The Medical Roundup

by Walter Alvarez

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic
Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Treatment of Syphilis

A man writes that many years ago when he was young, he contracted syphilis. In spite of much strenuous treatment his Wassermann test has remained positive. He says that recently he went to a fine university medical school where the expert on syphilis told him to quit taking treatment. The doctor said that sometimes one must face the fact that no amount of treatment will ever make the Wassermann test turn negative. Under such circumstances, if there have never been any signs of the disease, if there has been much expert treatment, if the spinal fluid is normal, and the man is past 60, he should stop taking injections.

Walter Alvarez

My correspondent, like many persons with a positive Wassermann test, could not accept expert advice; he had to go on worrying, and he had to keep going to one doctor after another until he found one who would treat him and go on treating him. Now, the poor man says, "I can't afford all these 'shots;' what can I do?" I suggest that he accept the advice of a nationally-known professor—an expert in the treatment of the disease!

One of the bad features of our educational system is that it does not instill into our people enough respect for experts and their opinions. I will never forget the impression I received 50 years ago, when as a young assistant, I watched a family react to the opinion given them by the then two most distinguished professors of medicine on the Pacific coast. With the new x-ray machine my chief (one of the professors) and I had shown that the patient had a cancer of the upper end of his stomach. That is why he was having much trouble swallowing.

I stood in such awe of the knowledge and skill and eminence of the two great teachers that I was shocked when the family contemptuously fired them, and took to their hearts an ignorant quack. A few hundred times since I have seen this happen.

Spray Should Be Applied to Pink Buds

The pink bud spray on peaches should be applied when most of the blossom buds are pink, according to C. B. Cordy, county agent for horticulture.

A few of the buds will be open in bloom when the other blossom buds are pink.

For each 100 gallons of spray in high pressure hose sprayers, Cordy recommends 6 pounds wettable sulfur or 2 pounds captan or 1½ pounds ziram for brown rot, plus 2 pounds malathion for aphis, and 1½ pounds 50 per cent DDT for twig borers.

In speed sprayers Cordy suggests 24 pounds wettable sulfur or 10 pounds captan or 7 pounds ziram plus 12 pounds malathion plus 8 pounds 50 per cent DDT per acre.

Another spray of sulfur, captan or zirem should be applied during full bloom, Cordy said. He cautioned orchardists against use of sulfur on apricots.

HOBO CONVENTION — John Lusk, chairman in charge of the second annual Crater Lions Hobo convention, is shown promoting the event in downtown Medford recently. The convention will start at 7 p.m. Saturday, March 31, at the Central Point American Legion hall. Lions from district 36E, which includes southern Oregon from Sutherlin to Ashland and Lakeview to Coos Bay, are expected. Proceeds from the event, which includes a dinner and dancing, will go to the Oregon Society for Crippled Children.—(Landis-Shangle Photo.)

Booklet Available for Veteran Home Buyers

Hints for veterans planning to buy homes with the aid of GI loans are available in the veterans administration pamphlet, "To the Home-Buying Veterans," according to S. T. Brannock, officer in charge of the veterans administration office in Medford.

Veterans may obtain the booklet at any VA office or by writing to the veterans administration office, 33 North Riverside ave., Medford, Brannock said.

Dr. Alvarez regrets he hasn't the time in which to read or answer requests for information.

Strange As It Seems

Telephone Pranksters Promise Good Prizes

Ashland — Telephone pranksters who claimed they were representatives of the Big Y market in Medford have duped several Ashland residents recently, according to Chief of Police Herb Hays.

Those making the calls promise impressive appliance prizes if the person answering can answer a question correctly. A few of the victims have driven to Medford to collect their "prizes".

The contest has been proven a complete hoax, Hays said.

SOVIET POPULATION UP

Moscow — (U.P.) — The Soviet Communist organ Pravda said today the population of the Soviet Union increased by 16,000,000 persons between 1951 and 1955. The newspaper did not give the total population figure.
