

Klamath Downs McMinnville In High School A-1 Tourney

Medford Meets Beaverton Today

Eugene — (U.P.) — Defending State Champion Eugene squared off against Pendleton today in the first full-day of action of the 1956 class A-1 high school basketball tournament. South Salem met Franklin in the second morning game.

In the two first round games that opened the five-day meet here last night, Lincoln of Portland and Klamath Falls posted initial wins.

Lincoln, a team that had to win a playoff to get into the tourney after ending the Portland league deadlocked for third spot, stole the opening night show, as the Cardinals bested Central Catholic, 46-44.

Central led all the way until the final three minutes. With 2:40 remaining Jim Cloutier, who scored 17 points, gave Lincoln its first lead at 42-40. After ties at 42 and 44, George Miller sank a pair from the charity stripe with 20 seconds still to play to finish out the scoring and give Lincoln its win.

Klamath Falls led all the way in topping McMinnville 51-46. Earl Tichenor, 6-4, 215-pounder, pumped in 25 to lead the Pelicans. McMinnville was within one point at 18-17 at the end of the first panel. From there Klamath Falls moved into a safer advantage and left little doubt of what the outcome would be. Marilyn Ritchie hit 14 for McMinnville.

North Salem took on Milwaukie at 1:45 and Beaverton and Medford met at 3:00.

Two night games complete the first round schedule with Marshfield and Mac-Hi colliding at 7:30 and Corvallis and Jefferson, the state's third ranked team, facing off at 8:45.

All 16 teams see action Thursday as play rolls into the consolation and championship brackets. Teams picking up their second loss tomorrow will drop from the field.

St. Helens Meets Ontario Tonight for A-2 Basketball Title

Salem — (U.P.) — The Lions of St. Helens and the Tigers of Ontario meet tonight for Oregon's first class A-2 high school basketball championship.

St. Helens and Ontario made their way through semi-final round opposition but it was not an easy chore for Ontario. St. Helens gained the title picture in comparative ease as the Lions rolled over Coquille 74-64 yesterday.

Ontario owed its spot, and a 61-59 win over St. Francis of Eugene, to a pair of charity tosses by Jerry Doman when only seconds remained in an overtime period.

The Tigers took an early 22-9 lead over St. Francis but saw it dwindle until they were on the short end of a 28-26 half-time count. By the end of regulation playing time it was a 57-57 stand-off.

The clubs matched points until the final seconds when Doman sank his pair of gifters for the win.

Stew Robertson garnered 32 to lead the Saints while Earl Doman checked in with 20, high for Ontario.

Marlin Marsh contributed 34 points for St. Helens as the Lions rolled to the 74-64 win over Coquille.

The Lions, as a team, shot a sizzling .483 from the field to lead throughout. High for Coquille was Don Nelson with 22.

Molalla defeated Stayton in consolation play Molalla dumped Stayton, 45-33, and Redmond trounced Newport, 81-48. Wally Aho pushed through 13 to lead Molalla while Bob Roy paced Stayton with 10.

Redmond rode to the consolation round finals behind a 24 point afternoon on the part of Earl Schult and 19 contributed tosses by Joe Peterson. Louis LeMaster was high for the Cubs with 15.

Molalla and Redmond meet this afternoon at 2:30 for the consolation title. St. Francis and Coquille tangle at 7:30 p.m. for third place honors and the championship game is billed for 8:45 p.m.

Two more favorites hit the dust today as the surprise-packed NCAA basketball carnival completed its lineup for Friday's regional tournaments.

At New York Tuesday night, Dartmouth turned in a major upset by whipping West Virginia, 61-59, in overtime on a long shot by Larry Blades with three seconds left, and speedy Connecticut handed one-time conqueror Manhattan an 87-75 defeat.

In two other first-round tourney games at Wichita, Kans., the favorites came through — but only after bad scares.

Southern Methodist, a heavy favorite, had to stall out the final 46 seconds of play to defeat Texas Tech, 68-67, and tall Oklahoma City had to rally from a 12-point deficit to score what only seemed like a comfortable 97-81 decision over Memphis State.

