

State LWV Advisor Here; Study Programs Planned

Mrs. Charles Ford, Eugene, state board advisor to the Medford League of Women Voters, attended a monthly board meeting April 3, at the home of league president, Mrs. Robert Hiatt. As a result of the nominating committee in filling the offices for the coming year, Medford league has recommended for a resumption of its previous status, no longer to be on a reorganizational basis, provided the recommendation of its advisor is accepted by the state board of the League of Women Voters of Oregon.

The League's voters' service committee with Mrs. Irving Thomas, chairman, will hold a candidates' program May 4 in the Hedrick Junior High school cafeteria. Later in year but prior to the November elections, the committee will have a candidates' program.

Other than the voter's service program, Medford league will participate in a national league study proposed for adoption at the annual convention. Because there has been such a demand from local leagues for the two studies proposed for the next biennium, they are expected to pass. Studies of conservation, especially on water resource and individual liberties, particularly federal loyalty-security programs have been proposed.

Miss Donna Sherwood resigned as chairman of the "Know Your Town" survey, due to her leaving the city.

No evening study unit meeting will be held in April. The morning unit will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Carr, 16 Florence avenue, Wednesday, April 18, at 9:45 a.m. Mrs. Irving Thomas, voter's service chairman, will present and lead the discussion concerning the May primary elections, presenting both candidates and issues.

Mrs. Ford discussed the possibility of establishing a study unit in Ashland, but no action was taken.
