

Resources Group To Meet in Medford

A meeting of the Rogue Basin Flood Control and Water Resources association will be held at 9 p.m. Friday, March 9, in the Jackson county court room to encourage more interest from the Medford area in flood control.

Bill Jess, president of the association, called the meeting recently, when the group accepted a preliminary draft of articles of incorporation and by-laws at a meeting in Grants Pass.

Jess urged anyone interested in flood control to attend the Medford meeting.

Wally Martin, Grants Pass attorney, was appointed secretary and treasurer. He presented the by-laws and preliminary draft of articles of incorporation.

J. E. Bartlett, Grants Pass, a state director of the Izaak Walton league, was elected to succeed Ben Hull, also of Grants Pass, as a director. Hull resigned recently because of his connection with a flood damage survey being conducted by the Army engineers.

In 1954, the FPC issued a license to California-Oregon for the proposed project and ordered the company to file application for a license for continued operation of five existing hydro-electric projects on the Klamath in California and Oregon.

Lentil meals can be interesting and attractive—even glamorous. Here are a few ways to pretty-up Lentil meals.

Give your foods an attractive topping. Ready-to-eat cereal flakes make unusually attractive, colorful, crunchy, nutritious toppings for fish and seafood, egg, or vegetable casseroles. Fine cereal crumbs are used most frequently for coating croquettes, cutlets, and fish.

Breakfast cereals are excellent for ingredient use in recipes. They are inexpensive, add flavor and texture, and make important nutritional contributions of protein, the B-complex vitamins, minerals, and food energy. Just think of the time you can save this Lentil season with ready-to-use cereal every time buttered or fine crumbs are called for in a recipe.

Devised Seafood with Corn Flake Topping will add variety and interest to your Lentil menus. It's easy to prepare and can be served either in individual casseroles or in one large casserole. The seasonings and cereal flakes add zip and interest and make this a different version of the ever-popular creamed fish casserole.

Devised Seafood with Corn Flake Topping

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
2 cups milk
2 eggs, beaten
1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice

1 teaspoon grated onion
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups flaked, cooked, seasoned seafood
1 1/2 cups slightly crushed corn flakes, bran flakes, or whole wheat flakes

Melt butter, add flour, salt, and paprika. Stir to a smooth paste. Add milk gradually, cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Remove from heat and blend in eggs, lemon juice, onion, Worcestershire sauce, seafood, and 1/4 of the crushed cereal flakes. Pour into individual casseroles or shells. Sprinkle remaining cereal crumbs over top. Bake in moderate oven (350° to 375°F.) about 20 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Around Hollywood

By ALINE MOSBY United Press Correspondent

Hollywood — (U.P.) — This being Leap Year, the town's leading man-catchers—Zsa Zsa and Eva Gabor—handed out free advice to women: Learn how to cook, don't play hard to get, and use intellect and not sex appeal.

These free tips wheedled out of the beautiful Hungarian blondes for the benefit of single girls in the audience (me, too).

One point the two actresses agree on: It's okay to propose to a man this Leap Year—or any year.

"I proposed to all of my husbands, darling," cooed Zsa Zsa as she flirted about her Bel-Air home.

"Always tell the men a woman has to make up a man's mind, anyway."

Women Make Decisions

I ran down Eva at a television rehearsal and she agreed, "Why wait until the man asks you? And if he says no, wear him down."

But first, they both believe, "You have to get the guy in love with you."

Zsa Zsa is regarded a sensual female, but her rule is forget sex appeal and concentrate on the mind.

"It's very important to be intellectual," she said. "All this sex business—what a man wants is companionship in marriage. A woman makes a terrible mistake if she uses sex to get a man." A female should also "know how to do things—such as cooking," Zsa Zsa believes.

Sgt. York's Son Eyes Career in Air Force

San Antonio, Tex. — (U.P.) — The son of World War I hero Sgt. Alvin York is stationed at Lackland Air Force Base and hopes to pursue a career in the Air Force.

The son, 18-year-old Thomas Jefferson York, said he is convinced a career as an Air Force cook allows plenty of opportunity for advancement and plenty of time for learning a worthwhile occupation.

The York home is on a farm near Wolf River, Tenn. There the son used to go hunting with his famous father, a renowned rifleman even before he began his World War I military service.

"I'm a pretty good shot, too," young York said, "but not as good as my father."

The only son in the York family said he preferred a shotgun to a rifle on hunting trips.

The elder York became ill two years ago and is confined to a wheel chair. He was called the nation's No. 1 soldier in World War I after he killed 25 Germans and captured 132 in the Argonne Forest.

Young York has been assigned to Flight 168 of the 3704th Basic Military Training Squadron. He was sworn in by Tennessee Gov. Frank Clement and flew here in a commercial airliner. He attended York Institute at Jamestown, Tenn., and worked on his father's farm before volunteering for Air Force service.
