

Ike Asks Boost In Immigration Quotas

Washington — (U.P.) — President Eisenhower urged congress today to boost U.S. immigration quotas by about 65,000 persons a year as part of a 14-point program to liberalize the controversial McCarran-Walter immigration law.

He also called for legislation to prevent "depraved criminals" from "abusing" the right of appeal to the courts after they have been ordered deported from this country.

In a 5500-word special message to the House and Senate, Mr. Eisenhower said the additional immigration quotas which he proposed should be "distributed among countries in proportion to their actual immigration to this country" since 1945. The effect would be to give a break to countries like Italy and Greece, which have long waiting lists of would-be immigrants to America.

Asks Prompt Action

Present ceiling on immigration is 154,657 persons a year. Mr. Eisenhower noted that this was "derived from a formula based upon the 1920 population." He said the country's "economic growth" since that time warrants increasing the ceiling to 200,000.

Appealing for prompt action on his proposals, Mr. Eisenhower said that "throughout our history immigration has contributed greatly to the strength and character of our republic."

Liberalizing the immigration act, he said, "will advance our own self-interest," and "also serve as living demonstration that we recognize our responsibilities of world leadership."

Despite the President's plea, chances for congressional approval of the program this year are believed to be slim. Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), co-author of the act and chairman of the House committee that handles immigration bills, has already announced his opposition to any extensive revisions.

Mr. Eisenhower did not spell out his proposal for tightening up on the legal appeal rights of aliens ordered deported from the country. He said Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. will submit specific legislation later.

The President also proposed that Congress repeal the "unnecessary" provision requiring aliens to specify their race and origin in applying for visas, eliminate the requirement that an alien must live in this country for a full year before acquiring resident rights by marriage to an American citizen, and abandon the requirement that foreigners passing through this country on international air flights must meet all the standards for admission as immigrants.

Mr. Eisenhower also asked for a "special pool" of 5,000 visas a year which he said would "enable us to give greater assistance to persons abroad who have undergone suffering and hardship resisting Communist aggression" or who have special skills that "would make beneficial contributions to this country."

He also sought authority for the secretary of state and attorney general to waive the requirement that every alien coming here on a temporary visit must be fingerprinted. Mr. Eisenhower said that this requirement "does not significantly contribute to our national safety" and has caused some international resentment.

Alabama U. Heads for Showdown On Admission of Negro Student

Tuscaloosa, Ala. — (U.P.) — The University of Alabama today headed for a showdown in the violent controversy raging around the exclusion of its first Negro student.

University authorities refused to budge from the stand that Autherine Lucy, the student, was barred from classes in a move to prevent further violence that might cause injury to students, faculty and the woman herself.

But Arthur Shores, Miss Lucy's attorney, warned Tuesday that she must be permitted to return to classes or he will ask that the board of trustees be cited for contempt of court for authorizing her exclusion.

In New York, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called on Attorney General Herbert Brownell to take criminal action against "any and all persons" who are preventing the woman from attending classes.

Miss Lucy said in a special dispatch prepared for the United Press that she believed the majority of students wanted her to return to classes.

"Some of the students were very friendly toward me," she wrote. "Others were hostile. But I feel the majority is for me."

Another student, Leonard Wilson, said he believed Miss Lucy should not be permitted to return because "the demonstrations show beyond a reasonable doubt that integration will not work."

"For the safety of herself and of all the other students, she should not be admitted," Wilson said.

Faculty members Tuesday night tabled a motion that classes be suspended if further rioting breaks out over the woman's admission.

But the student government association unanimously adopted a resolution condemning the violence.

Rocks and Eggs Thrown

The school trustees relied on their "police power" to bar the girl from further classes "until further notice" in view of the rioting which included shouted threats and barrages of rocks and eggs hurled at the girl and at officials who tried to break up the mob.

A faculty member proposed that classes be suspended if further rioting results and his motion turned the otherwise calm meeting of 400 faculty members into a turmoil.

A number of faculty members shouted approval of the resolution but in the midst of the noisy debate the meeting was adjourned and the motion was tabled.

The student resolution condemned "three days" of "mob violence" and urged that "means be taken to protect personal safety of the students and faculty and the reputation of the university."

Adlai Confident of Victory in California

San Diego — (U.P.) — Adlai Stevenson says he is confident he will win California's June presidential primary election in which he faces Sen. Estes Kefauver.

Stevenson completed his week of intensive California speech-making yesterday by telling a rally here that he was greatly encouraged by the reception he has received in the state.

California, said the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, is a "beautiful" state, "both physically and politically."

Stevenson left San Diego last night for nearby Rancho Santa Fe, about 40 miles from here, where he will rest at the home of friends for a few days. His next speaking engagement is in Portland, Ore., on Feb. 11.

Controversial Student Only Wants Education

Editor's note: The following was written for United Press by the first Negro student of the University of Alabama who was suspended because of campus demonstrations.

By AUTHERINE LUCY
Written for United Press
Birmingham, Ala. — (U.P.) — I have always wanted to go to the University of Alabama and being there just these few days has made me feel good inside.

I want to go back just as soon as the board of trustees tells me I can.

I believe the University of Alabama student body will accept me if they are left alone by outsiders.

I want to be an acceptable librarian and I have no other interest in this than that I want to get a good education.

Proud of University
I don't think I'm asking for anything I am not entitled to. I am proud of the university and I will be proud to be a student there.

Some of the students were very friendly toward me. Others were hostile. But I feel the majority is for me.

Although I think the board of trustees probably did what was best in excluding me from class yesterday, I don't think it would have been necessary had they taken the right action quickly.

I really don't know what they should have done. But I feel they could have done something to have prevented my having to discontinue classes.

I deeply regret the incidents of the last few days because I want only to have a chance to learn.

Editor's note: In the following dispatch a 19-year-old pre-law student at the University of Alabama tells the reasons why he thinks a Negro should not be admitted to the university.

By LEONARD WILSON
Written for United Press
Tuscaloosa, Ala. — (U.P.) — It would be the greatest thing Autherine Lucy ever did if she would withdraw voluntarily from the University of Alabama.

The demonstrations here show beyond a reasonable doubt that integration will not work.

For the safety of herself and of all the other students, she should not be admitted.

I think the violent demonstrations that occurred Monday are certain evidence of this. I believe they would crop up again should she be allowed to return to the campus.

Students Take Part
I will also take issue with a report that the participants in the demonstrations have been outsiders. There were probably some taxpaying citizens in the crowds and in the groups I saw assembled there were more university students than outsiders.

I don't think Autherine Lucy is responsible for what she is doing. Apparently she is being backed—pushed by the wretched National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The only solution to the problem will be for Autherine Lucy to withdraw voluntarily and put an end to all connected court litigation.

Crosby Son's Car Strikes Pedestrian

Tacoma — (U.P.) — Pvt. Phillip Crosby, son of crooner Bing Crosby, struck and injured a pedestrian while driving through nearby Tillicum yesterday.

Ace Brightwell, 79, Tillicum, was taken to Madigan Army hospital where he was reported in critical condition from a fractured left leg, multiple abrasions to his left hand and face and shock.

Young Crosby had been stationed at Fort Lewis, just south of here, until yesterday when he received overseas orders. State patrolmen said Brightwell was hit when he crossed the street to his mail box.

Crosby was not held and no charges were filed.

Fort Lake, Ill. — (U.P.) — The Milwaukee Road Commuters association will hold a Valentine's Day party Feb. 14. But there will be no love and kisses for the railroad. Party proceeds will be used to fight proposed suburban fare increases.
