Dodgers, Yanks Pick Of UP Forecaster in Major League Chase

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor
New York—(U.P.)—The Dodgers and the Yankees. That's this baseball observer's selections for the coming season, just as they were last spring.

Here are the top to bottom picks in both leagues, based on six weeks of covering the spring training camps:

Nat'l League	Amer. League
1—Brooklyn	1—New York
2—Milwaukee	2—Boston
3—St. Louis	3—Chicago
4—Cincinnati	4—Cleveland
5—Phila.	5—Detroit
6—New York	6—Kansas City
7—Chicago	7—Washington
8—Pittsburgh	8—Baltimore

Although the Dodgers may have pitching problems, with Johnny Podres in the Navy and Billy Loes and Karl Spooner nursing the same arm ailments which plagued them last season, they appear to be the class of the field. They have the best defensive team in the league, the strongest bench, and more than enough hitting.

The Braves' hopes were high until Gene Conley, the key man on their pitching staff, came up with his chronic back ailment again. Without a healthy Conley, Milwaukee doesn't figure to go all the way, for no matter how good a club is, it can't afford to lose its No. 1 stopper.

Under a new manager, Freddie Hutchinson, who has instilled a new spirit among the players, the Cardinals promise to be the surprise club of the lot. Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell is back out of the Army, and he may give the mound corps the shot in the arm it needed so badly in 1955.

Redlegs Need Pitching
Cincinnati, like St. Louis, also has pitching problems. The Redlegs could well be the powerhouse of the league, but their defense does not match their hitting and they could fall below par at third base, left field and catching.

Outside of Robin Roberts, who is as good as they come, Phillies also lack pitching. They lack power, too, although they have the league's leading hitter in Richie Ashburn. The Giants, despite the brilliant Willie Mays, don't figure and neither do the Cubs and Pirates.

The other seven American League managers agree that Casey Stengel of the Yankees has the "best and most talent." Stengel doesn't know who his leftfielder is going to be or what four players will make up the infield, but the other managers would like to have the same problems. Stengel has the men who can do the job—it's just a matter of picking the starters.

Cleveland appears to have lost too much power when it gave up Larry Doby to the White Sox for Chico Carrasquel and Jim Busby and it needs plenty of power to back up its pitching, for its infield is shoddy defensively.

Yanks Fear Bosox
The Red Sox are the team Stengel fears most. Boston's only problem appears to be the infield, which has been poor defensively. But Mickey Vernon should help at first and if two rookies, shortstop Don Buddin and third baseman Frank Malzone, come through, that infield weakness will be plugged.

The White Sox are likely to

The Boston Red Sox are finally squared away today for the opening of the American League pennant chase: Ted Williams has found the home run range and is stepping up his training campaign.

The 37-year-old, $100,000-a-year outfielder blasted his first homer of the Grapefruit League season Tuesday and Boston enthusiasts considered it no coincidence that the Red Sox crushed the Philadelphia Phillies, 21-1, at Greenville, S. C.

In addition to Williams' three-run homer, Jackie Jensen, Faye Thorneberry, Jimmy Piersall and Frank Mazone walloped round-trippers in a 24-hit attack that backed four-hit pitching by Mel Parnell and Frank Baumann.

Catcher Joe Ginsberg hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning to give the Kansas City Athletics a 4-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

At Knoxville, Tenn., the Washington Senators gained a 4-4 split in their spring series with the Cincinnati Redlegs when they pounded out a 9-8 verdict.

In the only other game played, the New York Yankees got eight-hit pitching from Whitey Ford and Bob Grim to beat Dallas of the Texas League, 6-3.

COACH SELECTED
Oswego, N.Y.—(U.P.)—Archie Oldham has been named head basketball coach at New York Teachers college here. He previously served as assistant varsity and head freshman basketball coach at Columbia university where he was completing work on his master's degree.

