The Medical Roundup

by Walter Alvarez

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic
Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

No Cure for Scattered Cancer

I am constantly getting letters from unhappy people who, in their desperation, are willing to go to anyone — even to someone who they know is a notorious quack. They will give him several hundred dollars in advance for a so-called guaranteed cure. They will give him their savings, even when they have been told that the man has been prosecuted and exposed by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration. Government experts told him that his supposed medicine is of no value, and hence must not be labeled any more as a cure for cancer.

Walter Alvarez

Usually, in these cases, at his court trial, a quack has had to admit under oath that he never studied medicine. Sometimes he has had to admit that his experience has been mainly in the field of swindling, and that he had done some time in jail. In some cases the government chemists have testified that his "medicine' 'was just tap water.

That is all there is in the "cancer cure" now most commonly used throughout the United States by shady characters. Interestingly, under pressure from the government authorities, the promoter of this "cure" recently fled overseas. Last week two men told me they were planning to take all their savings to buy some of this water for the treatment of their very sick wives.

Writer Scolded

Why do people throw their money away after they have been warned repeatedly? I know why they do it; because people write to scold me for not using this column to boost the work of some quack. They have the crazy idea that if a cure for scattered cancer were to be found by some layman we doctors would not only be to jealous and too pig-headed to use it, but we would not investigate it; we would not know how wonderful it was, and worse yet, through the supposed power of our national medicine association we would prevent its use throughout this country and the world!

I cannot imagine a sillier idea, because the day after a cure for scattered cancer is found everyone in the world will know about it; and within a few weeks doctors in every corner of the civilized world will be using it. No one would want to interfere with its use, and no one, not even a powerful government, could keep its people from using it; no one could keep the great drug houses from making it in ton-lots.

(To be continued tomorrow).

Anti-Americanism Policy Found in Japan

Tokyo—(U.P.)—Former Ambassador to the United States Sadao Iguchi said he found a policy of "anti-Americanism" here on his return from the United States, the Asahi newspaper reported today.

He said such a policy might be "necessary" to push Japanese demands, but that it should be tempered.

He agreed Japan's policy must be pro-Japan first.

"However," he said, "in the sense that Japan's foreign policy must have the United States as its large, central axis, I am not opposed to such a foreign policy even if it is labeled uncompromisingly pro-United States."

If you don't want to spend the money to find out what the "Treasure of Pancho Villa" is at a local theatre, we'll just tell you what it is.

It turns out to be the pop corn concession at the Bijou Theatre in Mexico City.

Prosperity Differs In Japan and States

Seoul, Korea—(U.P.)—Japanese newspaper editor Kimpei Sheba, just returned from a trip to the United States, said today prosperity affects individuals differently in the two countries.

In Japan, he said, a man buys a television set, an automobile, a house and then thinks of acquiring a mistress.

In the United States, he said, most men have an automobile and a television set, and after buying a house they think of the same fourth item as the Japanese, "but what they actually do is take their wives on a second honeymoon."

Laughs of the Day . . .

New York — (U.P.) — A Brooklyn man put the City Transit Authority in a tizzy with the boast that he rode a subway for a month at the price of four cupcakes.

The man discovered that passes used by transit authorities looked considerably like the package cover design of his favorite cupcakes so he cut out a piece of the cover and used it as a pass to get through the subway gates free.

The transit authority said it is redesigning its passes.

Chicago — (U.P.) — Edward Desecki, 18, confessed to keeping a list of some 200 cars he stole in the last three years because "I didn't want to steal the same car twice."

"That would be unlucky," he explained.

Portland, Mich. — (U.P.) —A sign in front of a highway restaurant near here reads:

"Nobody likes a coward . . . try our hamburgers."

London — (U.P.) — A judge fined a steam shovel driver $28 but not because the operator gave two men a lift in the scoop of his shovel.

The stunt attracted police who found his operator's license had been revoked.

Pasadena, Calif. — (U.P.)—Mrs. Elizabeth M. Smith, 63, won a divorce from her husband, Clifton, 80, after testifying that he refused to pass out sandwiches to house guests but tried to sell them eggs instead.

Dallas, Tex. — (U.P.) —John Bernard Kozlousky, 41, admitted to Judge Dean Gauldin that he drank "a dozen or more beers" before his arrest on a drunk driving charges, but confided, "us Bohemians can drink and hold a lot of beer."

The judge said he figured the Bohemian capacity was about the same as that of anyone else. He fined Kozlousky $75 and sent him to jail for three days.
