HOUSE BACKS IKE'S VETO

Democratic Motion To Override Fails To Win Support

Proposal Falls 74 Votes Short

Washington — (U.P.) — The House today upheld President Eisenhower's veto of the farm bill.

The controversial measure was killed when a Democratic motion to override the veto failed, as expected, to win two-thirds approval of the House. It takes a two-thirds vote of both the Senate and House to override a veto. Since the House failed to override, no Senate action was necessary.

211 Against Override
The roll call vote on the motion to override was 211 against overriding and 202 for overriding. This was 74 votes short of the necessary two-thirds to override.

Thus the motion to override failed to get even a majority vote, much less a two-thirds margin.

Last Wednesday the bill had won House approval 237 to 181. But some of the 48 Republicans who voted for it then decided today on the final showdown to back the President.

The action left in doubt what kind of new farm bill, if any Democrats would try to put through Congress.

Speaker Sam Rayburn told newsmen "something may be done." He declined to elaborate.

Says Soil Bank Dead
But Chairman Harold D. Cooley of the House Agriculture committee said President Eisenhower's renewed request for a billion dollar soil bank hasn't "a Chinaman's chance" of being enacted at this session of Congress.

It was included in the vetoed bill, which had called for restoring rigid high supports and other administration opposed price boosting features.

The Democrats, confident that the price-boosting measure is popular with many farm voters, wanted to show they did everything possible to enact it and that Republicans joined with the President in killing it.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told reporters that President Eisenhower's new soil bank proposal amounts to an offer of pre-election "advance payments" to farmers.

Election Bonus
"I shudder to think what charges Republicans would have made had a Democratic President offered to make an advance payment, ahead of election time, for services to be performed later," Johnson said.

Democrats conceded they would lose in their attempt to override the farm bill veto. But they were confident of making some election year hay in the farm belt, anyway.

Medford Council Asks for Creation of Church Zone

The Medford city council last night directed the city legal department to prepare an ordinance creating a zone for churches.

The action followed a public hearing in which objections were expressed to change of zone from single family (class IA) to multiple family (class IB) in Siskiyou Heights extension. The First Church of Christ, Scientist, had requested the change.

Objections centered on the church itself, but on disposition of property in the future. Several residents expressed concern that should some of the property eventually be sold, the zone

Top Soviet Leaders In London for Tour

London — (U.P.) — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev arrived in London today to begin a 10-day tour of Britain.

Anti-Communist Britons demonstrated in the city as the special train bearing the Soviet leaders reached Victoria station.

The Russians reached here from Portsmouth, the south coast port where they stepped ashore stiff and unsmiling to a coldly formal welcome.

A Soviet cruiser brought them to Britain. Protest demonstrations broke out even before they stepped ashore. These tended to mar the double-barreled "peace offensive" launched yesterday by Moscow with announcements of support for a U.N. settlement of the Palestine dispute and dissolution of the Cominform.

Carpenter Submits Resignation as Welfare Chairman

Alfred S. V. Carpenter, Old Stage rd., has submitted to Gov. Elmo Smith his resignation as chairman and as a member of the Jackson county public welfare commission.

He has been a member of the commission since it was established in February, 1933, and was named chairman two months after that, a position he has held since. At one time during the depression when personnel was short, he also served as secretary, he said.

Reasons Listed
Carpenter said this morning he had two reasons for resigning. One is the fact that he is away from the county for extended periods from time to time, and the other is that he is not in sympathy with the present policies of the state public welfare commission, which limit the freedom of action and authority of the local commissions.

The chairman indicated that the recent discharge of Mrs. Blanche Lyman, long-time administrator of the local department, happened during one of his trips. He previously has indicated his support of other members of the county commission in their protesting Mrs. Lyman's summary discharge.

A successor to Carpenter on the commission will be appointed by the governor.

Plywood Firm Sale Is Announced Here

Sale of Empire Plywood company, White City, to Carolina Pacific Plywood, Inc., was announced today by the company owners, Leonard G. and Vern C. Engwall.

They said Carolina Pacific will take over late this week or early next week, with B. D. Mitchell, president, as general manager.

