Philadelphia NBA Champ

Philadelphia—(U.P.)—The Philadelphia Warriors were hailed today as the National Basketball Association champion after defeating the defending titlists, the Ft. Wayne Pistons, four games to one in a best of seven series.

The Warriors wrapped up the title Saturday night in defeating the Pistons 99-88. The victory was shared by a veteran NBA star, Joe Graboski and a rookie, former La Salle All-American Tom Gola.

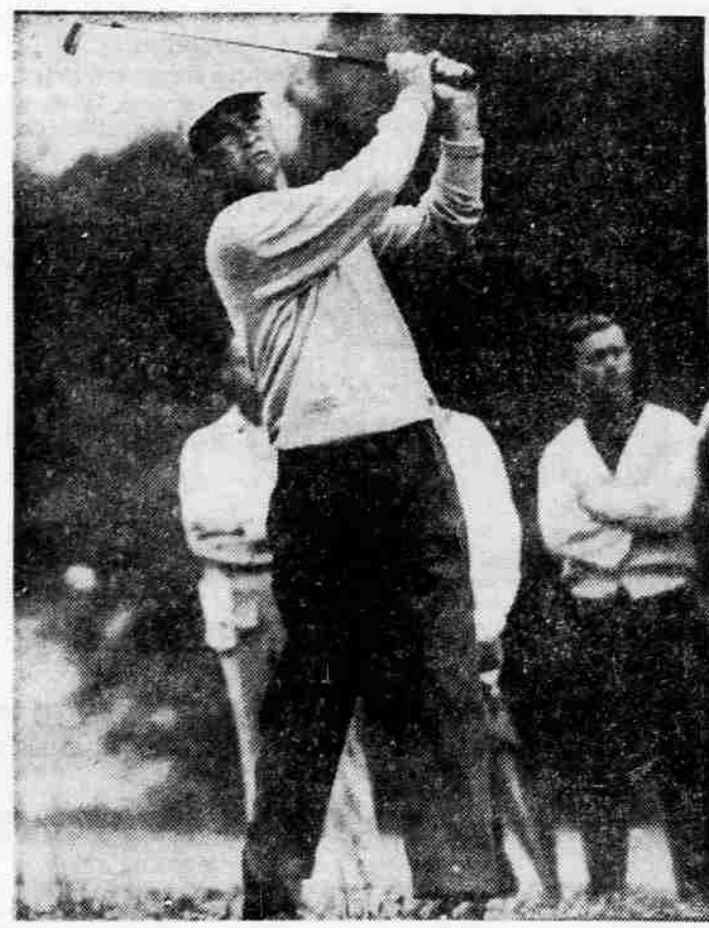

Graboski lost scoring to George Yardley, the former Stanford star who had 30 points. Graboski netted 29 points, Gola 16.

TO PLAY HERE—Pictured above is Julius Boros, golf professional, who'll perform in an exhibition and clinic at Rogue Valley Country club on Thursday, May 3. He won the World Champion tourney sponsored by the George S. May company at Tam O'Shanter, Chicago, last year, and finished tied for 15th with 303 yesterday in the Masters tournament at Augusta, Ga. Jackson County Chamber of Commerce is local sponsor of Boros appearance.

AMAZING NEWS—Conni Venturi can hardly believe her ears as she gets telephone call in her San Francisco home from husband, Ken, telling her he shot a 69 in the Master's Tournament second round at Augusta, Ga. The amazing amateur shot a 66 for the first round, six under par. Three-weeks-old son, Bruce Matthew, seems to gurgle happiness over Daddy's good news.

OFF TO FAST START—California amateur Ken Venturi hits from the rough during Master's Golf Tournament at Augusta, Ga. Ken waded his way over the rain-soaked Augusta National course to a record opening day of 66, six under par. The stunning performance gave him a good chance to be the first amateur ever to win the event.

Larsen Top Skipper In Emigrant Regatta

Bill Larsen Jr., Delake, picked up $65 in prize money with one first and one second place and Ned Collett, Eugene, captured the Ken Pellett perpetual trophy yesterday as outboard motor boat racers from Oregon, California and Utah performed before a record crowd in the annual Western Speedboat association regatta at Emigrant lake.

Larsen nabbed the B utility runabout race and took second to Dick Pharis, Albany, in the B hydroplane run. Collett took the Pellett prize with a victory in D hydro.

The race drew one contestant from Salt Lake City, Utah, Walter Dansie, who won the F hydro and placed third in D hydro. Other winners were H. J. DeMartin, Crescent City, Calif., in D utility and Rocky Stone, Willamina, in D service runabouts.

