GOLD HILL Sweed Mill Has Open House

By MRS. SAM ELLIOTT
Gold Hill—Jeddelohs' Sweed Mill Manufacturing company had their first open house since they started operations in May, 1955.

Gold Hill Grade and Crater High school students attended en masse as a school project. Interested persons from all of Rogue River valley attended and were entertained by a personally conducted tour by the Jeddeloh brothers. During the tour each workman explained his job, and the huge precision machines that they used.

The plant has turned out six completed 125-horsepower sweed gang mills, which have been sold to sawmill owners in the valley. It was stated that while they have been taking three to four weeks to complete one mill, they hope to be able to complete two mills a month. At this time they are hiring 18 men.

Steel for the mills is purchased from steel mills in the east in flats and structural shapes, such as the huge pulley wheels that weigh nearly a ton each. These come from Gary, Ind. The sweed mills are completely fabricated here with the exception of bearings and the cutting saws.

Another fact is that the Jeddeloh brothers have in their small plant one of the largest steel boring machines on the Pacific coast of which they are justly proud.

All visitors were served coffee and doughnuts by the Lions club.