About 40 men are employed by the firm, but the Engwalls said the new owners expect to enlarge the plant and manufacture sanded plywood. Sheathing plywood is now produced at the plant, which began operation last August.

Vern Engwall and his family, who reside at 7 Eastwood dr., plan to move to Portland. The Leonard Engwall family will remain in Medford at 2146 Hillcrest rd. for the present. All formerly lived in Eugene.

Amount involved in the sale was not disclosed, but it is known to be substantial.

President Outlines 8-Point Program For GOP 'Crusade'

General Terms for Party Platform

Washington — (U.P.) — The Republican Party went before the country today with an eight-point platform proposed by President Eisenhower to keynote the GOP "crusade" of 1956.

To Mr. Eisenhower the campaign was already on. He said the Republican campaign should be based on people and principles—equal rights for all people and no retreat from principle to compromise with expediency.

Spells Out Ideas
The President spelled out his platform ideas last night at a dinner closing a two-day Republican campaign strategy conference attended by 800 party leaders and members of Congress.

While avoiding such specifics as the farm issue and foreign policy, he presented in general terms the eight ideas which he predicted would provide the substance of the party platform to be adopted next August.

"The Republican platform will be a program of principle around which all Americans, Republicans, Independents and sound-thinking Democrats, can rally," he said. "We welcome them all."

Must Set Up No Walls
By his invitation to independents and Democrats to join the GOP in "an organized crusade," Mr. Eisenhower again sounded like the GOP standard bearer of 1952.

When he spoke of a campaign based on people, he said the GOP must set up "no walls of birth or creed or party."

In visualizing the party platform, the President said in part:

1. "The individual is of supreme importance . . . every American of every race and creed should enjoy equally the rights and privileges of free citizens in a free nation."
2. "The spirit of our people is the strength of our nation."
3. "America does not prosper unless all Americans prosper."
4. "Government must have a heart as well as a head . . . government should increase and strengthen personal and family security without impairing the self-respect, the initiative and the incentive of the individual to provide for his own."
5. "Courage in principle, cooperation in practice, makes freedom positive."
6. "The purpose of government is to serve, never to dominate."
7. "To stay free, we must stay strong."
8. "Under God, we espouse the cause of freedom and justice and peace for all peoples."

Government Sued In Polio Cases

Boise, Ida. — (U.P.) — Two Eastern Idaho families today filed damage suits against the government for alleged negligence which led to death and crippling of their children in last year's mass polio vaccination program in Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester V. Pierce, Pocatello, filed suit in U.S. District Court here for $150,000. They charged that their daughter, Susan Diane Pierce, died of polio April 27, 1955, nine days after she was inoculated with Salk vaccine from Cutter Laboratories.

Kenneth Turner, American Falls, asked $250,000 damages from the government in another action. He charged that his five-year-old son, Terry, was crippled by polio in both legs after close association with his brother, Melvin, who had been inoculated with the Cutter Salk vaccine April 19, 1955.

Both suits charged that government agencies were negligent in issuing licenses to Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif., for production of the vaccine. The suits charged the Cutter vaccine was "contaminated, live virus laden, defective, dangerous and unsafe."

Democrat Assured Of Lone Delegate For Convention

Governor Wins Popularity Contest

Newark, N.J. — (U.P.) — Gov. Robert B. Meyner won a near shutout victory over Sen. Estes Kefauver in the New Jersey primary race for 36 Democratic national convention votes, almost complete returns showed today.

With more than three-fourths of the votes counted, Kefauver was assured only of one delegate with a half vote at the Democratic National convention next August in Chicago. He had hoped to win eight to 10 votes.

Kefauver showed early strength in South Jersey in the paper ballot counties but it was not sufficient to offset the organizational turnout in populous Camden county. His supporters conceded their entire eight-vote slate of pledged delegates about midnight.

Berkeley, Calif. — (U.P.) — Sen. Estes Kefauver conceded today that his showing in the New Jersey primary "didn't help my campaign any" but the Democratic presidential hopeful said he was going to continue to campaign "as hard as I can."

In the presidential preference voting, Kefauver ran without opposition on the Democratic ballot and polled 104,474 votes, with 3830 of the state's 4160 election districts reported. Adlai E. Stevenson got 2850 write-in votes.

