Mr. Williams died April 12 in Ashland, where he had lived for 16 years. He was born July 25, 1900, in Missouri. An employee of Southern Pacific company, he retired in 1948 due to ill health. He worked with the line from Ashland to Grants Pass.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth; four children, Mrs. Isabelle Youcum, Tacoma; Mrs. Mildred Willis, Klamath Falls; Mrs. Donna Newman, Medford; and Donald Williams, Ashland; seven grandchildren; and two sisters, Mrs. Gale Larimore, Klamath Falls, and Mrs. William Theis, Fairbanks, Alaska.

Bend Dogs Remain In Pound for Food
Bend—(U.P.)—Twelve dogs had a chance for freedom here this week, but all but three preferred to stay behind for the food, little knowing that they might be approaching their last meal.

The lock to the city's dog pound became undone, but only three of the dogs took off. When Robert Cook, city dog warden, reached the pound, he found nine of the dogs waiting near the building. They all followed Cook into the pound—for breakfast.

Cook pointed out that dogs not reclaimed following advertisement are killed.

Russia Pays Tribute To Franklin Roosevelt

London—(U.P.)—Russia paid tribute to Franklin D. Roosevelt on the 11th anniversary of the former U.S. president's death Thursday for advocating a policy of "peaceful coexistence."

A Moscow radio broadcast said Roosevelt "was one of the first politicians in the U.S.A. to believe in the possible need for coexistence and cooperation between the lands of capitalism and socialism."

Five Valley People Visit Training Base

Five Rogue valley residents are expected to return from Fort Ord, Calif., tomorrow after a tour of installations and observing training under the new six-month active duty training period for reserves.

Those from Jackson county who are touring the base are Mr. and Mrs. William Foley, route 1, box 325, Central Point, whose son, Winston B. Foley, is training there; Alex McDonald, dean of boys at Medford High school; Jennings Pierce, public relations representative; and the Rev. George Bolster, representing the Ministerial association.

They were accompanied by Col. Vernon M. Smith, of the Oregon Military district, Vancouver barracks, Wash.

Neutralists Help Reds, Filipino Official Says

Manila, P.I.—(U.P.)—Defense Secretary Eugenio Balao charged today that neutralist nations are helping the Communists in their campaign to dominate the world.

"It has been our observation that more often than not the peoples of the so-called neutralist persuasion around us have shown a tendency to render assistance to the Communist regime," he said.
