Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boyd took first place for north-south winners for the February 11 session, scoring 113½ points. Second went to Mrs. R. J. Conroy and Miss Isobel Stuart, 112; Mrs. George Choate and John Solheim were third with 108 points.

East-west winners for that session were Mrs. Harold Jaffrey and Mrs. Jack Love, first, 117 points; Mrs. Josephine Clark and Burton Sims, second, 104 and the Berg Marnettes, third, 98½.

Two Groups Hold Dinner Meeting At Prospect Cafe

Prospect—Prospect Lions club and auxiliary held a joint dinner and business meeting February 15 at Mill Creek cafe, with a large number attending.

Dr. A. Erin Merkel, Jackson county public health officer spoke on the cause, prevention and care of tuberculosis. He used pictures to illustrate his talk and urged those who have not already done so to have chest x-rays as soon as possible.

Today has been designated Prospect day at Sacred Heart hospital and a large number of residents are expected to have chest x-rays made between 7 and 9 p.m.

Mrs. George Hubbard, chairman of the auxiliary, thanked those who cooperated by giving blood when the Red Cross bloodmobile was at Shady Cove February 7. There were 56 donors from Prospect at that time.

Parent-Teacher Magazine Week Observed in City

The current week of February 20 to 25 has been designated "National Parent Teacher Week" to call attention to the annual drive for subscriptions to the Parent Teacher magazine, according to Mrs. Charles Bird, city council magazine chairman.

To stimulate interest in the campaign, Mrs. Bird states that the Oregon Congress of PTA has offered a certificate of achievement to the individual unit in the state which sends in the highest number of subscriptions during the week. They will also publish in the Oregon Congress Bulletin a brief history of the winning unit, and a picture of the chairman for their magazine drive.

Parents who have not been contacted for subscriptions are urged by Mrs. Bird to call their magazine chairman or unit presidents who will place orders for them.

Further information about the Parent Teacher magazine may be had by listening to a 15-minute television program Thursday at 2:45 p.m. Mrs. Floyd V. Barrett, state magazine chairman, will be the guest speaker, along with local leaders. Mrs. Cliff Cordy is county magazine chairman.

Mrs. Bird states that Jackson county units have an equal chance to win the state award in competition with larger groups in the northern part of the state, since those groups have already held subscription drives earlier in the school year, and only subscriptions taken during the current week are counted.

Family to Leave For Stay in Japan

Maj. and Mrs. Douglas Eden and children, Elizabeth, James Douglas and Margaret, left Medford Monday for Oregon City en route to Yokota, Japan. Maj. Eden is personnel officer of the Yokota Air Force base, having spent the past eight months there, and his family will return there with him for a two and one-half year stay.

They will visit in Oregon City with Mrs. Eden's mother, Dr. Mabel Hardenbrook, before sailing Feb. 29 from Seattle.

The Winged Victory chorus will present a concert Thursday, February 23, for members of Jackson County Civic Music association in Medford Senior High school auditorium. Concert time is 8 p.m. The chorus began as the singing representatives of the 43rd Infantry Division, and toured Europe while the men were still with the Army. Joseph Baris is director.

Duchess of Windsor Tells Her Side of Abdication Story

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY United Press Correspondent

New York—The Duchess of Windsor began to tell the story of her life today, disclosing that Great Britain still would be ruled by King Edward VIII "had I had my way, when at the eleventh hour full understanding finally came to me."

The autobiography ends her 20-year public silence on her private life and "gives an insight into why I did some of the things I did."

The first installment appeared yesterday in McCall's Magazine under the title "My Side of the Story." It will be published next fall as a book, "The Heart Has Its Reasons."

"Over the years the truth has been largely clouded over by a great mass of misinformation, uninformed speculation and gossip," the Duchess said in a statement released to reporters at a cocktail party Monday in which she appeared for the first time in the role of author.

"I have decided," the statement continued, "that it is only right for me to set down for the record the complete story of life before and after my marriage to the duke."

