

On The Side

Let the seas run dry, sweatheart,
The rocks melt in the sun.
Here I will stay, not from you part
Till all my days are done.
The tides shall cease to beat the shore,
The stars fall from the sky.
Yet I will love you more and more
Until the day I die, my dear,
Until the day I die.

—Brooks

What is the percentage of traffic accidents in your section caused by pedestrians? That is by reckless walking. Also drunk walking! It is probably much higher than you think. In the charming California community of Pasadena, home of the Rose Bowl, reckless walking is considered so great a menace that the fine for same is $5 for the first jaywalking offense, $10 for the second. As for drunk walking, that calls for a fine of $25 for the first offense and rises to a point where the offender is given 180 days in jail!

Photographs

Grace Kelly spent considerable time posing for that picture of her for a stamp of Monaco. Grace thinks photograph of her left profile show her at her best. How does your wife think she should be photographed for the best results? She should make a study of it and also check as to her worst photograph angle. Otherwise she may see in print a picture of herself that presents her in such a fashion it will move her to tears.

Horses and Women

Elizabeth Arden, who has a racing stable of 38 thoroughbreds in which she takes an intense interest, recently said, "Jockey Johnny Longden can't ride for me. I don't like the way he sits on a horse. Too far over the mane."

So They Say

Aries (March 21-April 20) people have a great talent for business and finance. Or, so say the stargazers. (Note—J. P. Morgan Sr., and Andrew Mellon were born under Aries. So was Mary Pickford, the richest and smartest business woman in Hollywood.)

Asides

It was none other than Christian Dior, who said, "A woman of intelligence wants to look as much like a woman as possible and as different from a man as she can. She wants to be feminine plus." There are about 2,000,000 cats in New York City. They should be compelled to have licenses. Canaries should be licensed, too. Why make the dogs pay all the pet taxes?

Almost Confidential

Dietitian says molasses is a better health aid for children than spinach. My mother seems to have known that years ago. Molasses on bread was a regular between meals treat for the kids at our house. . . . According to a dictionary definition, a housewife is "one who manages domestic affairs." So if your wife doesn't care for the term "housewife" suggest that she refer to herself as a "domestic affairs manager."

Tips

In how many activities do tips figure as part of the income? How long is the list of persons you are expected to tip? That's a question I cannot definitely answer. However, the list continues to get longer. Speaking of tips, I just heard of a driver of a transcontinental moving van who received a tip of $100. This was after a job of transporting a load of household furniture from Los Angeles, Calif., to New York City. The trip took seven days. The driver's two helpers were tipped $20 each.

Siskiyou Chapter of SAF Slates Meeting

The Siskiyou chapter of the Columbia River section of the Society of American Foresters will hold a dinner meeting Friday, April 6, in the Jackson hotel. A children's hour will be at 7 p.m., with dinner at 7:30 p.m. Prof. Richard Dilworth, Oregon State college, will present a program on the use of aerial photographs in forest management.

In May the group will make a field trip to Prospect to visit bug damage in partial cuttings and a short tour of a local tree seed extracting plant, followed by a dinner meeting.

Hard-To-Get Approach

For Lionized Football Player
When a person is in the public eye, his actions are likely to be criticized.

(A) "I like a boy who is a senior at our high school and a great football player. I have gone out with him several times but every time the guys tease him about me and he says he has no interest in me. But he shows signs of liking me all the time. How can I get this boy to go with me but keep the other fellows from teasing him? I have known him for two years but there was nothing serious until recently. He is the only boy I can think of."—M.B.

(A) Are you sure this boy is as serious about you as you are about him? It sounds a bit to me like a one-sided romance, with the interest concentrated on your side.

It is not surprising that this boy comes in for a certain amount of teasing from the other boys. A person who is in the limelight, as a football hero, is bound to be noticed and his every action criticized, teased or applauded.