UCLA-San Francisco Here are the pairings for the regionals on Friday:

At Philadelphia: Connecticut-Temple, Dartmouth-Canisius; at Iowa City: Kentucky-Wayne, Iowa-Morehead; at Lawrence, Kans.: Kansas St.-Oklahoma City, Houston-SMU; at Corvallis, Ore.: UCLA-San Francisco; Utah-Salt Lake.

Friday winners meet at the same sites Saturday night. The Saturday winners go to Evanston, Ill., where on March 22, the Philadelphia and Iowa City winners clash for the Eastern crown and the Lawrence and Corvallis winners clash for the Western crown. The following night eastern and western winners meet for the national NCAA championship.

Basilio Meets Saxton Tonight Chicago — (U.P.) — Craggy-faced Carmen Basilio, a rugged relentless mauler, makes his second defense of the world welterweight crown tonight at Chicago Stadium against ex-champion Johnny Saxton of Brooklyn, owner of the fastest hands and most nimble legs in the division.

This first meeting between slugger Carmen of Chittanooga, N. Y., and the Negro orphan of Brooklyn, who developed into an exceptionally slick boxer, is expected to attract 10,000 fans and $75,000.

SF Seals Win Second Training Camp Victory Deland, Fla. — (U.P.) — The San Francisco Seals won their second straight victory of the new training season yesterday by defeating Rochester of the International League, 5-4.

The Pacific Coast League team apparentlyiced the game in the third inning with a four-run outburst, but Hal Buckwalter saved it in the ninth. He made a spectacular catch against the fence with two out and two men on.

By UNITED PRESS United Press Sports Writer Corvallis—(U.P.)—If the Western regional NCAA basketball tournament here lives up to past performances some 11,000 fans will get plenty of thrills the nights of March 16 and 17 at Gill coliseum.

And with San Francisco and UCLA meeting in the first game, there will be some top-flight basketball. UCLA was the last team to beat USF, late in 1945.

Washington in 1953, California in 1954 and San Francisco last year walked off with the regional title and a berth in the NCAA semi-finals. But not without plenty of suspense and action.

O'Brien Twins Remember 1953? That was the year the O'Brien twins, Johnny and Eddie, met Seattle U. on the basketball map. Their long-awaited game with Washington came off here. But big Bob Houbregs and company had too much height and the dream game turned into a 90-70 rout for Washington.

The next night the Huskies were expected to dispose of Santa Clara easily. It didn't turn out that way. The most dramatic moments came near the end of the third quarter when Ken Sears of Santa Clara let fly with a two-hander from the center line. It went through and Santa Clara was right in the ball game. But seconds later, just as the gun ended the quarter, Houbregs cast off from behind the center line. Swish. That broke the Broncs and Washington went on to win.

Sears figured in the big moment in 1954, too. Santa Clara was back for another try and went into the final against Southern California. The game went into overtime and with four minutes left Feerick employed some strange strategy. Santa Clara, a point behind, froze the ball as time ticked off and tension mounted. The Trojans glued onto the Broncs like flies. Finally with about 10 seconds left, the ball was fed to Sears who made a drive for the bucket and shot.

He missed and USC had the ball game. More Suspense Last year provided even more suspense.

The finale was between San Francisco and Oregon State—a duel between Bill Russell of the Dons and Swede Holbrook of Oregon State, a 7-foot 3-inch center. With a couple of minutes to go USF had what seemed to be a safe lead. But Bill Toole of OSC twice stole the ball and the

The Ashlander rolled up 502 points for 19.3 per contest. He got 182 counters on free shots, shot .525 from the field and made 292 retrievers from the backboards.

Lloyd Hoffine, No. 2 in scoring and average with 481 and 18.5, had the most field goals, 184. He was second high in rebounding with 285. Chuck Crandall was sharpest at the gift line with an .842 average. Hoffine followed with .790.