President Eisenhower, who defeated the late Sen. Robert A. Taft in a bitterly contested New Jersey presidential primary four years ago, was uncontested on the GOP ticket. He polled 310,382 votes, with 3830 election districts reported.

In the statewide race for convention delegates, Meyner's uncommitted slate defeated Kefauver by a vote of 162,166 to 68,517, with 3147 districts reported.

Regular organization Democrats termed the outcome a setback for Kefauver, who had campaigned strenuously in what added up to a popularity contest between him and Meyner.

He had accused the Democratic organization of seeking a so-called blank check from the voters with its unpledged delegation.

The family has requested that flowers be omitted at services. Perl Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Carlton, who lived in Medford since 1910, was born in Elizabeth, N.J., Sept. 8, 1875. He was graduated from Yale university in 1897.

Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Carlton will attend services here.

Steady Line Keeps Registrars Busy Here

Hundreds of county residents filed into the elections department in the courthouse yesterday to register to vote in the May 18 primary before last night's deadline.

Department workers said there were never less than 50 persons waiting in line from 5 p.m. until closing, and that voters streamed in to register all during the day.

When the courthouse doors were finally locked at 8 p.m., the line extended down the stairs from the second floor to the main entrance.

Election for Recall Of Talent Officials Appears As Certainty

Talent — An election for the recall of Talent Mayor Keith Thoreson and Councilmen R. C. Bradford, William Cooper and James Henry appeared certain today with the reported signing of a recall petition by more than 100 persons.

Fred Morris, one of the four leaders of the recall movement, said he understood that over 100 persons had signed. City Attorney Ben Lombard reported that the state elections department has set the required number of signatures at 84.

Hire New Marshal
The Talent city council last night hired the third city marshal in several weeks, M. W. Young, after marshal John Seymour, resigned to move to California.

Talent's troubles with marshals has kept the community stirred up since the recent dismissal of former marshal John Baldwin by the mayor and council. His removal was followed by demands for Thoreson's recall, along with those of the councilmen.

Those circulating the petitions, headed by F. C. Leaming, Ray Garland, Fred Morris and Bob Lowe, claim the council acted illegally and without regard for the good of the city.

Vows Exchanged In Ancient Throne Room of Castle

Rainier Keeps Regal Atmosphere

Monaco — (U.P.) — Grace Kelly murmured "oui" with tears in her eyes today and became the wife and princess of a monarch so shy he gave her his kingdom without a kiss.

In the ancient crimson Throne Room of a castle on the cliffs above the Mediterranean, she sat beside Prince Rainier III and gravely took her solemn civil vows of marriage under statutes of his state and tradition of his dynasty.

She blinked her shining eyes and clasped her hands while Judge Marcel Portanier said to her, "Mademoiselle Grace Patricia Kelly, do you take as your husband his serene highness, My Lord Prince Rainier III, here present."

Her chiseled chin tipped up and her murmured "oui" was a pledge from the heart. Bricklayer's Daughter
The judge turned then to Rainier whose fingers fidgeted tensely in his lap.

"May I, very respectfully, ask your serene highness if he agrees to take as his wife and legitimate spouse Mademoiselle Grace Patricia Kelly, here present?" "Oui," the Prince replied in a low but steady voice.

At that moment, the bricklayer's daughter from Philadelphia who became first lady of Hollywood ascended to Old World royalty with titled rank and realm.

"I pronounce your serene highness united by the bonds of marriage," said the judge in the first usage of Grace Kelly's royal title.

The newlyweds stole a shy glance at each other from the gilded chairs where they sat beside each other before the scarlet-canopied throne.

Pierce Resigns as Airport Manager

The resignation of Ralph Pierce as manager of the Medford airport was announced last night by City Manager Robert Duff. Pierce will devote his time to private business enterprises, Duff said.

No replacement has been selected. Duff said that under Pierce's management revenues at the airport have increased from $17,547 in 1952 to an estimated $33,000 this year. Revenue for the next fiscal year is expected to be $42,740.

Increases were due to rentals in the new terminal building, airline payments, restaurant income, miscellaneous concessions, and other fees.

Pierce has served since July 1, 1952, having come to Medford from the Los Angeles area.