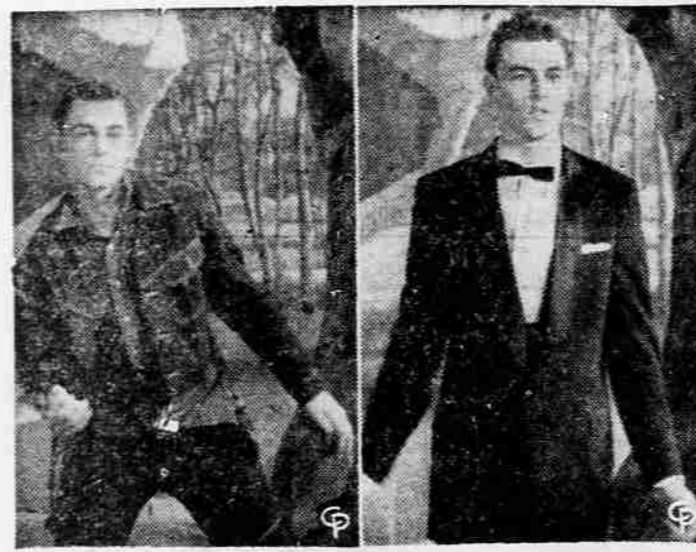

Like many athletes, whose major interest is centered in sports, this boy may have told the other boys he had no interest in girls or dates, and he may even have gone so far as to make fun of the boys who are wrapped up in girls and dates. So, when he does the very thing he criticized others for, he is bound to be teased about it.

May Find Change

If you wait until this boy finishes school and goes to work or to college, you may find a marked change in his attitude toward you. If he really likes you, as you seem to think he does, he will then feel free of the possibility of being laughed at and will act in accordance with his own interests.

One bit of advice may help you to increase this boy's interest in you. A person who is lionized, as a school football hero usually is, is accustomed to being the center of attention and admiration. He takes this for granted. If you want to arouse his interest in you, you will play the "hard-to-get" game, not letting him know that he is the only boy you can think of.

Findings of Pilot Inspection Program Are Announced Here

Details of the findings of the state pilot meat inspection program held recently in Jackson and Josephine counties have been received from the state department of agriculture. The section is the 11th in which the program has been conducted.

Nine plants in Ashland, Medford and Grants Pass were continuous antemortem and post-mortem inspection for three weeks from March 5 through March 23.

During that time 1,462 animals were slaughtered in these plants. They included 638 cattle, 114 calves, 691 swine, 18 sheep and one goat. No animals were condemned in the antemortem inspections. Inspectors condemned two beef carcasses as unfit for human consumption and 520 parts of carcasses.

Two Rejected

The two carcasses were rejected because of metritis and malnutrition.

Meat food products condemned were 250 pounds of boned meat due to spoilage caused by cooler motor failure in one plant.

Parts of animals rejected were liver, 456; heads, 19; hearts, 4; kidneys, 39; tongue, 1; leg joint, 1. The total was 520 parts.

More livers were condemned for fluke than for any other reason. In cattle, livers were kept from markets for these reasons: fluke, 276; abscesses, 36; parasites, 5; telang, 7; actimi, 2.

Liver Condemnations

Parasites caused 122 swine liver condemnations, and abscesses, 2. Veal liver rejections were due to parasites, fluke and abscesses.

Eleven of all heads were rejected because of abscesses; 2, lumpy jaw; 1, cysticercosis; and 5, tuberculosis. Heart and tongue condemnations were due chiefly to abscesses.

During the pilot survey, the inspection teams are also checking on insanitary practices and conditions and otherwise correcting and improving sanitation conditions found inadequate under a program of continuous meat inspection.

A careful record is maintained of all angles of the pilot survey—including costs—for presentation to the 1957 legislature.

The two teams which conduct the pilot meat inspection program are now in eastern Oregon. Areas which have been inspected up to this point are all of western Oregon except Coos and Curry counties and all of central Oregon from The Dalles to the California border.

The production of castor oil once was centered in southern Illinois. However, it was used mostly for lubricating purposes and not as a children's medicine.

Modern methods can unload 14,000 tons of iron ore from a ship in less than three hours.
