

Friendship Follies Presented by 4-H Groups Last Night

Although weather conditions limited attendance a complete program was given at the International Farm Youth Exchange 4-H Friendship Follies last night at Medford Senior High school.

The Follies included singing by Katherine, Karen and Winnifred Gott, Ronnie Eastgate and Bruce Boldenow, all of Medford; T. W. Carter, Von Quackenbush, Weyburn Kenyon and Freeman Mason, all of Phoenix; Beverly Nelson, accompanied by Eileen Ojier, Griffin Creek; and Marvena Nelson, accompanied by Marilyn Greenwood, Eagle Point, and Edyth Bohnert and Wallace Ragsdale, of Central Point.

Other Entertainment

Nancy Lusk, Joyce and Betty Kerr of Ashland, presented a ballet number and the two Kerr girls did a tap duet. Heather Rode, Medford, played two piano solos; Floyd Charley, Central Point, gave a recitation and the Antelope 4-H Forestry club presented a skit entitled "Count Twenty's Revenge."

Carolyn Tiege and Nyla Cooper of Talent played clarinet duets; Connie, Vonnie and Bonnie Goehring, Eagle Point, played an accordion trio number and Bonnie Goehring played an accordion solo. Katherine Gott presented a piano solo.

Marjo Murray was master of ceremonies for the program. All proceeds will go to the International Farm Youth Exchange.

World War I Vets Hold Barracks Meet

An organizational meeting of the Medford Barracks of Veterans of World War I was held recently in the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall, 42 North Front st.

Norvin R. Walters, 2024 Kings hwy., was elected temporary commander of the new organization, and Pat Graham, local Disabled American Veterans adjutant and service officer, was elected quartermaster. Sixteen members joined the organization.

Installation of the unit will be held at the next meeting at which time a number will be given the barracks and a regular election of officers will take place.

All World War I veterans interested in becoming members should contact Pat Graham at DAV headquarters, 1515 North Riverside ave., or phone 2-9312 or 2-4192.

Health Officials Attend Short Course

Corvallis — B. R. Hart and Orle Moore of Medford were two of 40 Oregon health officials who completed the eighth annual sanitarians short course at Oregon State college recently. Both are members of the Jackson county health department.

The three-day short course was designed to bring public health workers abreast of current developments. Instruction was by OSC personnel and members of the state board of health, sponsors of the course. Certificates of completion were awarded workers at the end of the course.

BALD COWS

Rocky Hill, Conn. —(U.P.)— A Guernsey named Hairytie has given birth to two heifers which are bald. Some veterinarians say this is remarkable because only one in every 100,000,000 cows is born hairless.

Rebels Target Of Brazil Force

Belem, Brazil —(U.P.)— A delayed government expedition is advancing on a rebel "jungle stronghold" in Northern Brazil today, but reports of trouble in three major cities indicate the Air Force revolt may be spreading.

The commandeered riverboat Presidente Vargas, carrying 450 soldiers, 600 airmen and 50 marines up the Amazon river to battle the rebels, left here last night, two days behind schedule.

Five planes ferried 300 paratroops north from Rio De Janeiro to reinforce the attack. The first goal of the loyal forces is the river town of Santarem, 400 miles west of here, largest of rebel handholds. The others, Jacareacanga, Itaituba and Belterra, are all airstrip towns in Para Province.

The main center of the revolt is believed to be at Jacareacanga, where rebel Maj. Haroldo Veoso says his followers can hold out against any possible government attack for as long as three months.

The size of the force the government is sending against the rebels appeared to belie reports that the insurgent army totals only about 100 men.

Four Juvenile Girls Arrested in Ashland

Four juvenile girls, all of Ashland, were held in county jail yesterday on charges of delinquency and malicious destruction of private property.

The girls, who were arrested Monday by sheriff's deputies, were charged with breaking aerials, side view mirrors and windshield wipers from at least eight cars in Ashland about a month ago. Three of the girls are 15 and one 14 years old.

They are being held pending an investigation and a juvenile court hearing.

Springfield Youngster Found Dead in Pond

Springfield, Ore. —(U.P.)— A three-year-old boy drowned in an eight inch deep pond of surface water here yesterday evening as he was returning home after spending the afternoon at a neighbor's home.

Dead is David John Paseman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Paseman of Springfield.

The body was discovered about 8 p.m. yesterday when neighbors started to search for the lad after he had not returned home at 5 p.m.

Sentenced to Jail On Driving Charge

Jerry Coleman Hensley, 19, of box 554, Phoenix, was fined $25 and sentenced to 30 days in city jail in police court Monday on a charge of driving while his driver's license was suspended. The jail sentence was to be suspended on payment of the fine.

Ronald Arthur Nelson, 21, of 3929 Buckshot Hill rd. was fined $30 in district court Monday on a charge of reckless driving and $30 for violation of basic rule. He was arrested by state police.

Tom Anderson Wins Toastmaster Contest

Dr. Tom Anderson, Medford, won the annual speech contest at the Medford Toastmasters club at a banquet Monday at Medford hotel. His topic was "Maternity Ward."

Dan Hull was second with a talk, "A Woman's Reason." Other speakers included Warren G. Beard, "Civilization—Take It," and Larry Horten, "Life's Embarrassing Moments."

Judges were Elwood Hedberg, manager, Medford branch, First National Bank of Portland; Walter Nunley, Jackson county district attorney; and Hal Krueger, manager of Feldman-Olson Electric company.

Ron Cordon was toastmaster for the evening; Doug Riach, topicmaster; and Frank Hull, critic.

PAINTED HAIR

Des Moines, Ia. —(U.P.)— Dorothy Blume, Oelwein, Ia., won first place in the hair-styling contest at a beauty seminar by fashioning a pink and black coiffure. She said she used pink water color "just to be different."
