By UNITED PRESS
The shouting is about all that is left of the Oregon Collegiate conference race today as the teams headed into the home stretch with Portland State already assured of nothing worse than a tie for the loop title.

The Vikings (11-3) took a pair of wins over Southern Oregon in Portland over the week end, whacking the Red Raiders 90-61 Friday night and then squeaking by with a 61-58 win Saturday.

Oregon college rebounded from an 86-78 pasting by Eastern Oregon Friday night at Monmouth, to post a 98-86 verdict Saturday.

Action in the circuit comes to a close next week end with Portland State taking on Eastern Oregon 9-5 at La Grande in championship battles Friday and Saturday nights.

Oregon Tech, idle over the past week end, has three games billed this week, leading off tomorrow night against Southern Oregon at Ashland and then entertaining Oregon college five for two games on the week end.

Portland State against the Raiders had a meager lead most of the second half and protected it with a stall at the finish.

Bill Hollingworth and Lloyd Hoffine got 42 of the Raider points between them. Hoffine was high for the game with 22 and Hollingworth got 20. Jack Viskov paced the Vikings with 17.

Southern Oregon was leader 26 to 25 at the halftime pause but PSC got three straight baskets to take command at the outset of the second half. The Ashlanders tied up the game at 35-44 and went ahead to stay at 47 to 46.

UCLA Downs Oregon State Contingent

Portland — (U.P.) — Oregon and Oregon State will both attack the Pacific Coast Conference basketball standings next week end but they will be shooting at different ends of the pine-team pile.

Oregon State, twice beaten last week end in its attempt to be the first to knock over UCLA, will entertain cellar-dwelling Idaho in a pair this week end at Gill Coliseum.

Oregon, on the other hand, fresh from a week's vacation from the mapleboard wars, visits UCLA, Friday and Saturday nights.

The Bruins maintained their undefeated conference status this week, and even more they did it on the road, a thing the coast mentors have emphasized all year is a pretty rough trick to turn.

The Bruin was masterful Friday night with an impressive 77-56 win over Oregon State. Saturday night the Orange came back with a brilliant attack that kept pace with the Bruins until it finally wilted away in the closing five minutes of the game, as UCLA notched a final 72-59 win.

The Beavers stayed even with UCLA through the early part of the first half but with 12 minutes to play Oregon State went into front, once by as much as nine points and led at the half, 39-32.

The Beavers twice had ten point leads in the second quarter but midway through the period UCLA caught up.

Bruins Break Loose
After five minutes of evenly balanced scoring the Bruins broke loose with Morrie Taft, Willie Nauils and Allen Herring making a rush for the remaining points. Before the timer's final gun blasted out the close, this trio had poured through 15 points while the Beavers found the range for only a duce.

UCLA appeared to have the Pacific Coast Conference race pretty well cinched with its 10-0 record.

Southern California had to settle for a split against Sanford, averaging Friday's 78-74 overtime loss with a 74-58 thumping.

California, now well entrenched in second place, was trailing Washington State by a point at the half Saturday night then rolled over the fading Cougars, 73-59.

Washington deadlocked USC for third place by sweeping a pair from last place Idaho, 46-34 and 70-63, the Saturday win coming in overtime.

HUSKY SURVEY SET
Vancouver — (U.P.) — The turbulent situation in the University of Washington football administration today was in the hands of the state's legislative committee on Education for a "quiet and judicial" survey.
