National Guard Unit Holds Dinner

Headquarters and Headquarters company, first battalion, 186th infantry, Oregon National Guard held a company dinner at Medford hotel recently to celebrate a successful recruiting campaign.

Approximately 85 persons attended, including Mayor Earl Miller of Medford; Lt. Col. Donald H. Burke, commanding officer of first battalion, 186th infantry, Grants Pass; and Major Forrest D. Taft, unit advisor, Medford.

Mayor Miller praised the National Guard and stated that the Guard "is the bulwark of the home defense and that it is important for young men of today to prepare for the future through the Guard."

Capt. Sebastiano J. Fagone, commanding officer of Headquarters and Headquarters company, reported on the weekend firing held at the Camp White range recently.

Of the 40 men who fired, 28 qualified with the M1 rifle. Seven qualified as experts with scores of 170 or better out of a possible 200. Experts included Dan and Bruce Kellington, Raymond Cox, Eldon Francis, James Meternich, George Perrard and Robert Guiche.

He said the "night problem" which took place near life range was successful, with the men staying out overnight.

Police Investigate 276 Cases in March

A total of 276 offenses were reported to the city police department during March, according to the monthly report. They included 55 "major offenses."

Larceny-thefts under $50 led the list with 43 reported and 14 cleared. The remaining major cases involved six burglaries, three cleared; four larceny-thefts $50 and over, three cleared; one auto theft, not cleared; and one aggravated assault, cleared.

Violations of traffic and motor vehicle laws totaled 121, not including 65 violations of road and driving laws and four driving while intoxicated.

Also on the miscellaneous offenses reported were one forgery and counterfeiting, cleared; one assault, cleared; eight embezzlement and fraud, 16 cleared; one sex offense, cleared; one liquor law violation, cleared; 22 drunkenness; three disorderly conduct and 11 vagrancy.

Miscellaneous public reports totaled 47, and miscellaneous services rendered, 599.

The grand total of all reports was 977, with 938 cases closed and 96 per cent cleared.
