"As the home goes so goes the church; as the church goes so goes the nation; as the nation goes so goes civilization," the speaker stated.

"The homes of today govern what our nation will be 30 years hence, for the home rules the nation. Crime can be solved only by the right kind of a home, a Christian home," Mr. Lincicome said.

"If there were more home-staying mothers, there would be less worry as to how the daughters would 'turn out,' for the mothers would know when their daughters 'turned in.' It is not birth control we need but control of birth," the speaker quipped.

Episcopal Church Chosen For Daniel-Truman Service

New York—UP—Miss Margaret Truman, pretty and talented daughter of former President Harry S. Truman, will marry a New York newspaperman in the same church where Miss Truman used to sing in the choir.

Her engagement to E. C. Daniel, assistant to the foreign editor of the New York Times was announced yesterday by Mr. Truman in Kansas City. The wedding will be in Trinity Episcopal church in Independence, Mo.

Miss Truman, 32, and Daniel, 43, happily met the press at her residence here in the Hotel Carlyle yesterday afternoon.

The smiling couple told reporters that they had met in November and Daniel proposed in January.

To Set Date Later
"We're going to be married sometime after Easter in the church where I used to sing in the choir," Miss Truman said. "We'll announce the date later."

Blonde Miss Truman appeared radiant and did most of the talking. She was dressed in a black suit with a large black velvet collar. Her fiance, known as one of the best dressed bachelors in New York, was attired nattily in a midnight blue double breasted suit.

Mr. Truman's press conference followed a week end visit by Miss Truman and Daniel to

Father Is Happy

Mr. Truman announced it in a prepared statement, smiling broadly as he read. But he refused to answer questions.

"You had better ask our daughter," he said.

Miss Truman and Daniel immediately called in reporters and photographers.

Miss Truman wore a diamond solitaire engagement ring which Daniel said he gave her "about 10 days ago." He went shopping for it by himself, he said, "because Margaret Truman shopping for an engagement ring is too conspicuous."

Asked if she would continue her career, she looked at Daniel and said "He hasn't put his foot down yet." She added that she had some television commitments she would have to fulfill.

Doctor to Speak
At Two Meetings
Here This Week

Corwin Hinshaw, guest speaker at the annual luncheon of the Jackson County Public Health association to be held in the Pioneer room of the Jackson hotel, Thursday, March 15th at 12 noon, will also speak to the Jackson County Medical association on Wednesday, March 11. It will be a dinner meeting at 7 p.m. at the Rogue Valley Country club.

In his speech on the prevention of chronic illness to be given to the health association on Thursday, Dr. Hinshaw will touch on some phases of industrial health. He has pointed out that the emphasis in present day industrial health programs is the maintenance of health; in order to maintain this high level, periodic examinations are necessary to detect chronic disease in its earliest and usually curable stages.

The more important a person is to society, to relatives and dependents or to business acquaintances, the more important his health becomes, it is pointed out. Key men in business, mothers of children, heads of families and those with other important missions to perform must conserve their productive capacity.

Many corporations regard the health of their executives as valuable assets to be conserved, according to the health association. Labor unions look to the welfare of their members but few have come to recognize the need for periodic examinations.

Dr. Hinshaw will stress the rising interest and economy in preventing these drains of chronic illness on our society. Reservations for the luncheon may be made by calling Mrs. Richard Knight, 3-3298, Mrs. L. C. Burke, 2-8143 or Mrs. S. L. Gilbert, 3-1863. If anyone is unable to attend the luncheon, but would like to hear the program, they are invited to come at 12:30 p.m. when the program will start.
