

Heavy Week For Athletes At Oregon

University of Oregon, Eugene—Oregon's spring sports teams have moved into another heavy week of competition with 14 events set for the four sports.

Coach Don Kirsch's defending Northern Division baseball squad, after its fourth straight title and 12th in the 24-year history of the league, has the busiest schedule. It met Willamette here on Monday and Linfield at McMinnville today and plays Portland State here on Thursday, Lewis and Clark at Portland on Saturday.

A decided lack of hitting and some spotty defensive work have been the major problems faced by the Ducks in their early games, but excellent pitching and promising work by a number of sophomores have helped offset the weak spots.

The mound work of Terry Maddox, Stan Dmochowski, Jack Henkel, Don Lane, Ron Whittaker and Phil Bell indicates the Webfoots may have their best pitching staff in years and Capt. John Keller at shortstop and Dick Schlosstein at first base have also been outstanding. The scramble for the remainder of the starting positions continues with at least two men in contention at each spot.

Open Track Meet

Coach Bill Bowerman's track and field squad, which opened the Northern Division season against Oregon State, is idle from league competition but will take on Lewis and Clark, the Portland Track and Field club and the Oregon freshmen in an open meet next Saturday as part of the annual Hayward Relays.

The relays are expected to draw about 65 entries in the four classes with the Band C teams competing Friday and the Metropolitan and Class A squads going after their championships on Saturday.

In golf the Ducks open their season at Medford Saturday when a 10-man team takes on the Rogue Valley Country club. The tennis squad opens its home season on Saturday against the Oregon Medical school and the freshman netters have Roseburg here on Friday. In freshman baseball, Coach Norv Ritchey's club meets Eugene Tuesday, Clark JC Friday and Saturday and SOCE on Saturday in the second half of a doubleheader.

Statistics Back Best Ever Claims for San Francisco

New York—(U.P.)—N.C.A.A. figure-filberts have come forth with some strong statistical arguments today to support the already well-accepted claim that the University of San Francisco team was the best in college basketball history.

In the 30 years the N.C.A.A. service bureau has kept tabs on college teams, the 1935-36 Dons were the first ever to play a representative major schedule during which no opponent ever came closer than seven points in the final score.

This was only one of the many arguments backing up the "best ever" claim for the Dons, who won 55 consecutive games and two straight N.C.A.A. championships during the past two seasons. Here are a few more:

For the second straight season, San Francisco led the major colleges in defense. The Dons yielded an average of only 52.2 points in sweeping through their 29-game schedule.

Coach Phil Woolpert's men outclassed their 29 opponents by an average of 20 points per game. They averaged 72.2 points per game on offense while holding their rivals to 52.2. Marquette had the smallest margin of defeat against San Francisco, losing 65-58.

Dayton Second Best

Only the undefeated 1933-34 Kentucky team approached this season's record set by All-American Bill Russell and Co. Kentucky breezed through 25 games that campaign with nothing tighter than a 6-point "squeak."

Dayton's 16.1-point average margin of victory was second best this season. The Flyers from Ohio averaged 78.3 points on offense and 62.2 on defense.

In spite of San Francisco's defensive influence, however, college basketball generally continued to be offensive-minded. The national scoring average increased to 146.7 points per game for both teams, from last season's previous record high of 145.3.

Furthermore, for the fifth straight year the major college team scoring champion hit an all-time high. Morehead (Ky.) State averaged 95.9 points in 29 games, breaking Furman's three-year monopoly on the title. Furman averaged 93.3 points per game in winning the honor last year.

Oklahoma A. and M. was the only major college team that came close to San Francisco in defense. The Cowboys, who traditionally rank high in this department, allowed their 27 opponents an average of only 52.9 points per game.

Sharper Shooting

The season records reflected the national trend toward sharper shooting and less fouling.

George Washington set a new high for field goal accuracy, hitting exactly 50 per cent of its attempts.

Southern Methodist set a new major college free throw shooting mark, cashing in on .764 per cent of its opportunities.

Niagara led the major colleges in fewest fouls committed for the fourth straight season, hitting a record low of only 13.1 personals per game.

Official statistics covering a total of 4039 major college games showed an increase in field goal shooting accuracy to .376 from last season's .369 and an improvement from .665 to .669 in free throw shooting. Both new figures are all-time highs.

Whistle-blowing by the referees also subsided to its lowest level in eight years. The average number of foul calls per game for both teams was 37.7.

Slates Announced For Junior Highs

Hedrick junior high thinclads will contend in seven track meets this season and eight have been arranged for McLoughlin cindermen.

The season began last Friday with the junior relays and activity this week is billed for Thursday with Hedrick ninth graders entertaining Ashland at the senior high school at 3 p.m. and McLoughlin seventh, eighth and ninth grades going to Grants Pass for 3:30 p.m. contention. Central Point and Crater will have a squad at Grants Pass.

Seventh and eighth graders of McLoughlin and Hedrick will tangle with each other in a triangular meet on April 27 which includes Ashland. The ninth grades of the two schools will compete in the freshman district meet on May 11.

