

A. M. HAMILTON
Will Be Candidate

A. M. Hamilton To Be Candidate For Convention

Alexander Moore Hamilton, Jr., 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moore Hamilton, 43 Rose ave., now a student at George Washington university, Washington, D.C., will be a candidate for delegate from the fourth congressional district to the national Democratic convention, he announced this week.

A senior at the university, he is also employed in the branch post office in the Senate office building, a position he obtained with the assistance of Sen. Wayne Morse.

Active in Party
Young Hamilton has been active in party affairs. Before going east, he attended Oregon State college, Corvallis, where he was a member of the Young Democrats. He is now a member with the Young Democrats club of the District of Columbia, and is a member of its agriculture and interior subcommittee, and belongs to the District of Columbia Political Science Association. A graduate of Medford High school, he is majoring in political science.

He pledged his best efforts to obtain a Democratic platform in Oregon with the best interests of Oregon and the Northwest, and selection of candidates who will best serve the interests of the people and who are most apt to be elected this year.

His special interest in the platform is in natural resources development, particularly water and timber resources of the region, he declared.

His father is postmaster of Medford.

Southwest Suspends Four Flights Here

Southwest Airways service between Medford and San Francisco has been reduced to half due to the removal of four flights March 1, it was announced today by Bill Hicks, Medford station manager.

The station has received criticism about suspension of two incoming and two outgoing flights, Hicks said. He added that no one in the company has offered an explanation for the change.

Present flights leave the Medford airport at 12:15 p.m. and 1:50 p.m. Incoming flights from San Francisco arrive at 11:55 a.m. and 10:12 a.m.

Flights dropped from the Southwest schedule arrived at 3:35 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. and left Medford at 6:50 a.m. and 5:40 p.m.

Alabama Legislators Draft 'Go Slow' Plea On School Integration

Atlanta—(U.P.)—Alabama legislators today drafted a "go slow" plea, warning the U.S. Supreme Court of a danger of civil strife from forcing the South to desegregate too hastily.

The Alabama Senate asked a House-passed resolution asking the court "to permit the white and colored races in the South to live in peace and harmony."

The resolution, intended as an official appeal to the Supreme Court, cites the Autherine Lucy riots at the University of Alabama as evidence of potential danger.

Found Impossible
"The University of Alabama has made a bona fide attempt to carry out the decree of the court and in so doing has found it impossible at this time with imminent danger of civil strife," the resolution said.

The resolution departed from past southern state legislation purporting to "nullify" court decisions or sidestep them, but echoed contention the University of Alabama case raised in deep South states.

"An overwhelming majority of the people of this section of the South are possessed with a deep determination not to let any group outside the South force them at this time to change the social pattern," the resolution said.

Arkansas state Sen. Jim Johnson in addressing 2,500 Citizens Council members Tuesday night in Birmingham, Ala., urged that "violence and hatred be kept out" of efforts to preserve segregation.

Johnson was the featured speaker but Leonard Wilson, 20-year-old University of Alabama sophomore, won biggest applause by calling for a "housecleaning" of state and university officials.

Wilson accused the university of "conducting a witch hunt" through an "inquisition committee" investigating possible student participation in riots protesting the admission of the university's first Negro student.

Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia Tuesday told an industrial development forum in Savannah, Ga., that the South's segregation problems are "going to get worse before they get better."

ADMITTING HE accepted campaign contribution from oil firm, Sen. Goldwater (R), Ariz., told Washington TV college press conference he didn't think it should disqualify him from serving on Senate committee investigating campaign contributions. ### Board Votes Against Renewing Contract

Ashland—The Ashland school board at a meeting Monday night unanimously instructed the clerk to notify Superintendent Leland Linn that his contract ending June 30 would not be renewed.

The school board gave no reason for the action. Board Chairman Howard Thomas has revealed that he notified Linn verbally in January that his contract would not be renewed but the move Monday night was necessary in order to make it official.

Linn has been superintendent of Ashland schools for the past 11 years. He has not indicated plans for the future.
