Garden Notes

By C. B. CORDY County Extension Agent for Horticulture
Many gardens are now in a condition to be worked up and the soils are now warm enough to plant quite a variety of vegetables. Before planting, be sure the soil is thoroughly prepared and either work in 5 pounds of a complete fertilizer to each 100 square feet or place fertilizer along-side of the rows using 1 pound of complete fertilizer to 40 feet of row. Place the fertilizer 2 inches to one side and 3 inches deep.

Some of our vegetable plants such as head lettuce, spinach and peas, must be planted in cool weather as they tend to go to seed as soon as the hot summer weather sets in. A dozen head lettuce plants for early lettuce and a 25 foot row for later lettuce, will keep a family supplied. The spinach should be handled likewise; a 25 foot row now and a 25 foot row in about two weeks is sufficient.

Onions should be planted now as they require a long season in which to grow to maturity and attain a large size. Onion seeds of the Sweet Spanish variety should be planted so that the young onion plants will be spaced 2 inches apart. When the onions are grown, they will not only be touching, but pushing each other somewhat to one side. This is desirable in order to attain high yield.
Onion maggots seem to be coming more and more of a problem each year and where this is the case, steps should be taken early to control them. A chloroform dust or spray should be applied to the onion plants shortly after the young onions emerge through the soil. This should be followed by a second dusting two weeks later. Where onion maggots have been severe, a third dust in another two weeks will be necessary to give control. Later in the year thrips may attack the onion plants and these can be held in control by spraying or dusting with DDT. These summer DDT dusts will also help to maintain control of the onion maggots throughout the summer.
The onion maggot is much more of a problem in commercial fields than it is in home gardens. Many home gardeners have found that they can grow onions with no control measures at all, but if some of the onion plants will and die, it is probably caused by onion maggots and control measures should be applied.