The duke also came to the champagne and caviar party, and after greeting the 200 guests in the receiving line joined her at a table to autograph copies of the magazine. He signed "Edward, Duke of Windsor" and she signed "Wallis Windsor." "I'm very proud of her," the duke said, when he was asked how he felt about his wife becoming an author.

The duchess candidly appraised herself in her autobiography as a woman "content to live for the hour . . . more often than not in defiance of the maxim of never leaping before taking a prudent look."

Her marriage, she said, "has presented me with what surely must be one of the most unusual problems any woman has ever had to face—how to fill the hours for a husband who, having previously known the fullness of prestige and pomp, is excluded, by reason of his royal position, from the normal pursuits of the ordinary citizen."

The duke and duchess both got mixed up when they began autographing copies of the magazine which carried the first installment of the autobiography of the duchess.

They sat side by side at a table in the Waldorf Astoria Hotel obligingly signing copies until suddenly the duchess burst out laughing. She had signed "Wallis Warfield," her maiden name, instead of Wallis Windsor.

The duke, a few minutes later, quickly took back a copy of the magazine he had just autographed, showed it to the duchess, and they both laughed.

He had signed, "Edward, Duke of Wales," instead of "Edward, Duke of Windsor."

Great Americans, PTA Founders Honored by Unit

Great American men were honored and Founders' day celebrated by members of Jackson Parent-Teacher association at the last meeting. Mrs. Treavell Turpin, president, conducted the meeting and the invocation was given by Mrs. Golden Noble.

Presentation of the flag was by Cub Scouts of the fourth grade, Barry Peterson, Tommy Ginn, Hans Edwaldson and Thomas LeFaive.

The first part of the program had been prepared by Mrs. William Thompson, teacher of the fourth grade. It followed a patriotic theme and honored great heroes of the United States. It was presented entirely by children of the fourth grade, with Sandra Grants announcer.

Jaquita McDonnell, Sharron Richey and Janet Gibson gave a toast to the flag and Kim Murry recited a poem. The fourth grade chorus sang three numbers and Maureen Donaldson recited a poem.

The second part of the program was dedicated to the founders of PTA. Mrs. R. E. Wicker was program chairman, assisted by Mrs. J. A. Medley, teacher of the fifth grade.

Four past-presidents of Jackson PTA, Mrs. Minnie Bryant, Mrs. J. F. Hamilton, Mrs. Alvin Boswell and Mrs. Golden Noble attended the meeting. Mrs. Wicker introduced them and presented them with ribbon corsages made by Mrs. Glenn Schneider, teacher of the third grade.

In a candle-lighting ceremony Mrs. Wicker lighted a candle in honor of the founders, Mrs. Bryant lighted one for the past presidents. Mrs. John Russell for present and future presidents and six-year-old Johnny Winthrop Lynch, first grade student, in honor of fathers and mothers.

During the business meeting Robert Bacus, Mrs. Arthur Hertzger and Mrs. W. S. Richey were named to the nominating committee.

Mrs. H. L. Schroeder explained study groups which are to meet in various homes to discuss topics of interest to parents of school children. First of the series will be about baby-sitting.

The group will meet Friday, February 24, at 413 North Columbus avenue and a baby-sitter will be on hand to care for children. All Jackson school parents interested in attending are asked to phone 2-4765.

Mothers of children in the third grade were hostesses for the silver tea which was held in the cafeteria following the meeting. Mrs. J. A. Medley and Mrs. Alvin Boswell poured and Mrs. Golden Noble served the cake.

SEASONING HINT

Instead of tossing out celery tops, dry them as you would herbs. Then crumble the dried leaves and store in a covered jar to use as flavoring for soups, casseroles and other dishes.

"Paul says I'm a peach!"

Paul thinks it's just wonderful the way I keep our house looking practically perfect and still have time to do so many other things. The plain truth is that I've found faster, easier ways to get my work done. Take wood floors. Cleaning and waxing them was something fierce. I can still remember how my muscles ached for days after. But not now. It's almost a pleasure with Bruce Cleaning Wax. There's no floor washing at all! Bruce cleans and waxes at the same time. And my wood floors really look beautiful. Much nicer than when I did them the hard way. If you have wood floors, you'll really appreciate Bruce Cleaning Wax.

