Catholic Sister Of Social Service Visits in Valley

Sister Jean Marie, Portland, supervisor for the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine for the 18 western counties in the Archdiocese of Portland, in Medford this week in connection with her work in Catholic education.

The sister is of the order of social service and calls in this vicinity every three months. Her principal work is to teach lay women to instruct children in the local schools on the religious relief time program.

Such instruction at Central Point only recently was instituted and she has in particular worked with this group. The Rev. Robert Tomisser, assistant pastor of Sacred Heart parish, is directing the work.

Other towns Sister Jean Marie visits here include Ashland, Prospect and Shady Cove. The sister also works for the instruction for preschool age children and discussion groups for adults as well as inquiry classes for non-Catholics in the educational vein.

Sister Jean Marie drives a car to make her visits to the various counties, the car being purchased through pennies saved by women of the diocese during the 1953 Lenten period.

The sister's habit is unlike most other orders. Hers is a three-piece grey blue street length costume with scapular with which she wears a small grey hat with a small grey veil. The hat is removed in the house or where other women are present. She wears black shoes with Cuban heel in any style suitable for such an informal costume.

Her order originated in 1923 and the mother house is at Los Angeles. The group has worked in Oregon since 1951 and Sister Jean Marie has worked in this area since 1953.

New Toys Displayed

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Correspondent

New York — (U.P.) — In the midst of thousands wondrously complicated toys now shown here for the first time at the 53rd annual American Toy Fair is a small plastic cow that goes "moo" as it moves.

A man stood modestly beside the cow. In other parts of the hotel ballroom where the pick of the newest toys were displayed people jostled each other to get closer looks at amazing playthings.

The Toys of Toys There were electrically-powered cars a child could drive five miles an hour; gasoline-operated tractors; a miniature roller coaster which brought shrieks of delight from children; a new erector set which turned out scale model copies of things like the Empire State building and the United Nations building.

Nobody stopped to pick up the small brown string and pull the spotted cow on his plastic wheels so the cow could swish its tail, turn its ears and rumble "moo."

The man beside the cow introduced himself as Herman G. Fisher. It was his cow, Fisher said, and it was the first time in his 33 years in the toy business he had been able to make a mooing pull toy.

Too Many Toys Fisher gazed complacently around the noisy ballroom and smiled down at his cow. He wasn't the least afraid, he said, that children today are outgrowing the simple things in life.

There are too many other toys competing for a child's attention and intelligence by the time he is four years old, Fisher said without regret.

The booming baby rate in this nation has boosted the toy business steadily since the end of World War II. All of the toy manufacturers appeared cheerful.

Hedrick FHA Sponsors Dance Friday Night

Future Homemakers of America at Hedrick Junior High school sponsored a Leap Year dance Friday, March 2, in the cafeteria. Decorations were in green and white, and a throne for the king and queen of the dance was arranged on the stage, lighted with a pale green light.

Miss Jackie Creager, president of FHA, and Gary Winetrot performed the crowning ceremonies. Two ninth grade students, Miss Barbara Marshall and David Havlick were crowned queen and king. The court consisted of Miss Judy Lambert and Gary McGill, eighth grade, who were prince and princess, and Miss Sheila Niedermeyer and Stanley Dowson, seventh graders.

Miss Lou Elsa Voegtly acted as mistress of ceremonies. Miss Sharon Carr gave her version of "Mary Had A Little Lamb." The Hedrick Harmonaires, made up of Miss Lou Elsa Voegtly, Miss Creager, Miss Susan Baker, and Miss Roberta Sleetzer sang, "It's Almost Tomorrow", accompanied by Miss Baker.

Refreshments were served by the FHA. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Olan Sneed, Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne Mitchell, Miss June Wheaton, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hoover, Mrs. Jack Creager, Mrs. John Creager, Mr. and Mrs. Aetna Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Averill, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Richardson and Mrs. Larry Clark.

Good News For Septic Tank Owners

Septic tanks are lifesavers for those who live away from city sewer systems. But septic tanks can, and do, stop-up and overflow! First, because the tank is not cleaned at proper intervals; secondly, toilet tissue that does not readily disintegrate may clog the drains and force them to back up!

This may be avoided by using MD Toilet Tissue—because MD is scientifically processed to absorb water quickly. Drains don't clog or back up so readily!

Good practice: Consult your County Health Department, your plumber, or a septic tank service company, for advice on cleaning your tank. Use MD Toilet Tissue!

UMC SPEAKER — The Rev. Charles A. Epple, pastor of the United Lutheran church, Eugene, will speak on "What makes a good community," at the annual United Medford Crusade dinner at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, March 8. Dinner reservations can be made by phoning the UMC office, 3-4287.
