the cause of the low fitness of each pupil. Emphasis will be thus placed upon those boys and girls who are subpar physically. At the end of three months, retests will be given at each of the schools to determine pupil progress and program effectiveness.

The testing will serve to check on the physical fitness of boys and girls in Oregon high schools. This check is regarded as particularly important at this time in view of figures on the comparative fitness of American and European children appearing in the national press. Dr. Hans Kraus of New York City reported from his studies that 58 per cent of U.S. youngsters tested for muscular fitness by him failed one or more of his tests while only nine per cent of European youngsters failed.

It is believed by the university testers that a more favorable situation exists in Oregon, especially in schools where good physical education programs exist.

The shift probably will produce no difference in the Bears, either on offense or defense. Driscoll, a former star back at Northwestern and with both the Bears and Chicago Cardinals, was an assistant to Halas for the past 15 years and promptly announced "we'll keep the same system."

TAKES ARMY POST
West Point, N.Y. — (U.P.) — Dale Hall, an ex-Army halfback, today agreed to return to West Point as an assistant football coach under Earl (Red) Blaik. A former teammate of Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis, Hall served as a backfield coach at the University of Florida last season.