Incidentally, I've found other Bruce floor products help me, too. There's Bruce Floor Cleaner for cleaning and lighter waxing, Bruce Paste Wax, Bruce Asphalt Tile Cleaner, Bruce Asphalt Tile Self-Polishing Wax and the new Bruce Self-Polishing Wax. Yes, for floors it's Bruce!

Officer to Attend Nurses' Institute

Mrs. Margaret Nelson, registered nurse and treasurer of District 4, Oregon State Nurses' association, will attend an operating room nurses' institute in Portland Saturday, February 25.

The program has been arranged by the Intersectional Conference of Operating Room Nurses and will be held at the Oregon State Medical school library.

Mrs. Nelson will travel to Salem Friday and there will meet Mrs. Sue Dittmore, a former member of District 4, and other Salem nurses, and they will travel together to Portland to attend the institute.

"CHEAT" AND SAVE

New York, (U.P.)—Food budget tip: Substitute canned mackerel for salmon next time you make a salmon loaf. The family probably won't notice the difference, and the mackerel costs about one-third as much.

Use mackerel for salmon next time with noodles, or macaroni and other casseroles.

Birthday Party Held at McLeod

McLeod—Mrs. Ray Gillispie was hostess February 1 for a dinner at her home which observed the birthday anniversaries of Robert Conger and Mrs. Gillispie. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Curt Langston, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Conger, Marjorie, Jackie and Billie Hunt of Medford, and Don, Ray and Ann Gillispie.

Later Mrs. Gillispie was hostess for a luncheon in her home, with Mrs. Lizzie Tucker, Ashland, Mrs. Carl Richardson, Mrs. Chandler and Mrs. Roy Vaughn as guests.

Economist Declares Frozen Foods Costly

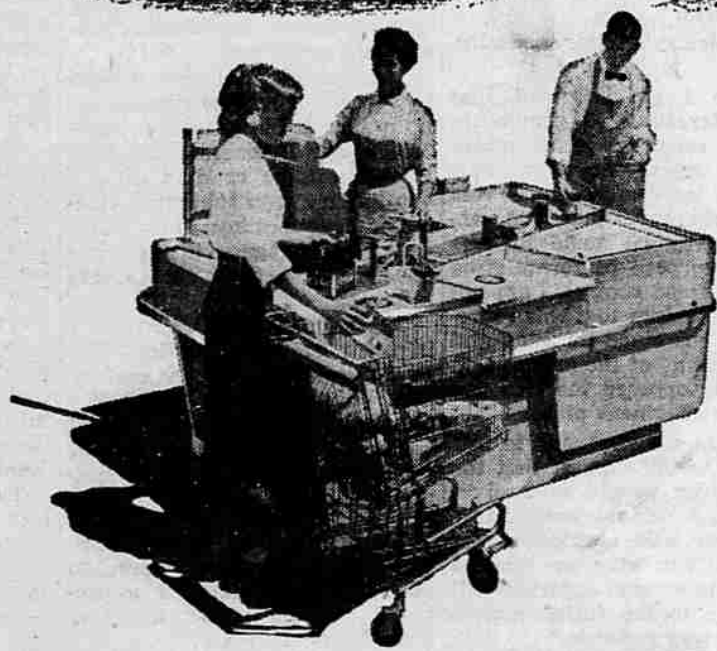

Champaign, Ill. (U.P.)—Ready-to-serve frozen foods are easy to cook, but sometimes hard on the budget compared with kitchen-prepared products.

Mrs. Glenna Lamkin, University of Illinois home economist, said a study showed that a homemade apple pie costs about 44 cents. A frozen one costs about 69 cents. Texture and appearance often fail to meet good quality standards, too, she said. She said that the best use of commercially frozen foods is as "emergency dishes" and to add variety to the menu.

CASUAL OR CARELESS?

Hollywood (U.P.)—Loretta Young, long known as one of the best dressed of the movie set, cautions women against confusing the casual look with the careless look. She bemoans the carelessness with which some women dress to go shopping. "Shopping is a public appearance," said the star. "It is about the only public appearance some women make."
