EASTER PROGRAM

The first grades of Jackson school presented an Easter program for their parents and the student body on March 28 and 29. The theme, "Easter Bunny dance and choral reading, and was climaxed by a traditional Easter parade in which each child modeled a colorful Easter bonnet.

"Peter Cottontail," "It's Easter Today," "Easter Bunny Land" and "Easter Eggs" were sung by the first grade chorus; a rabbit dance and egg dance were presented by two groups of dancers, and meeting the Easter bunny was given by the choral readers. A large number of parents were on hand to view the performance in which every child in the first grade participated.

Grange

County Grange Council

The Jackson County Grange Council will meet Saturday, April 14, at 8 p.m. in the Griffin Creek Grange.

Phoenix Grange

The next meeting of Phoenix Grange will be Tuesday, April 10.

A mystery program, arranged by lecturer Dee Hendrickson, will begin at 8 p.m. and will be for Grangers only.

The business meeting will follow.

Eagle Point Grange

Eagle Point Grange hall was filled to overflowing last Tuesday evening at the election rally held there. C. C. Hoover was general chairman of the event, Earl Jossy was parade chairman, and James Dunlevy supervised.

A wide variety of costumes were displayed. Ostrich-plumed hats vied with poke-bonnets. Tall silk hats and derbys were everywhere. Antique jewelry, huge "breast-pins" with hand-painted flowers, also gold nugget watch chains were much in evidence. Striped overalls and swallow-tail coats made the confusion complete, and delighted the photographers.

The parade was led by a group of Cub scouts, carrying the American flag. An "old-time band" played music for marching. Candidates and their supporters, carrying placards and torches completed the procession. Everyone entered into the spirit of the occasion. The program was a "big success."

Eighteen candidates for office and two for national convention delegate were present.

Judge Rodney Keating won the contest for best costume. He was promptly awarded the promised "100 votes" plus three votes "bonus" to use in the queen contest.

The two finalists for queen were Mrs. Lottie Van Scoy and "Susie Snow" (Bob Bitterling in "Susies" clothes). Lottie received well over 900 votes, while "Susie" got exactly 103. Lottie was crowned queen and Shy Morthland presented her a spray of flowers.

Title-holder Rawles Moore and contender O. H. Bengston put on boxing gloves and got into the ring to "slug it out" for title of district judge, to the delight of the large audience.

Candidates were escorted to the rostrum by the following "Eaglets": Mesdames C. C. Hoover, Otis Hill, Kermit Carroll, Earl Jossy and Bob Bitterling, all members of Eagle Point Grange.

Paul Olsen, legislative chairman, was appointed official timekeeper, with a timer set for three minutes. Most of the speakers "beat the bell." Many expressed their approval of the idea, and wished other Granges would have a "candidate night," at their Grange.

After the rally, visitors not remaining for Grange were invited to enjoy refreshments before leaving. A great many did so.

Grange opened late, but in full form, with seating drill. State officers and three Grange Land," was presented in song, masters were presented to the master's station. A number of Granges were represented. The hall was full, with about equal number of visitors and local members.

The charter was draped in loving memory of Brother Bob Fowler.

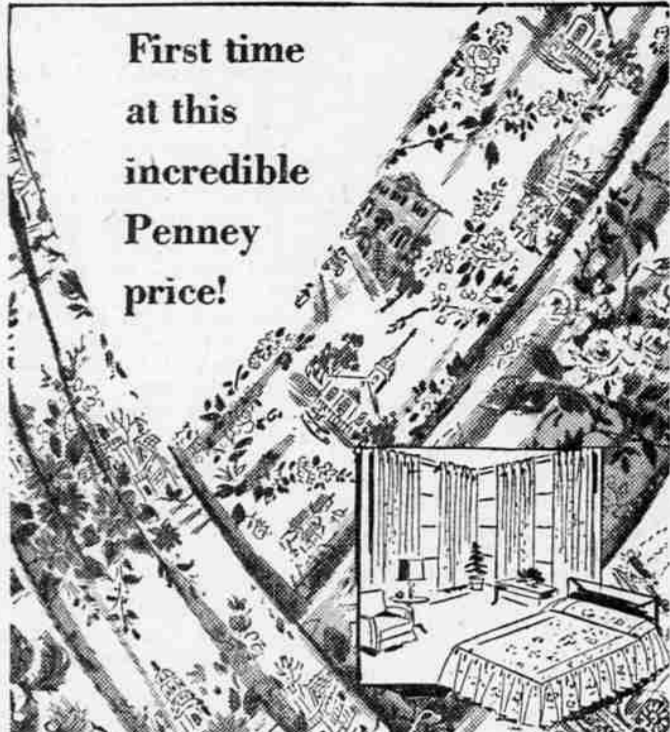

Due to the late hour, business was cut to a minimum. The Buford Clarks were added to the serving committee to assist the Moores and the Hammels. They served turkey sandwiches. Ladies attending brought and assortment of sandwiches also, so there was a super-abundance, even for the extra-large attendance.
