

French Effort for Big Three Meeting Received Coldly

Washington—(U.P.)—The United States is cool to renewed French efforts to get a formal Big Three foreign ministers meeting on the Middle East soon, informed sources said today.

They explained that the United States does not want the three powers to appear to be preparing to act outside the United Nations. Such a move could seriously jeopardize the current Palestine peace mission of the U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

It was revealed Thursday in Augusta, Ga., where President Eisenhower is vacationing, that the President only last Monday sent messages to leaders of Egypt and Israel "appealing" for their cooperation with Hammarskjöld.

New Pressure Applied

France started pressing for the three-nation meeting during last month's Southeast Asia Treaty conference in Pakistan. Ambassador Maurice Couve de Murville applied new pressure Wednesday in a hush-hush huddle with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

State Department officials said the "matter is under consideration but there is nothing firm."

They said, however, that Dulles, British Foreign Minister Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French foreign minister Christian Pineau probably will hold an informal exchange of views on the Arab-Israeli dispute early in May in connection with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council meeting in Paris. But officials emphasized that this session probably will not be the formal, decision-making type meeting France desires.

Back Stairs: He Almost Hit 'Round Ball'

By MERRIMAN SMITH UP White House Writer

August, Ga.—(U.P.)—Backstairs at the golfing White House:

A member of President Eisenhower's party was about to tee off on the Armed Forces golf course here the other day. He reached in the pocket of his golf bag and pulled out the best looking ball, known to week-end golfers as a "round ball" because their everyday pellets usually are scarred up.

This man teed up his ball and was in his backswing when he stopped short and gasped, "M'gawd, I almost hit it."

He reached down reverently and retrieved the ball, substituting another for his tee shot. Why? The ball he was about to hit bore the imprint of "Mr. President."

Eisenhower autographs are relatively easy to come by, but a personal golf ball is another matter. Mr. Eisenhower permits no underling to pass out his personal golf balls as souvenirs. He does it himself.

The Bon Air hotel at Augusta where the White House staff bases has undergone new management—and a lot of improvement. The exterior of the hotel was painted recently and the hallways repapered.

And even though the temperature was in the 60s, the hotel management filled the front lawn swimming pool for the enjoyment that trails the President wherever he goes.

It is a public fact that the President is a most doting grandfather when it comes to his eight-year-old grandson, David. The chief executive hopes to see David as a scratch (no handicap) golfer some day.

But his preoccupation with David, according to close friends of the family, holds not the proverbial candle to the newest grandchild, infant Mary Jean, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower. In this case it is the President's wife who swoons when the baby coos.

As this close friend of the family said the other day, "If Barbara (John's wife) were not such a sensible young mother, Mamie would spoil the daylight out of the baby."

Mary Jean was born at Walter Reed hospital in Washington last December.

50 Explorer Scouts Expected at Confab

Approximately 50 Explorer Scouts of the Crater Lake area council are expected at the Southern Oregon college campus this afternoon for the "Citizens Now" conference, which will start at 4 p.m. and continue through Sunday.

Purpose of the conference is to point out to the Explorer Scouts their place in society and what they should do about it.

Cliff Hansen, scout executive for the Crater Lake area council and co-chairman of the conference, will speak on the purpose of the conference.

Other speakers will be Dr. Elmo Stevenson, president of southern Oregon and northern California Lutheran churches, "Citizens Now in the Community," and Elliot Becken, assistant superintendent of Medford schools, "The Final Challenge."

Bloodmobile Collects 105 Pints in Ashland

Ashland—Only 105 Ashland persons donated blood at Wednesday's visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile. The area fell 70 pints below the 175 quota.

Out of the 126 persons appearing, 21 were "rejects." A total of 69 had made appointments.

Medford's quota of 250 also was not met, with only 198 pints collected by the Bloodmobile Tuesday. A total of 223 persons appeared to donate, but 25 were rejected.

The blood was sent immediately in a refrigerated truck to the Portland center for blood typing and then processed for use.

Dixieland Band Flies To Monaco for Wedding

New York—(U.P.)—A dixieland band flew today to Monaco to play at two parties honoring Prince Rainier III and actress Grace Kelly.

Stan Rubin, a former Princeton university student who leads the "Tigertown Five" said the actress invited the band to play at a dance preceding the wedding and at a "gala international ball."

Dead line for Sunday Classified is at noon Saturday.

Generals and Servants Look Alike To Kelly

Monte Carlo, Monaco—(U.P.)—John B. Kelly Sr., father of princess-to-be Grace Kelly, observed Thursday after the first formal meal at Prince Rainier III's palace:

"The servants had as much gold braid you couldn't tell them from the generals."

And in addition, Bug-Geta Pellets go approximately four times farther than meal baits. The addition of Calcium Arsenate to the Metaldehyde makes this control even more efficient and faster.
