

JACKSONVILLE Move Planned for Library

By MRS. CARL S. HOSKINS

Jacksonville — The Jacksonville branch of the county library, located in the historical U. S. Hotel building on Main st. in Jacksonville, which was recently condemned for public use, will be moved in the near future.

The new site will be the old Brunner building, built in 1855, the oldest brick building in town in which, it is related, the women and children took refuge during the Modoc Indian wars fought in this area.

At a recent council meeting the building was deemed to be the city of Jacksonville in the name of the two remaining Native Daughters, Mrs. H. K. Hanna of Jacksonville and her sister Mrs. G. R. Chapman of Roseburg.

The library was established in 1921 by Mrs. Hanna, who according to the record book holds the first library card issued there. When first established the library was located in the room in the U. S. Hotel now used by the Jacksonville Garden club, and later moved to the room in the hotel it now occupies.

According to Ray Wilson, councilman and chairman of the project, it is hoped to have the Brunner building ready for use by May 1. R. E. Welch and Jack Long will do the work planned on the building at this time, with further remodeling to be done as funds permit.

Jacksonville's library has some 2,000 books of its own and the townspeople have long enjoyed its convenience and friendly atmosphere. The picturesque Brunner building will, it is felt, be an ideal site for the library's continued successful public service.

According to Mrs. Fred Edens, committee member of the Jacksonville Band Booster's club, their recent rummage sale was a success, clearing $114. The money will be used to complete the band uniforms, which they have been gradually working for. Those in charge stated that the response to their request for rummage articles was gratifying and they especially wish to thank the Jacksonville Garden club, which turned over to the band boosters plants and other rummage left over from their own sale the previous day, and to also express their gratitude to all others who called and donated articles, which were largely responsible for the sale's success.

Mrs. Walter Jensen of Medford was a luncheon and afternoon guest at the Fred Edens home last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lamb and son Bobby, accompanied by Mrs. Lamb's mother, Mrs. Anna Rumbley, spent last week end in Cottage Grove, visiting at the home of Mrs. J. T. Bradley and family. Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Lamb are sisters.

The Ruth Rebekah club met March 27 at the home of Mrs. Everett H. Ravenor. Eight members were present for the meeting and installation of officers was held for Mrs. Jack McDaniels, president; and Mrs. P. E. Matheny, secretary and treasurer. Mrs. James Noble, vice-president-elect, was absent and will be installed at the April meeting. After the short business meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ravenor and Mrs. Mable McCallie.

At a special school board meeting this week it was decided to go ahead with plans to turf the football field, which will be put on the new elementary school grounds on Huener's lane. The Tru-Mix Co. will use their grading equipment, with the work beginning Friday and Saturday, March 30 and 31. Installing of a water sprinkling system and grass planting will follow.

A high school student assembly was held last Thursday with students who attended the International Relations League conference, recently held in Eugene, making their report on the trip. Students who served as officers in the recent County Government Day project reported on their activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bostwick and family, Sunnyside, Wash., are visiting indefinitely with Mrs. Bostwick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Riley Norris.

Mrs. Charles LeMoine from Applegate was a luncheon guest at the Riley Norris home last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Wilkinson, of Mom's Hide-a-Way Cafe and Bar, are moving this week to the Peterson apartment on Main st. Wilkinson has been ill, but is recovering from an arm infection.

Mrs. Cliff Connor and daughter Debra recently left Jacksonville for Tuscaloosa, Ala. Mrs. Connor was representative in this district for Avon products and was replaced this week by Mrs. Henry Belau, 1006 South Third st.

Mrs. W. D. Turnbull was pleasantly surprised this week with a shower of handkerchiefs and birthday cards through the mail. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hixson of Prospect were last week end visitors at the John Hamaker residence.

Miss Peggy Cabler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cabler, who has been a patient at Warm Springs, Ga., since last November, was to arrive in Portland Friday enroute home to Jacksonville, probably arriving here sometime Saturday or Easter Sunday.

A local group of teen-age girls and boys recently started holding regular Tuesday evening meetings at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Bernston on Huener's lane. Under Bernston's direction, choir singing and a short Bible message is offered, with refreshments following the hour long meeting, beginning at 7:30 p.m. At last week's meeting an out of town couple, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Carr of Santa Barbara, Calif., entertained the group with a skit entitled 'King and Queen.' According to the Bernstons, shy interested teen-agers may attend and participate.

The Whitney family held their regular monthly birthday dinner on March 25 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lawrence on Old Stage road off North Oregon st., Jacksonville. The two birthdays being celebrated this month were the Lawrence's son Jimmy, who was 14, and Charles (Chucker) Young. A baked ham dinner with two birthday cakes was served at 4 p.m. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Smith and Mrs. Ella Russell of Medford, Mrs. Pearl French of Eureka, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Jim Winningham and Mrs. Chet McDonough of Ruch, Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Young and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Whitney and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Pyeatt and daughter Virginia, and Mrs. Harry Whitney of Jacksonville.

Emil (Old Dad) Roseanu is slowly recovering from a recent illness. He is an elderly boarder at the Whitney home.

HORNBROOK Ditch Gets Spring Cleaning

By MRS. H. H. CHAPMAN

Hornbrook — The annual spring cleaning has been started on the main ditch of the Cottonwood Irrigation and Mining Co., which supplies irrigating water for the entire valley.

The work is being done this year by machinery instead of the "pick and shovel" method that has been used in the past. As a result of the December floods, the ditch was completely filled in many spots, making it necessary to employ a "cat" fitted with a blade to clean out the debris. The "cat" is manned by Clarence Lockwood, and judging from the work done to date, the ditch will be in better shape than ever before.

At a recent meeting of the company, Frank Graves was elected president for the ensuing year, and Frank Bear, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Dorothy Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith, a teacher in the Yreka Elementary school, is spending Easter week vacation visiting friends in San Francisco. On Friday, she returned with her brother and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Edward M. Smith and son from Orland. The Edward Smiths will remain to spend Easter with their parents.

Mrs. Anna Coppin returned home this week from San Francisco where she had been visiting her son since shortly before Thanksgiving.

Eight cattle were killed the morning of March 28 when they were struck by a Southern Pacific train on the railroad trestle over the Klamath river. The consensus of those reconstructing the accident was that the herd of ten cattle was bunched up on the north end of the trestle when the train hit them. Of the ten, three were killed outright, five had to be destroyed, one was missing, having apparently been tossed into the river, and one survived without a scratch. The sheriff's office from Yreka identified the brands, and destroyed the injured animals.

The cattle belonged to Bob Stone of Hornbrook, who went in and out of the cattle business in a hurry, having bought the

Proprietor of Rest Home Is Arrested

Yreka — Proprietor of the Calaveras Rest Home in Etna, Melville Scull, 55, was jailed here Thursday on charges of assault to do bodily harm to one of the male inmates of the home.

He is accused of beating patient Felix Henry, who is near 80, with his fist and a broomstick. According to District Attorney Floyd Merrill, Scull's wife said that Henry had refused to return a sweater belonging to another inmate. Investigation is continuing.
