Stanford Professor to Speak For Annual Meeting of Group

Dr. H. Corwin Hinshaw, clinical professor of medicine at Stanford university School of Medicine, will be guest speaker at the annual luncheon of the Jackson County Public Health association. The luncheon will be held in the Pioneer room, Jackson hotel, Thursday, March 15, at 12 noon.

"We are particularly fortunate in securing Dr. Hinshaw to speak," Mrs. Henry Padgham, president of the health association stated, "as he is considered to be one of the outstanding chest experts in the United States. We are sure that a large group of both professional people and the general public will attend.

The year's annual luncheon is being held earlier than usual so that the local chapter of the health association may fit its program more easily into the overall state program.

Besides featuring the speech of Dr. Hinshaw, the health association will conduct its annual business meeting, with election of officers and reports for the preceding year.

The various department heads will report on the progress of their particular department, following which there will be discussion of the aims of the health association for the coming year.

Schools Announce Open House Plans In Central Point

Central Point — Open house will be held at Central Point Grade and Junior High schools Tuesday, March 6, from 6:30 until 8 p.m.

All parents and friends are cordially invited to attend, visit the rooms and meet the teachers, it is stated. A concert by the 120-piece Junior High school band will follow the open house.

Pie, cake and coffee will be served in the cafeteria by members of the Parent-Teacher association for a small charge.

Luncheon Planned By Past Matrons

Past Matrons' club of Reames chapter will meet Monday, March 5, at the Masonic temple at 12 noon.

Officers of the chapter will be guests for the noon luncheon and a social afternoon. Mrs. E. G. Randolph and Ross Gilkison are worthy matron and patron.

Mrs. V. A. Turpin, committee chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. John Esp, Mrs. Jack Ward, Mrs. Thomas Freed, Mrs. H. R. Burk and Mrs. H. U. Lumsden.

The chest x-ray program and its place in helping to wipe out tuberculosis in the community by early detection, in conjunction with the Christmas seal program will be elaborated.

Mrs. Padgham stressed the fact that Dr. Hinshaw is sure to attract a large audience and expressed the hope that everyone who wished to hear him might avail himself of the opportunity.

Festival Institute Announced

Ashland — "Institute of Renaissance Studies" is the name selected by the board of directors of the Oregon Shakespearean festival for the study program to be conducted this summer in connection with the festival. It will be given in collaboration with Stagford university, California, and Southern Oregon college, Ashland, with some courses for credit.

This will be the third year for the institute, started in 1954 by Dr. Margery Bailey, Stanford university professor and academic advisor to the festival, as a field course.

The board announces that the 1954 institute will be much broader in scope than the previous two summers. Included will be lectures on the contemporary ideas and structure of the season's five plays; sessions on Elizabethan staging, Tudor and Stuart music and changes in graphic art through the medieval-renaissance period.

These will be arranged in short-term units of compact meetings hours, with allied demonstrations and exhibits. Individual supervision will be given, in special reading projects and for training in Tudor musical forms and instruments.

Students are expected to attend afternoon rehearsals as well as performances to assure familiarity with the plays in their original staging.

The staff of the institute will be headed by Dr. Bailey, professor of English at Stanford university. A distinguished addition to the staff will be B. Iden Payne, guest professor of drama at the University of Texas. Mr. Payne, widely known for his work in producing Shakespearean plays, was director of the Shakespeare Memorial theater at Stratford-on-Avon, England, from 1935 through 1943 and also has directed at the San Diego Globe theater in California. Mr. Payne will also be on the directing staff for the festival this summer.

Mozart Festival To Open Sunday On Radio Hour

Bruno Walter will open a two-week Mozart festival in observance of the bicentennial of the composer's birth when he conducts the New York Philharmonic Symphony in the first of two all-Mozart programs on KYJC-CBS Radio, Sunday, March 4 at 11:30-1:00 P.M., PST.

Soloist on the broadest program will be the distinguished British pianist, Dame Myra Hess, who will play the Mozart "Piano Concerto in D. Minor" (K 466). This is a concerto which Mozart himself enjoyed playing, which Haydn admired especially, and for which Beethoven wrote cadenzas.

The collaboration of Dr. Walter and Dame Myra Hess, both of whom are world renowned interpreters of Mozart, has been looked forward to as one of the high points of the "Mozart Year". Dr. Walter has conducted many well-remembered Mozart performances with the Philharmonic, and Dame Myra has played Mozart concerti many times with the orchestra, including a number of performances with Dr. Walter.

James Fassett is music commentator.

A number of guest stars will appear on the Woolworth Hour which follows on the same station. The list includes Mel Torme, popular singer, composer and jazz drummer; Jean Madeira, Metropolitan opera contralto; Helen O'Connell, popular vocalist; and Kai Winding and J. J. Johnson, noted trombone duo.

In addition, Percy Faith will conduct the Woolworth orchestra and chorus in four numbers.

Founders Honored By PTA

Eagle Point—Parent Teacher association founders were honored at a meeting of Eagle Point Elementary PTA Tuesday evening in the high school library.

Special guests were part of the past presidents, Mrs. Lottie Cingcoade, Mrs. Walter Young, Mrs. Nellie Carter, Mrs. John Carnes, Mrs. Kermit Carroll, Mrs. Lester Bradshaw and Mrs. Ray Palm. Each was introduced and spoke of her part in the growth of the unit from its formation in 1917. A letter was read from the fourth president of the "Circle", as it was then called, Mrs. Louisa Greb, who was ill and unable to attend. Each of the honored guests took part in a candle-lighting ceremony, narrated by the program chairman, Mrs. John Huffman. Thank you notes were read from Mrs. Barrow's sixth grade and Mrs. Pomeroy's fifth grade for blackout curtains made by the mothers.

The by-law committee chairman, Mrs. H. J. Adams, presented proposed by-law amendments for consideration at the next meeting.

Mrs. Herman Higday was appointed chairman of a committee to assist the Teenage club in collecting rummage, "white elephants" and cooked food for a sale to be held in Medford, March 30.

The needs and uses of record players were discussed by teachers and it was voted by the unit to provide one or more for the school.

The School budget election was announced for March 8 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the high school library, with all residents of the school district who are qualified voters urged to attend.

Elected to serve on the nominating committee were Mrs. S. W. Callaghan, Mrs. Harold Otson and Mrs. H. J. Adams.

Newcomers to the community, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lee and Mrs. Harold Jaffrey, were introduced.

Child care was provided by the Campfire Girls. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Dale Ackerman, president, and refreshments were served by the fourth grade mothers.

Symphonic Jazz Concert Given In Polish City

Warsaw — More than 10,000 Warsaw residents earlier this month attended the opening concert of Poland's first symphonic jazz orchestra. A jazz concerto for piano by Waldemar Maciszewski and Harry James' "Trumpet Rhapsody" were among the items in a program played by the forty-piece group led by Ryszard Damsz.

The new band whose repertoire includes blues music and dance tunes gave its first performances February 4 and 5 in the Polish capital's newly built Palace of Culture and science.

Leon Witt played the piano in the Maciszewski concerto while Jozef Grabowski performed the James number.