SCHEDULE:

April 12—Ashland and Medford ninth grades here; McLoughlin and Central Point and Crater seventh, eighth and ninth at Grants Pass.

April 20—Grants Pass and Hedrick seventh, eighth and ninth here.

April 21—McLoughlin and Crater ninth at Central Point.

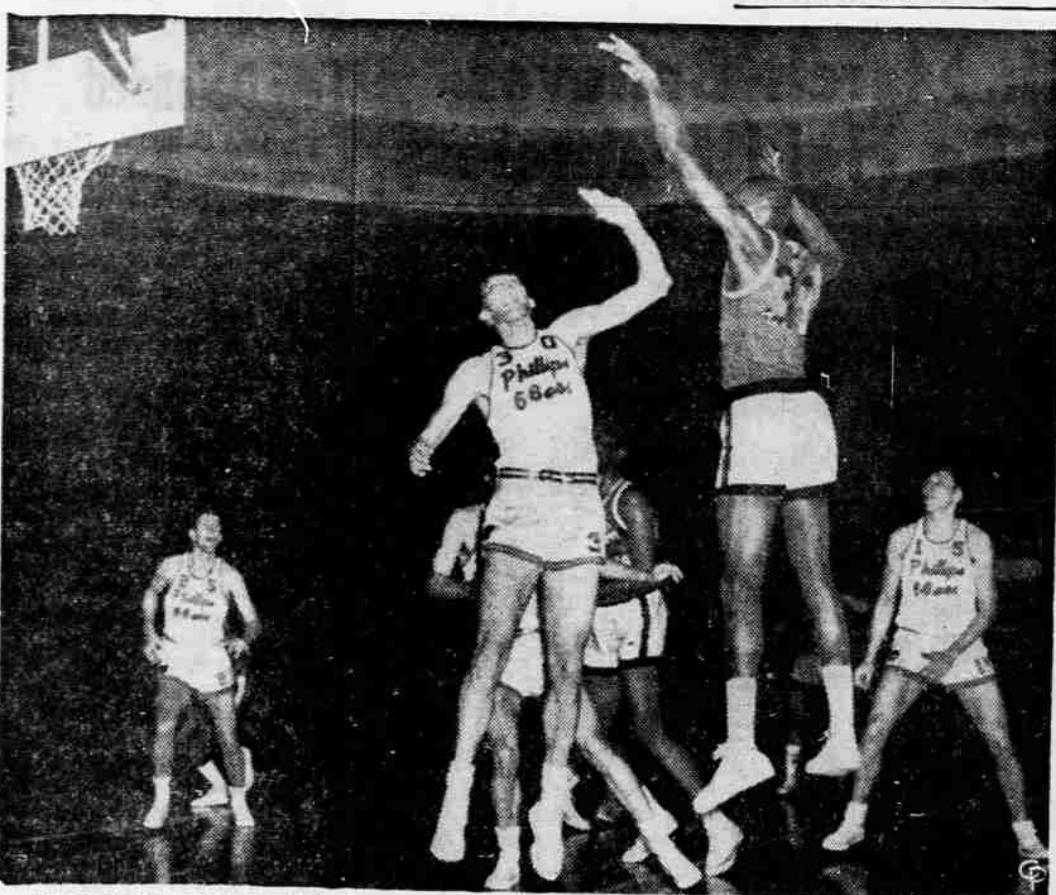

April 27—Ashland, McLoughlin and Hedrick seventh and eighth here; Hedrick ninth at Eagle Point; McLoughlin Crater and Ashland ninth at Ashland.

May 4—Central Point and Crater and Hedrick seventh, eighth and ninth here.

May 5—McLoughlin and Klamath Falls ninth here.

May 11—Foothill district meet here; McLoughlin seventh and eighth at Central Point.

Dead line Sunday Classified is at noon Saturday; 10 a.m. Monday for Monday; other days 5:30 previous day.

STARRING IN DEFEAT, Bill Russell (31) is scoring as Chuck Darling (30), Phillips Oilers, tries to stop shot. Oilers beat College All Stars to win U. S. Olympic team trials at Kansas City. Others are James Walsh (25) and Robert Jeangerard (15). (International)

Chene to Defend Wrestling Title Against Montana

Grants Pass—Larry Chene, the ultra popular coast junior Heavy wrestling champ, will defend his belt against the challenge of rough and rugged Bull Montana this Wednesday at the Josephine county fairgrounds arena.

Montana refused to appear unless the title was up so Matchmaker Elton Owen had to put up a sizeable guarantee to get Chene to put up the belt.

These two matadors are no strangers to each other having met each other before in a boxing match and a couple of wrestling matches here.

Chene defeated Montana on a close decision in Portland to annex the title which was vacated by the great Pepper Gomez more than a year ago. Larry proved that he had the heart of a lion last week when he was battered into a bloody mess by Jack O'Reilly in the second fall and then came back to do some battering of his own and win the match.

