Mile Relay Mark Broken By Tornado; Cottage Grove Gains Mantle in Class A

Medford High school's whirlwind Black Tornado thunders stormed true to the form chart again at the University of Oregon in Eugene yesterday afternoon by recording another smashing victory in the annual Hayward relays.

Collecting two first places and setting one new standard for the colorful track and field carnival, the favored Tornado amassed 63 points to head a field of 22 schools in the metropolitan division. It was Medford's fourth straight win in the Hayward metro class and its 14th triumph in 17 times entered in the classic.

Grants Pass, a highly rated contender which nipped the Tornado last week in the Rogue relays, was 19 points behind with 44 points for second place. Beaverton was third with 31, Jefferson of Portland fourth with 29½ and South Salem fifth with 19½. Klamath was sixth with 17.

Groves Decisive
Cottage Grove scored a slightly decisive verdict in the Class A competition, rolling up 69 to 43 for second place. Redmond, Ashland tied for third with Bend. Each got 38. North Bend followed with 37½. Crater of Central Point was sixth with 31½. There were 11 entries.

Medford's crack mile relay crew of Pete Kershaw, Loren Christean, Wilcey Winchell and Mike Russell rambled to a new record of 3:30 in taking their event. The Tornado's other first was in the two-miler which Winchell, Les Linscheit, Bilbee Lane and Bill Richey ran in 8:24.4.

Placing in nine of the 12 events, Medford won five seconds, tied for another runner-up and got one fourth. Gary Lewis was second in the javelin and Lew Breazeale knotted for that spot in the pole vault. The other runners-up were in the shot put, broad jump, 440 and 880-yard relays. Medford was fourth in the high jump.

Pacquin Wins
Grants Pass nabbed two first places with Phil Pacquin going 12 feet 6 inches in the pole vault and the broad jump trio, Jim Cattanch, Pacquin and Chuck Weller, totaled 60-2½. The Cavemen also got seconds in the javelin and mile, thirds in the two-mile and shuttles and fifths in the 880, distance medley and high jump.

Pedro Colley, Klamath Falls, won the discus with 134 feet. Complete results of the meet were not available last night.

In Class A, Ashland won the 440 and 880-yard relays, was second in the distance medley, tied for second in the vault, was fourth in the discus, was fifth in the shot put and broad jump and sixth in the shuttle hurdles.

Crater took seconds in the javelin and discus, tied for second in the vault, nabbed thirds in the distance medley, the broad jump and the mile, was fifth in the two-mile and tied for fifth in the high jump. The Comets had a sixth in the 880 relay.

John Landy Speeds Plans For Journey

Melbourne, Australia — (U.P.) — John Landy, determined to become the first man to run a mile in less than four minutes in the United States, prepared to ask the Australian AAU to allow him to fly to America more than a week before his scheduled May 5 race at Los Angeles.

Landy, the 3:58 world record holder who has cracked the four-minute barrier four times, began speeding up his plans as soon as the rhubarb started by his acceptance of two U.S. invitations was settled. The fastest mile ever run in the U.S. is Wes Santee's 4:00.5 at the 1955 Texas relays.

"It appears now the trip is finally settled," Landy said. "I wouldn't have gone if there had been the slightest suggestion that my amateur status may have been endangered."

Landy, who had threatened to withdraw from the trip when reports from America said he might endanger his amateur status by making it, originally planned to arrive in California May 1.

Landy's acceptance of invitations to run in an open mile during the UCLA-Southern California dual meet at Los Angeles May 5 and in the West Coast relays as Fresno, Calif., May 12, had touched off an international sports mixup.

OSC Lashes Pilots 12-2

Corvallis — (U.P.) — Oregon State walloped Portland university, 12-2, in a 14-hit outburst here Friday in a non-conference baseball game.

The victory evened the score for the Beavers against the Pilots. The Portlanders downed Oregon State, 9-4, in Portland earlier this week.

Pitcher Dick Wilson gave up only six hits, all singles, in winning for Oregon State.

880 relay — Ashland (Stuart Baker, Jim Witt, Bob Davis, Dennis Lohman) first 1:37.7; Crater, sixth.
Distance medley — Ashland, second; Crater, third.
Broad jump relay — Crater, third 54-8½; Ashland, fifth 54¼.
Shuttle hurdle relay — Ashland, sixth.
Mile relay — Crater, third.
High jump relay — Crater and North Bend tied for fifth, 16.

Julius Boros Takes Place Beside Golfing Immortals

On a hot steamy Saturday in June of 1952, Julius Boros, the son of Hungarian immigrants, took his place beside such golfing immortals as Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen as he won the coveted National open championship of the United States.

This victory at the Northwood Country club in Dallas, Texas, convinced golfing fans that the solidly built Boros was on his way as a great golfer.

In the slightly more than three years since that muggy June 14, Jules has risen to the heights. In those four golfing years, he has twice won the official professional Golfers association money winning title and also has been named "Golfer of the Year" by the PGA.

Links fans of southern Oregon will have an opportunity to see Boros in action on Thursday, May 3. He will appear in a clinic and exhibition at Rogue Valley Country club. George S. May Co. and Jackson County Chamber of Commerce are sponsors.

Financial Success
The taciturn Boros has also turned golf into a financial success. In 1952, '53, '54 and '55, he has earned more than $122,000 in official winnings plus quite a few more dollars in various other capacities including his position as a leading member of the Wilson Sporting Goods Co. golf advisory staff.

Only a few skeptics called Boros' victory in 1952 a fluke. Seasoned tournament players and members of the fourth estate had predicted stardom for the former accountant who found he could make more money adding pars and birdies than monthly financial statements.

Boros turned professional in December of 1949 after a sparkling amateur career that saw him lead all qualifiers in the National Amateur trials in '49. He finished consistently in the money during 1950 and 1951 including a ninth place finish in the '50 Open and a tie for fourth in '51.

Reign of Julius
This set the stage for 1952 which will be remembered in the annals of American golf as the reign of Julius I.

After winning the Open, he defeated Cary Middlecoff in a thrill-packed play-off for the $25,000 top prize in the World Championship at Tam O'Shanter.

Thus, the steady-swinging Boros became top money winner of the year with $37,033 and also was named golfer of the year.

During 1953 and 1954, the stolid Boros continued his raid on golf tournament treasuries. He won the rich Ardmore (Okla.) open and also the Manakiki open in Cleveland during 1954 before breaking his leg in a fishing accident.

The broken bone kept Jules sidelined during the latter part of the 1954 golfing season and consequently he finished seventh among the leading money winners with $16,987.50.

He made his comeback in the Miami (Fla.) and Havana (Cuba) opens during December of '54, and finished in the money during both tournaments.

Boros continued his comeback by tying for second in the Bing

Rain Prevents Friday PCL Tilts

The Pacific Coast League today turned superstitious and postponed the old jinx of Friday the 13th.

The loop had been plagued by rainouts all during the usually profitable first week and hoped for more action on the diamond and in the cash register on Friday night, but all that turned up was rain.

All four games, scheduled to give variety to a free evening crowd, met the same fate—postponed, wet grounds.
