Mrs. John B. Richardson (right) and Mrs. Malcolm Reybold, announced as attendants for the April wedding of film star Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier of Monaco, get together in Mrs. Richardson's New York apartment. Mrs. Reybold and Miss Kelly met when they were both models. Mrs. Richardson attended school with the actress.

Grace Kelly's Attendants Confused About Two Matters

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Correspondent

New York—(U.P.)—Two of Grace Kelly's attendants confided in a conversation about the wedding that they are in the dark on a couple of vital matters.

The girls have no idea what kind of dresses they'll wear, and they are frankly confused as to what they should call the bridegroom, Prince Rainier III.

"When she introduced Prince Rainier to us the first time she just called him 'darling' all the time," Mrs. John B. Richardson, who used to share a Manhattan apartment with Grace, said.

Anything You Want
"I heard her refer to him in conversation as 'His Highness,'" Mrs. Malcolm Reybold said. "My husband asked the Prince what we should call him, and he said, 'anything you want to,' which wasn't much help."

The two young wives sat in Mrs. Richardson's living room over a mid-morning cup of coffee. Their affection for Miss Kelly was obvious. She emerged in their conversation as a gay companion and a staunch friend. The three-month-old baby who is in the next room is one of a very exclusive circle of males who possesses a sweater and booties hand knit by Miss Kelly. His first family pictures also have the words "photograph by Grace Kelly" on the back. She spent New Year's afternoon with the Richardsons, taking the pictures, even though she was newly engaged and unusually excited.

"The minute I heard her voice on the phone that day, after Christmas, and she said 'I have something to tell you,' I knew she had fallen in love," Mrs. Reybold said. "That would be the only thing that would bring any suspense to Grace's voice."

Mrs. Reybold, a striking brunette model who had a room adjoining Miss Kelly's in the Barbizon hotel for women, and Mrs. Richardson both agreed that the romance itself caught them by complete surprise. Miss Kelly had never mentioned having "a crush" on Prince Rainier after she met him in Monaco last May.

"I always knew, though, that when Grace said 'This is it,' then that would be it," said Mrs. Richardson, which should interest doubters who insist the wedding will never happen.

Plans Announced By Hedrick PTA For Box Social

Hedrick Parent-Teacher association has planned a box social for Monday, February 27, at Hedrick Junior High school. All parents of children attending the school and their friends are invited to attend.

Women attending are to take a box supper for two persons, and these will be sold for $1 each. The name inside the box will determine the dinner partner for the man purchasing it. The committee states that the boxes are not to be decorated.

Dinner will be in the school cafeteria and dancing in the gymnasium. Partners will also be interchanged during square dancing and ballroom dancing later in the evening, in order for all to become acquainted. Square dancers will sit out while the other dancing takes place, and vice versa, it is stated.

Entertainment and prizes are being planned by Aetna Carr and Wayne Jamison, with a floor show to start at 8 o'clock. This will be followed by dancing, and the squares will be called by Doug Forsbury.

Dr. Lee Mellish, president of the group, has stated that this fund-raising project for Hedrick PTA will contribute primarily to the school welfare fund, and a state Convention delegate. PTA membership enrollment for the current year, of 50 cents per person, closes March 1, according to Mrs. Ray Mencke, membership chairman.

Andrew Jackson was the first U.S. President to travel by a railway train.