Bull Montana, is considered to be the roughest guy to ever hit this part of the country.

The semi-final will match fast-moving and popular Bill Fletcher against the nasty Jack O'Reilly. Fletcher went to a draw with the favored Freeman last week. He will have to be at his best to beat the arrogant Australian.

Canadiens Hope To Get Stanley Cup From Detroit

Montreal—(U.P.)—The Montreal Canadiens will seek to smash hockey's greatest dynasty, the Detroit Red Wings, when the two clubs meet tonight in the fifth game of the Stanley Cup finals.

The Canadiens, who already ended the Red Wings' seven-year reign as champions of the National Hockey league, hoped to complete the fall of the Detroit hockey empire by dethroning the defending Stanley Cup champions. And few outside the Red Wings' own camp figure the Wings can hold off the powerful Canadiens.

The Canadiens, pointing toward their sixth cup title, held a comfortable 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven series with the fifth game scheduled tonight on their own Forum ice. The Wings won only one game here all season and haven't won a playoff game here since April 10, 1954.

State Boxers Win in AAU

Boston—(U.P.)—A contingent of Oregon boxers came through the first round with flying colors in the 68th annual national AAU boxing championships at Boston Garden last night.

Louis Johnson, Tommy Thomas and Phil Moyer of Portland all chalked up decisions in the first round action yesterday while the fourth member of the Oregon squad picked after the Northwest Golden Gloves championships in Portland a month ago, Denny Moyer, drew a bye yesterday.

First round results:

119 pound class—Louis Johnson, Portland dec. Lionel Rivera, Honolulu, Hawaii.

139 pound class—Tommy Thomas, Portland dec. Tarance Smith, Seattle air force.

156 pound class—Phil Moyer, Portland dec. Jerry Wilson, Spokane, Wash.

Dead line Sunday Classified is at noon Saturday; 10 a.m. Monday for Monday; other days 5:30 previous day.

Archie Moore Nampa H. Coach Takes Idaho Job

Richmond, Calif.—(U.P.)—Archie Moore swings into his fifth non-title bout since Rocky Marciano knocked him out last September when he meets Willie Bean of Los Angeles tonight in a 10-round contest at the local auditorium.

Moore, trying to lose several rolls of fat before he defends his world light heavyweight championship against Yolane Pompey in London next June, probably will weigh 191 for this one to Bean's 210.

Bean not only is the heaviest fighter Moore has fought in his tuneup series but also the hardest hitting. Although his record indicates he is over the hill, Bean still has a hard right hand punch. He also has been around since 1946.

A large crowd is expected to watch the highly-favored Moore square off with Bean. Those who are upset minded recall that Moore was similarly favored in this area eight years ago and ran into a one round knockout by Leonard Morrow.

This is Moore's last fight in California. His next bouts are scheduled for Seattle and then Salt Lake as he heads for the dock.

Pendleton Country Club Building New Course

Pendleton—(U.P.)—The Pendleton Open, one of the favorite golf tournaments in the state since it was started in 1947, will take a two year leave of absence. The Pendleton Country Club is building a new course and officials plan to resume the tourney in two years on the new course.

McIntyre Subdues 3rd Opponent Spring Handicap Title Defense

Charles McIntyre this week faces his third foe in his effort for successful defense of his 1955 spring handicap golf tournament crown.

He'll take on Del Berg in the fourth round of contention. McIntyre defeated Ted Anderson 3 and 2 in the third round of the current tourney. The round was completed Sunday. Berg advanced by beating Bob Voegtly 2 up.

Ed Hall the qualifying medalist bowed out of the championship flight last week. He has moved to Portland and was unable to be here to compete. H. E. Nulton took a default win from Hall, who was dropped to the first flight. Nulton's foe this week will be Larry Butler who had to go 19 holes to get by Bud Judy.

Clayton Lewis was another who had to go an extra hole. He edged Kent Blackhurst.

Fourth round matches must be completed by next Sunday evening. This week's championship flight losers all fell into the first flight while losers in the second and third flights were eliminated from the tourney.

Millette Leads

Harry Millette with 75-71—146 heads the list of those who had qualified through Sunday for the match this week end with the University of Oregon team here. George Harrington carded 72-78—150 and Dr. D. C. Boals recorded 79-73—152. Fourth on the list was Bill Hartmen with 73-80—153.

Other scores were Bob Rasmussen 83-75—158; Lee Flink 81-78—159; Ivan Harrington 76-83—159; Alan Holmes 81-79—160; Del Berg 82-79—161; Clay-

Babe Zaharias Resting Well In Texas Hospital

Galveston, Tex.—(U.P.)—Babe Zaharias was resting well at John Sealy hospital today after a new pain in her left side caused her husband to say the famed woman athlete was "not in good condition."

New tests and x-rays have been made of the affected area, but no results have been announced yet, Zaharias said.

Mrs. Zaharias, who is fighting for her life in a battle with cancer, has had major surgery for the disease twice in the past two years. She never completely recovered from her last bout with the disease.
