

Ashland Man Cellist for Orchestra

Bernard Windt, cellist with the Philharmonic Society of Southern Oregon, has had many years of experience as a member of symphony orchestras. Mr. Windt will be in the cello section when the orchestra gives its final concert of the season Sunday, April 15, at 3 p. m. in Medford Senior High school auditorium. Richard D. Werner will conduct.

Tickets are on sale at the Music Mart and Puruckers, or may be obtained from members of the Philharmonic guild.

Mr. Windt, who is now supervisor of music for the Ashland schools and director of music for the Oregon Shakespearean festival, played with six symphony orchestras in eastern states before coming to Oregon. He was with the Kingston Symphony orchestra in Kingston, Pa., for four seasons, with the Wilkes-Barre Symphony orchestra in Pennsylvania for two seasons, and played another two seasons with the Cornell University orchestra. In addition Mr. Windt has been first cellist with three eastern orchestras, the Birmingham Symphony orchestra, the Olean Symphony orchestra and the Dutchess County Philharmonic orchestra. He has four seasons with each of the last orchestras.

Mr. Windt holds a master's degree from Ithaca college, New York, and did further graduate study at Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y., and at the University of Ann Arbor, Michigan.

The musician began his teaching career as instructor of instrumental music in the public schools of Endicott, N. Y., was director of music for the public schools of Coudersport, Pa., and directed the high school orchestra, band and chorus. He organized and directed the first Potter County Music festival and served as director of the Pennsylvania Music and Forensic League. Later he was director of music for the school in Wellsville, N. Y., and of Rhinebeck, N. Y.

Spring Operetta Preview Planned For Lincoln PTA

An exhibition of square dancing and tumbling and a preview of the spring operetta will be presented by fifth and sixth grade students at a Lincoln Parent-Teacher association meeting to be held Friday, April 13. After open house from 7:30 p. m. until 8, the children will present the program. The operetta, "Roaring 20's," is directed by Mrs. Dean Hohensee and the square dancing and tumbling by Morris Jimenez.

Following the program the business meeting will be held, with an explanation of the way the annual summer roundup for children starting to school in September, will be handled this year.

Before and after the meeting candy will be sold by the Girl Scouts of Lincoln neighborhood, to help with the expenses of a court of awards dinner to be held April 27.

Mothers of children in the first grade will serve refreshments after the meeting. A nursery is provided for those with small children.

Grace Kelly Appears Serene As Wedding Day Approaches

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY United Press Correspondent

Aboard the SS Constitution, En Route to Monaco — (UP) Grace Kelly began her last full day at sea today before her reunion Thursday morning with Prince Rainier III.

Members of the wedding party were appearing a bit nervous but the serenity that carried Grace to stardom in Hollywood was very much in evidence. She was as calm as the blue Mediterranean.

Final plans for debarkation of the Kelly wedding party still depended on the weather but it was generally believed the Constitution would arrive in Cannes at 7:30 Thursday morning and Monaco an hour and a half later.

Rainier is to sail out aboard his yacht, the Deo Juvante II, to pick up his bride-to-be and take her ashore. He will move

Party Spoiled Because Prince Won't Dance

Monte Carlo — (UP) — Prince Rainier III's bashfulness about dancing in public with his slightly taller bride threatened today to turn a fabulous pre-wedding party for them into a flop.

The 33-year-old ruler got stage fright when he discovered he was expected to open the dancing at the $100,000 party Monte Carlo is staging for them April 15.

Prince Rainier, very shy and acutely aware that Grace Kelly is a trifle taller than he, thought about waltzing with the beautiful actress while the rest of the guests watched.

Nothing doing, he said. And since he is absolute ruler here, what he says goes.

It is royal protocol at the sporting club putting on the party that if the sovereign does not open the dancing, no one dances.

It means a sit-down party for the 240 guests, the cream of those invited to the wedding from five continents.

It never occurred to the club that Prince Rainier might refuse, so it had arranged for four bands to produce all types of dance music from Viennese waltzes to mambo and jive.

The beats of Stan Rubin and his Tigertown. Five from the United States easily might tempt American guests if they were not aware of the protocol restriction, so the club is going to obstruct the floor with potted plants.

First Look at Europe

Grace got her first new look at Europe late Tuesday when the Constitution pulled into Algieras, Spain, across the bay from the Rock of Gibraltar.

She was in her room taking a bath when a tender pulled alongside the liner with newsmen but was able to scramble into a bare-topped evening dress to pose for photographers once language barriers were overcome.

Fifteen male reporters and photographers clambered aboard the Constitution and rushed onto the main deck asking to see Miss Kelly. Most of the men spoke only Spanish and confusion reigned until television star Jinx Falkenburg began interpreting.

All but five of the newsmen and photographers were sent ashore and Grace's father, John B. Kelly Sr., sent for his daughter. He had tried and failed to explain in sign language she was taking a bath.

Floor-Length Gown

Grace appeared in a floor-length red and white printed satin evening dress with a panel of red satin at the back to form a short train. Only shoestring-width straps covered her shoulders.

"Very interesting. Very charming," murmured Jose Soriano, the Mayor of Algieras who also had come aboard the liner. He bowed formally and said in English, "We wish you much happiness and good luck in your marriage."

She posed for several pictures and then moved gracefully out of camera range and went on to a party given by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown of Pittsburgh, two of her wedding guests.

She was so entranced with her view of Spain and the gaily waving men and women on shore she said she would try to get the prince to bring her to Spain on their honeymoon.

Women Organize New Fellowship

Prospect—Women of Cascade Gorge Christian church recently organized a Christian Women's fellowship during a meeting in the home of Mrs. Dorlan Woods.

Officers elected were Mrs. T. C. Cunningham, president; Mrs. Wayne Griffith, vice-president; Mrs. Woods, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Harold Anthony, social chairman.

The group sponsored a fellowship dinner Sunday, April 8, at 12:30 p. m. in Prospect.

Republicans Plan Meeting Monday

Jackson County Republican Women's club will hold a luncheon meeting Monday, April 16, at 12 o'clock at the Medford YMCA.

County Republican candidates will be introduced during the program.

The public is invited, and reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Roy V. Rickard, 2-2578.

Mix up a big batch of dough for chocolate walnut refrigerator cookies. Shape into 6-inch rolls, wrap for freezing and freeze. Anytime later when you want cookies, simply slice a roll. In 10 minutes you can have 24 fresh from the oven, crisp crunchy chocolate walnut cookies.

Junior Bethel Night Observed

Shady Cove — Junior Bethel night was observed April 5 by Bethel 56, Job's Daughters of Shady Cove. Members of the junior bethel taking part were chaplain, Justine Bringolf; treasurer, Jacqueline Hume; librarian, Carole Smith; messengers, Beverly Click, Diane Allen and Linda Eccleston; senior custodian, Eda Larson; junior custodian, Patricia Goode; musician, Sandy Caddwell; records, Frances Johnson; inner guard, Josephine Hume; and outer guard, Loretta Rone.

Final arrangements were made for representation at the grand session in Eugene, April 12-14, and Phyllis Briggs and

Susan Chubb were introduced as delegates.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Smith and daughter Carole, Mrs. J. Taylor and daughter, and Mrs. Facey and daughter, Judy.
