

Negroes Schedule Picket of Houston University Event

Houston, Tex. — (U.P.)—Houston's Negro leaders said today 200 Negroes will picket Texas Southern university Sunday when Gov. Allan Shivers speaks at the inauguration of a new university president.

Attorney Francis L. Williams, president of the Houston chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said "We intend going about this picketing in a prudent and lawful manner."

Shivers, a leader of Texas conservative Democrats, has vigorously backed the doctrine of interposition to stop "federal encroachment" on states' rights. Shivers will deliver the main speech at the inauguration of Dr. S. M. Nabrit as president of the all-Negro university. The NAACP attacked the governor because of his "publicly declared views on integration in public schools."

Thursday night about 100 Negroes attending a meeting in the small Mt. Zion Missionary church and voted to picket Shivers' appearance. The meeting was called by the executive board of the Houston NAACP.

Williams asked those present if they felt the boycott should be "active or passive." The NAACP had earlier urged Houston Negroes to stay away from the appearance, but there was no talk of picketing until Thursday night.

Williams said the NAACP believed "Gov. Shivers has a right to say anything he desires to say," but that "we also have a right to boycott his speech and influence other people not to attend and listen to a man who has publicly declared he will do everything in his power to abridge the rights of the Negro citizens and their children in this state."

Meatcutters to Vote On Wage Increase

Portland — (U.P.) — Meatcutters were asked today to vote on a wage increase proposal made to try to head off a threatened strike.

The Independent Meat Dealers association, following an all-day negotiating session, offered a $5 per week increase now and an additional $3 Dec. 31. Also included was an increase in employer payments in health and welfare benefits.

The Meatcutters Union had asked for a 21 1/4 cent hourly wage increase, which would boost wages to $96 a week. The management offer would make wages $92.50 now and $95.50 as of Dec. 31.

William Lubersky, attorney and negotiator for employers, said "any increase is going to have to result in an immediate increase in meat prices."
