Norblad's Filing Declared Legal By Thornton

Salem—(U.P.)—Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton ruled today that Oregon Congressman Walter Norblad filed legally as a candidate for the Republican nomination for representative from the first district.

Norblad's right had been challenged by State Rep. Richard E. Groener, Milwaukie Democrat, who charged that Norblad received a refund of his first $100 filing fee when he switched from the governor's race to the congressional race.

Thornton based his conclusion on the fact that records of the secretary of state showed that there was a payment of $100 on March 7 in addition to the disputed credit for $100 previously paid by Norblad on his filing for governor.

"Although it is a generally recognized rule of law that a public officer cannot refund monies paid to him in his official capacity without express legislative authority," Thornton said, "It is apparent from the facts that this office cannot rule that there was no payment by Mr. Walter Norblad of the $100 filing fee for candidacy for the Republican nomination for Congress."

The attorney general said that he believed the courts would say the March 7 fee was applicable to the voters pamphlet.

Ohio Judges Ponder Appeal by Doctor

Columbus, O.—(U.P.)—Seven Ohio Supreme Court judges today began considering the appeal of convicted wife-slayer Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard that could result in his freedom.

Attorneys for the wealthy Bay Village osteopath went before the state's highest court Tuesday with the argument that evidence at the trial "did not point unerringly to Sheppard's guilt."

Sheppard was convicted in December, 1954, of second degree murder for the slaying of his wife, Marilyn. He was sentenced to life in prison with the possibility of parole after 10 years.

The state claimed at the hearing Tuesday that Sheppard "lied through his trial to save his own hide."

A final decision by the seven judges is expected to take at least a month, perhaps longer.

The court has the choice of three decisions on the appeal:

1. Uphold the Cuyahoga County Court of Appeals which previously affirmed a life sentence for Sheppard in Ohio Penitentiary.
2. Find there were errors in his nine-week trial and order a new trial.
3. Free him from prison on grounds there was "no evidence" to warrant the original verdict.

The Ohio Supreme Court is required by law to issue a written opinion in all cases.

If the court orders a new trial, it also has the power to require that it be held in another county. Sheppard's lawyers have argued that he was tried in "a circus atmosphere where there was nothing but emotion and bias."

Sheppard was convicted of bludgeoning his wife to death in their suburban Bay Village home on July 4, 1954.

Patrolman Gives Self Ticket as Last Act

Hastings, Mich.—(U.P.)—Patrolman Richard Endsley's last official act before leaving the Hastings police force was giving himself a ticket.

Endsley, who resigned to join the Barry County sheriff's office, ticketed himself for making an improper turn after his car had struck another auto.

He said he was blinded by the sun but added, "that's no excuse."

Southern Oregon Bounces OTI Owls in Doubleheader

Ashland—Southern Oregon college recorded a pair of lopsided wins over Oregon Tech here yesterday. The Raiders took the starter 17 to 4 and the windup-11 to 3.

The Raiders pounded out 13 hits in the first game while Pitcher Ray Theiss was holding OTI to four and had a six-run opening stanza. Seven markers in the fifth inning for SOC broke up a tight (until then) second game.

Three successive bases on balls loaded the bags with Raiders when they took their first time at bat in the opener. A run got over when the infielders all converged on Leroy King's bunt leaving the bases unprotected. An error on Vince

Tombstone Found in Diggings No Mystery

Cleveland, O.—(U.P.)—A construction crew digging the foundation for a new building in the downtown area thought they had turned up a deep mystery when they found a tombstone with the inscription "Goldie Ginsberg."

But the solution came quickly. Miss Sylvia Ginsberg of East Cleveland reported that vandals had destroyed the grave marking of her aunt, Goldie Ginsberg, along with several others, in the old Lansing Cemetery more than 25 years ago. The broken tombstones were carted away and used for fill.

Goldie Ginsberg's stone apparently was dumped into the site of Cleveland's old courthouse where the digging now is taking place. All the graves hit by the malicious pranksters were remarked, so Miss Ginsberg's resting place is beyond doubt.

THE HARD WAY

Middleboro, Ky.—(U.P.)—When a man suspected of possessing moonshine liquor emptied a half-gallon of liquid into his kitchen sink, Chief Deputy Elmer Fuson crawled under the floor, uncrowed a water pipe and caught the evidence in a jar.

Hitchcock Urges More State Plants

Eugene—(U.P.)—Phil Hitchcock, campaigning for the Republican nomination for U.S. senator, today urged that Oregon industry work for more reprocessing plants to bring more jobs to the state.

Hitchcock, speaking to the Lions club at a noon luncheon, said that when he was in the sawmill business at Sisters his mill employed about 75 men and produced slightly more than 1000 board feet of lumber per man day. He said about half of this lumber went out of the state rough-dry for remanufacture elsewhere. Hitchcock called this "a waste of Oregon's natural resources" as far as possibilities of employment were concerned.

Hitchcock also called today for "young leadership in the Republican party—new blood that can serve more than one term of office and build the seniority we so vitally need here in Oregon."

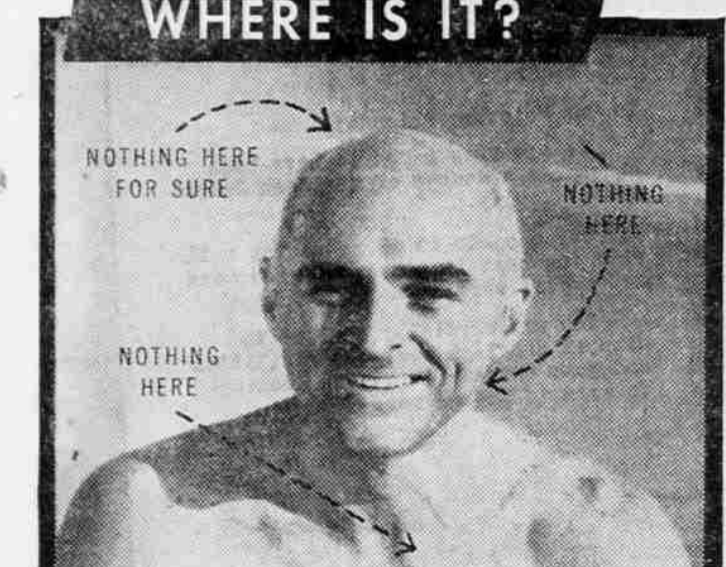

He urged that allocation of natural resources be left in the hands of such bodies as the Water Resources Board. "Log rolling in the Legislature is no way to handle the allocation of our natural resources," he said.

Oregon Crabs Die if Salt Content Too Low

Newport, Ore.—(U.P.)—Oregon fish biologists aren't sure just how much salt content in water is necessary for Pacific Ocean crabs to survive. But they are sure of one thing—when the saline content drops too low, the crabs will die.

Recent heavy rains flooded Yaquina Bay here with fresh water, dropping the salt content to 2.6 parts of salt to 1,000 grams of water. Thousands of crabs in fishermen's live boxes died.

The biologists now are conducting further studies to determine just how low the salt content can drop and still keep the crabs alive.

Double-Jointed Buses Up For Sale in Omaha

Omaha, Neb.—(U.P.)—Anybody want to buy a big, double-jointed passenger bus?

The Omaha Transit Company has 15 of them it would like to sell. The firm bought the huge machines five years ago to use during rush hours. They are hinged in the middle. They proved to be difficult to steer through traffic jams, and they swing wide on the corners.

They're in good shape, the company says, except that "practically all of them have the rear corners dented."
