Alabama Win 95-81 Over Tennessee

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer
Alabama all but ended Kentucky's long reign in Southeastern conference basketball today, even as Kentucky was venting its fury in the greatest scoring spree in Wildcat history.

Alabama's Crimson Tide clinched at least a tie for the league crown Monday night by whipping Tennessee, 95-81, and will nail down the whole thing by winning one of its two remaining games. Kentucky tried to stay in the race by burying Georgia 143-66, for a school scoring record.

Thus ends a fantastic era in which Kentucky won the SEC championship the last 11 straight years it was eligible. Since 1944, the only time the Wildcats failed to win the league crown was 1953, when they were under a year's suspension by the NCAA.

Lopsided victory left Illinois and Iowa tied for the Big Ten lead and set the stage for their showdown battle this Saturday at Iowa and on national television.

Illini Drub Gophers
The Illini, trailing by three points at half, opened the second half with a seven-point spree and went on to drub Minnesota, 97-81.

Iowa led easily almost all the way in handing Northwestern its 12th straight conference defeat, 86-68.

In other leading games: Oklahoma City, already in NCAA tourney, downed Houston which has clinched a tie for the Missouri Valley title, 76-67; Iowa State took second place in the Big Seven by handing Colorado its first home court loss in three years, 79-62; Holy Cross trounced Connecticut, 103-81, in a meeting of two NCAA-bound teams; Julius McCoy's 35 points led Michigan State to an 89-82 win over Wisconsin; Purdue gained a 72-63 victory over Michigan; Tulsa took a 59-56 decision over Bradley and Jim Ray of Toledo tallied 40 in a 77-67 victory over Ohio university.

Johnny Podres Plans to Pitch Until Army Calls

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer
Johnny Podres, who taught the New York Yankees a thing or three in the World Series, has disclosed he learned an important lesson, too.

"The series taught me that I can win in the major leagues with two pitches—a fastball and a changeup," the Brooklyn Dodgers' star southpaw said. "So, from now on, my curve ball will be my third pitch. I intend to use it as a waste pitch and not let 'em hit it."

Podres, who beat the Yankees in the third and seventh games of the 1955 classic, checked into the Dodgers' Vero Beach, Fla., training camp Sunday and made plans to pitch "until I'm called into the Army." Although declared 1A by his draft board, Podres said he has yet to receive notice of an induction date.

"All I know is that I intend to play baseball until they call me," he said. "They'll know where to find me when they want me."

Podres also disclosed that he made about $23,000 during the winter on the strength of his World Series performance. Only a 9-10 pitcher during the season, Johnny earned about $12,000 in salary but disclosed that his earnings on the "rubber chicken" circuit increased his total intake to $35,000 for the year.

Anne Quast Among Tourney Favorites

Ormond Beach, Fla. —(U.P.)—Young Anne Quast of Marysville, Wash., enjoying her best winter of competition, teed off as one of the favorites today in the qualifying round of the 27th annual South Atlantic Women's Amateur Golf Championship. The 18-year-old University of Washington coed was on the winning team in both the Hollywood, Fla., four-ball tournament and the Palm Beach Mixed Four-some Championship earlier in the season.

ACCEPTS POSITION

Portland —(U.P.)—Harry Scarff, who recently announced his resignation as football coach at Central Catholic high school here, said today he had accepted a position as head football coach and athletic director at St. Vincent's high school in Vallejo, Calif. His new job is effective June 1.

The thigh bone is the longest and strongest in the body.

Sports Bulletin

Starkville, Miss. —(U.P.)—Youthful Darrell Royal, master of the split-T formation, resigned today as head coach at Mississippi State college to accept the head coaching job at the University of Washington.

Pick Three NAIA Teams

Portland —(U.P.)—Three teams were named today to compete in the district 2 NAIA torney here but the selection of the fourth member of the tournament was deferred until Thursday morning.

The University of Portland, Portland State, and Pacific drew bids yesterday. In contention for the fourth spot are Eastern Oregon, Linfield and Lewis and Clark.

Portland State took its spot by virtue of winning the Oregon Collegiate conference flag, Pacific, in second place in the Northwest conference, will represent its loop because title winning College of Idaho is in another NAIA district.

Two of the berths go to large entries. The University of Portland was named to one of these spots.

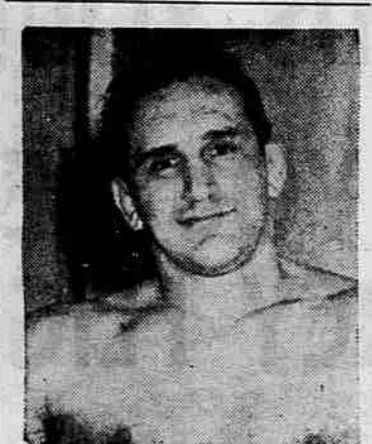

Linfield plays Willamette tonight in what could be a decider for the fourth spot. Should Linfield lose it would be out of consideration. But if the Wildcats should win they would be tied with Pacific for second spot in the league and the nod probably would go to either them or Eastern Oregon, number two finisher in the Oregon Collegiate conference.

Middleweights In Portland Bout

Portland —(U.P.)—Peter Mueller, the German puncher who took an unexpected dive through the ropes and knocked himself out in his last Portland appearance two weeks ago, gets another shot at smooth working Jimmy Martinez at the Auditorium here tonight.

Mueller claims that he tripped in his last bout with Martinez when he went sailing in the fifth round and administered his own KO on the ringside planks. Both middleweights are reported to be in top shape for tonight's scheduled 10-rounder. Martinez and Mueller both say this time it will be different, but their versions vary. Martinez says this time he wants no luck, he'll do the job himself. Mueller says he will win by a knockout.

Montana Takes On 2 Grappling Rivals In Hour

Grants Pass—As the result of a brag by Bull Montana a handicap match will headline Wednesday night's wrestling card at the Josephine County fairgrounds.

After he had disposed of Wild Bill Savage with a couple of piledrivers last week, Matchmaker Owen asked Bull if he would meet Larry Chene on this week's card. Bull bragged, "I've beaten the best in the Northwest and I could beat two punks like Chene in one evening."

Chene then said that he and Bill Fletcher would cover any bet that Montana would care to make. Montana will put up $100 against $50 each from Chene and Fletcher that he can beat them both within one hour. Did Bet Two Recently Montana did defeat both Frenchy Cartier and Regi Siki in that time. Chene is a top TV star throughout the Southwest and was enjoying a win streak here until stopped by a knee injury. Bill Fletcher, the Boise better, is well known here for many fine matches and he and Chene should be hard to beat.

Pedro Godoy, the big boy from South America who recently won the northwest heavyweight crown from J. P. Henning, will appear in the semi-final match against George Drake.