COLD HALTS CARD
New York—(U.P.)—The entire Thursday night boxing card at sunnyside gardens has been postponed until April 19 because of a similar post at Beaverton. Rich welterweight Frank Ippolito of New York, one of the main-event principals, has a cold. Ippolito was scheduled to meet Itzy Wallach, also of New York.

McMinnville—(U.P.)—Eldore Baish, Loyal Rich and Ken Rogers have been named to fill head coaching vacancies at McMinnville high school. All three were members of the staff before moving up to the head coaching jobs.

Baish can take over as head basketball mentor, succeeding Ted Wilson who resigned to take a similar post at Beaverton. Rich will assume the duties as head baseball coach, a post that Wilson also held. Rogers was named to the wrestling coaching spot at the school.

Hockey Loop Title Taken By Montreal

Montreal—(U.P.)—Montreal is the new monarch of hockey, and jubilant Canadian officials and fans think it will be a long, long rein.

The Canadians ended the two-year rule of the Detroit Red Wings Tuesday night when a 3-1 triumph at the forum gave Montreal the best-of-seven final round of the Stanley Cup playoffs, four games to one.

The colorful flying Frenchmen delighted a crowd of 14,152 with the victory, more than a month after they interrupted the Red Wings National Hockey League string of seven straight championships.

Leading the Canadiens to victory after victory all through the season and then rising to great heights in playoffs, Jean Beliveau clearly stamped himself as one of the great players of modern times. The big, stylish center scored Montreal's first goal Tuesday night to wind up a brilliant third season with 59 goals—47 in the regular season and 12 in 10 playoff games.

Maurice Richard added the second and winning goal while Marcel Pronovost of Detroit was sitting out a tripping penalty late in the second period.

Bernie (Boom-Boom) Goeffron blinked the light with Montreal's third and insurance tally, banging in Beliveau's rebound.

Baron Skaters Favored In Calder Cup Tangle
Cleveland—(U.P.)—The American Hockey League's Calder Cup final playoff series between the Providence Reds and the Cleveland Barons resumes after a two-day respite today with the Barons favored to gain their first victory after two straight losses.

The Reds, regular season champions, had very little trouble subduing the Barons in the first two games of the best-of-seven series on Providence ice. They downed Cleveland, 6-1, on Friday night, and 7-2, on Sunday.

BLUEPRINTS SATISFY
New York—(U.P.)—New York Giants President Horace Stoneham expressed satisfaction today in blueprints outlined by civic officials for a 110,000 seat municipal stadium which would be made available to the baseball team. The proposed new structure is expected to cost $20 million.

ALL-TIME MARK
San Bruno, Calif.—(U.P.)—Trainer Noble Threewit saddled his eighth straight winner at Tanforan Tuesday for what is believed to be an all-time record for consecutive wins for a trainer. The string started on Thursday and a theoretical $2 parlay on the eight winners would have paid $1,527,679.45. The muskrat is not a rat. He is an amphibious rodent and should be called a "musquash."

WHAT MAKES "THE ROCKET" ROCKET?

Here's why the engine that started the high-compression era still tops the field today!

THE ROCKET BROUGHT HIGH-COMPRESSION performance to motoring . . . set the standards . . . broke the records.

You'll rarely use the full 230+ horsepower under the hood. But you'll go for the Rocket's high torque—the force that makes the wheels go 'round. Even at medium speeds, your toe can call a hefty 340 pound-feet of torque into play—to move you away from a light or pass by any emergency. Add Jetaway Hydra-Matic* and you meet Rocket action at its smoothest.

THERE'S AN EFFORTLESS SMOOTHNESS that tells you this one is a masterpiece of balance and precision. What's more, this power plant's big-bore, short-stroke design means shorter piston travel for less friction, wear and longer life.

1240 h.p. and 350 lb.-ft. of torque in Super 88 and Ninety-Eight models.
*Standard on Series Ninety-Eight; optional at extra cost on all other series.
