ments of PTA work.

In addition to the workshop on junior and senior high school service, there will be one for the units which are combinations of elementary and high school. There will be a total of 17 workshops and each will be given twice Tuesday afternoon and twice Wednesday afternoon, which will enable one delegate to cover most of the workshops to bring back information to her own unit chairman.

One of the main activities of the convention will be the Mothersingers concert, which is the coming together of Mothersingers from all over the state. The concert will be at the Eugene high school auditorium and will be under direction of Weston Brockway. Two local Mothersingers will participate in the concert, Mrs. Charles Bird and Mrs. Herb Sampert.

At the National Parents Teacher magazine luncheon to be held Wednesday, three local magazine chairmen will receive state awards for the most outstanding promotion and sales of any council and unit in the state. Projects Reported By Navy Mothers; Meeting Planned Rogue Valley Navy Mothers club reported last week on projects in which they participated and also plans for a meeting Tuesday, April 16 at 10 a. m., at the home of Mrs. Orval White, 1207 West Tenth street. A potluck noon luncheon will be served and table service will be required.

Projects enumerated include card parties, and rummage sales from which funds are derived to do welfare work.

A liberal donation was recently made to Navy Mothers club members at Corpus Christi, Tex., which will go toward building a "sailor boys' home away from home," patterned after two others in this country, one at Oakland, Calif., named "Blue Jacks Haven," and one in Pennsylvania named "Philadelphia Hostess House." These homes are equipped to maintain space to entertain mothers of boys who wish to visit their sons at the ports. Entertainment, food and lodgings are furnished.

Layettes are given to wives of local Navy men and aghaves are being sent to Oak Knoll hospital and clothing and money are given to the Navy chapel in Long Beach, Calif.

Card parties are held every month at Camp White in the theater room.

More members are needed to help with the welfare work and any person interested in this type of work is invited to join as an associate. Mothers, stepmothers, or mothers who have adopted boys who have served in the Navy forces or are now serving may join as an active member.

A national convention is held every two years. This year the convention will be held June 10 through 16 in New Orleans, La. The members have selected Mrs. James Wicker as delegate, and Mrs. Myrtle Coggins has been selected as alternate.

Hostesses were Mrs. Stanley Yoder, Mrs. Jay F. Grant and Mrs. Clarence Byrd.
