Seniors Invited To Event Planned By Mothers' Club

High school seniors planning to attend the University of Oregon this coming fall and their parents are especially invited to attend a program set for Friday, April 13, in Medford Senior High school cafeteria.

The program is being sponsored by the local unit of the University of Oregon Mothers' club as a benefit for the scholarship fund.

Speaker will be Ray Hawk, director of student affairs at the university. He will discuss sorority and fraternities, other student activities and campus life in general.

Entertainment will be provided by Douglas Wasden, Griffin Creek school student, who will play sousaphone solos accompanied by Stephen Whipple.

It is pointed out that last year 24 freshmen students were aided by the scholarship fund of the state mothers' club. At Friday night's meeting a collection will be taken for the fund.

Refreshments will be served without charge.

Master Points Won by Players At Camp White

Camp White—Bridge players who took part in the last session of Camp White Bridge club were awarded master points for match play in two sessions.

Two couples tied for first place in the north-south position of Section 1. These were Mrs. Richard Milestone and Mrs. Roy Pruitt, and Dr. and Mrs. George Dean, both couples scoring 111½ points. Third went to the Jack Loves with 103½ points, and fourth to Mrs. C. E. Kunz and her partner, T. J. Fuson, for 99 points.

East-west winners in this section were Mike Dillon and John Peterson, first, 100 points; the Don Revermans, second, 93 points; Mrs. William Isaacs and Berg Marten, tied for third and fourth with Mrs. Berg Marten and Mrs. Jack Mitchell.

North-south winners for the second section were Mrs. Frank Baker and Bill Hickey, first, 99½; William Isaacs and John Solheim, second, 88½ points; Mr. and Mrs. George Choate, third, 85; the B. L. Sandersons, fourth, 84½ points.

East-west winners for this section were Mrs. Fuson and Ray Wise, first, 100; Mrs. R. J. Conroy and Mrs. W. W. Stevenson, second, 96½; Mrs. Josephine Clark and Mrs. M. Hendryx, third, 91; the Howard Boyds, fourth, 88½.

Prizes furnished by the American Legion auxiliary of Medford were awarded to veterans holding high scores for March. John Solheim took first, T. Randall, second, and Mr. Dillon, third.

Mrs. Yvonne Dalen and Mrs. Isaacs took charge of refreshments.

Ballet Troupe Arrives Today

San Francisco ballet troupe members are arriving today to present two performances in the valley. The first will be today at 8:30 p.m., in Ashland High school gymnasium. Tickets will be available at the ticket window there. The other performance will be Friday, April 13 at 8:30 p.m. in Medford at Hedrick Junior high school.

With the troupe is their director, Lew Christensen, also a well-known choreographer of American ballet.

The Ashland program includes "Co. Amore," "The Tarot," and "Jinx."

Reservations for the Medford performance can be made by telephoning Swem's Book and Gift shop, Hudson's pharmacy or Purucker's Piano house.

Prince Rainier, Grace Kelly Reunited Aboard Royal Yacht

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
Monte Carlo — (U.P.) — Prince Rainier III and Grace Kelly, his future princess, were reunited today aboard his yacht.

The Prince sailed out alone into the blue Mediterranean to welcome the blonde movie actress to the principality she will rule with him as "her serene highness" after their marriage next week.

Rainier nervously paced the deck and smoked one cigarette after another as the trim yacht Deo Juvene, knifed its way to the big liner Constitution that had brought Miss Kelly from the United States.

Thousands of tourists, newsmen and Monegasques lined the docks to witness the joyful reunion. Other thousands of Miss Kelly's future subjects watched from a natural grandstand—the curving principality which forms an arc around the harbor.

Prince Beams
The yacht pulled alongside the luxury liner at 10:10 a.m. and Miss Kelly and her bridesmaids walked down the gangplank to greet the beaming prince.

He took Grace in his arms and they hugged each other.

A few minutes later the Constitution, the first ocean liner to stop in Monaco, pulled up its gangplank and began to move away.

All the passengers remaining on the liner stood at the rail whistling and cheering wildly. The Constitution's deep-throated whistle sounded repeatedly as the ship moved out of Hercules Bay and the two lovers headed toward their future home.

Miss Kelly was wearing the clothes she had laid out for the occasion Wednesday—a navy blue felt sheath dress with a scoop neck and a princess coat of navy blue faille lined with white. With it she wore a wide-brimmed white organdy and swiss lace hat.

Wears Dark Blue Suit
The Prince decided at the last minute not to wear the uniform of an admiral as he had planned. He wore instead a dark blue suit and a light blue shirt and tie.

Helicopters and a seaplane circled slowly overhead with photographers and radio reporters broadcasting the event.

Monte Carlo and the other two cities of the tiny principality of Monaco were decorated gaily for Miss Kelly's arrival. Candy striped sentry boxes stood on each side of the great gate leading to the palace.

The last flag poles bearing American and Monaco flags went up just as the couple were reunited in the harbor.

Woman Works Out Method Of Tube-Feeding for Pilots

By PATRICIA WIGGINS

Washington — (U.P.) — The culinary whiz who fed 60,000 men a day for eight weeks on the Southampton docks before D-Day now is working on a new food gimmick for jet pilots.

Mrs. Edythe Robertson, chief of the Air Force Feeding Service Section, is advocating a toothpaste-tube type of feeding arrangement for the pilots who fly so high they have to wear oxygen masks and are too busy to monkey with food off when they're low enough to take off the mask.

Inside the tube—now being tested at Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio—will be concentrated solid foods: fit the tube into a small aperture in the oxygen mask, squeeze and out comes a full-course meal.

Talking to a reporter at the Pentagon, attractive Mrs. Robertson, who also was the first WAC at West Point, said that tube feeding of solid foods—like the use of tubes now for liquid pilot diets—is only the latest attempt to iron out dietary bugs that have developed in the supersonic aircraft.

She also is responsible for the pre-cooked dinner, which has shown up for civilians as TV dinners, and "bite-sized meals" for the men who fly Uncle Sam's airplanes.

Her pre-cooked dinner has been approved for presidential air-travel—first by President Harry S. Truman and now aboard the Columbine for President Eisenhower.

The pre-cooked dinner consists of 90 per cent cooked meat, vegetables and potatoes on an aluminum tray that takes 20 minutes to re-heat. Mrs. Robertson helped develop a special B-4 oven—suitcase size—for cooking it in tight plane quarters.

Mrs. Robertson began "cooking" for the military in 1942 when she left General Electric's home economists staff.

Farewell Party Honors Mrs. Lane

Shady Cove—A farewell party honoring Mrs. Ralph Lane was given the evening of April 7 by members of St. Martin's guild, Shady Cove. It was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ranald Axtell, Folding Hills ranch.

Attending were the Lanes, Mrs. Ray Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Ricco Bertolio and son, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown and daughter, all Shady Cove; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ganohn, Mr. and Mrs. A. Mychelbye, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hume, Mr. and Mrs. Axtell, Trail, and the Rev. Robert Greene, Prospect.

A gift was presented to the honored guest, and refreshments were served by the guild.