Races were held before a crowd of at least 1,200 paid admissions. There were many others who watched the races from the highway end of the lake. Others made brief stops near the lake during the afternoon. The area was jammed with cars.

WSA officials reported a total of 53 entries, necessitating eliminations in B utility and B hydro. Four extra heats were run.

Racers had smooth water on the sunny day and only one spill occurred. Havey (Doc) Reinke, Salem, was the unlucky skipper in B utility. Races were almost routine.

RACE RESULTS:
D Hydro—Winner Ned Collett, Eugene, Les Manasse, Crescent City; Walter Dansie, Salt Lake City, Utah. First heat—Collett, Manasse, Dansie. Second heat—Same.
B Hydro—Winner Dick Pharis, Allany; Bill Larsen Jr., Delake; Bob Defenbaugh, Brookings. First heat—Pharis, Larsen, Defenbaugh. Second heat—Pharis, Larsen, Richard Cassidy, Crescent City.

F Hydro—Winner Dansie; Jerry McGrew, Medford; Manasse. First heat—Dansie, McGrew, Manasse. Second heat—Dansie, John Hartley, Coquille, Manasse.
D Utility—Winner, H. J. DeMartin, Crescent City; William Sample, Crescent City; Jack St. Clair, Salem. First heat—DeMartin, Sample, St. Clair. Second heat—DeMartin, Rocky Stone, Willamina, Paul Woodruffe, Salem.
Utility—Winner Larsen; Sam Koontz, Albany; A. K. Nicalet, Reading, Calif. First heat—Larsen, Koontz, Hilbert Phinoy, Klamath, Calif. Second heat—Larsen, Koontz, Nicalet.
D Service—Winner Stone; Pharis; Collett. First heat—Stone, Pharis, Collett. Second heat—Stone, Collett, Pharis.

Globetrotters Nudge All-Stars
Cincinnati—(U.P.)—The Harlem Globetrotters today held a six to three margin over the College All-Stars following the Trotters 63-61 victory last night.

In one of the tightest games played to date the 19-game cross country series, the two clubs were never more than six points apart.

With Ohio State's Robin Freeman and the Trotter's Sweetwater Clifton battling for scoring honors, the lead changed hands no less than eight times. Clifton edged Freeman in the scoring column 22 to 21 points.

University of San Francisco's star guard Hal Perry did not play in last night's game as the All-Stars used only seven of its 12-man squad.

In Saturday night's game, which saw the All-Stars emerge the winner 65-61 in a game at St. Louis, Perry played briefly and scored only one point.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in the Pioneer room of the Jackson hotel.

Roseburg Scattergun Team Triumphs Here

Roseburg gunners blasted 949 out of a possible 1,000 targets to win the five-man team shoot which highlighted Sunday activity in the two-day Pacific International Trapshooting association registered southern zone tourney at Medford Gun club.

Klamath Falls placed second with 947 and Medford took third with 944. Yoncalla scored 940 and Chemult 947. There were seven teams entered.

Ken Gilkeson, Roseburg, won Class A at 16-years, was the only gunner with a perfect 100 yesterday but Gordon Miller, Eugene, took high overall honors for the day with 242 birds out of a possible 250. Miller fired a 99 in 16-yard shooting yesterday to break his Saturday deadlock for Class AA laurels with John Simpson, Portland. Both had 100 straight on Saturday and Simpson broke 98 yesterday.

Larry Luper, Drain, was the other 100 shooter Saturday and was high overall for that day with 240.

Other 99
Lewis Fisher, Eureka, Calif., was runner up in Sunday Class A with 99. Ray Coleman, Jacksonville, and E. W. Willette, Cottage Grove, each busted 99 in Class B. Gene Hunt, Medford, won Class C with 96 and L. J. Allen, Sutherlin, followed with 93. Cecil Palmer, no town given, capped Class D with 95 and Lloyd Prock, Klamath Falls, was next with 91.

Larry Horn, Grants Pass, with 95 was high junior and Emma Jantzer, Medford, with 85, high lady.

Jack Culver, Sutherlin, and Bill Davis, Klamath Falls, had 99s in the handicap.

Miller and Forrest Solomon, Winchester, each shot 46s in the Class I doubles. In Class II George Jantzer, Medford, broke 43 and Harold Wooley, Drain 43.

Medford shooters led in the perfect 75 score in the Oregon Journal telegraphic trapshoot. George Jantzer, Henry Niedermeyer, Gene Hunt, Jim Horn and Floyd Young all had 25 straights and three of them were combined for the wire affair. No scores were available on Medford's foes, Coos Bay, Clackamas, Corvallis and Klamath Falls.
