

Reddings To Conduct Eagle Point Service

The Rev. and Mrs. Elcho Redding and family, missionaries from India will speak at the Eagle Point Community Bible church Feb. 28.

They will be in native costume during the Sunday school hour, and tell of some of their experiences on the foreign field and will also have charge of the morning and evening services. A fellowship hour is planned following the evening service.

Friends of the family are invited to renew acquaintances. They are living in Medford during a furlough.

POPULAR GIRL

Holland, Mich. — (U.P.) — Isla Van Eenenaam was chosen homecoming queen at Muskegon, Mich., High last year. The students at Hope College here picked her to be their homecoming queen two months after she started college.

PEEK-A-BOO—Stuart Mercereau is a little startled by this young Japanese lady who appears to be wearing a portable shower curtain. The "young lady" is actually a mannequin at the Japan Trade Center in San Francisco and the costume is a 12th Century silk "veil" used to escape public gaze as well as ward off dust and sun (and smog?). It is part of a fashion show at the center featuring costumes from the past 1000 years.
