

THREE UTAH COAL MINERS FOUND ALIVE

Bulganin Calls For Coexistence; Khrushchev Tough

London — (U.P.) — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin called today for "peaceful coexistence" between East and West. His words were notably softer than those used by Nikita Khrushchev yesterday in warning the West not to try to get tough with Moscow.

Khrushchev warned Britain and the West yesterday not to try to "exert pressure" on the Soviet Union because "it will get you nowhere."

Some Letup

Bulganin, in a speech at a Mansion House lunch given in honor of the Soviet leaders by the city of London, was more conciliatory. He noted that there have been some recent relaxations of cold war tensions.

Khrushchev had warned at a Soviet Embassy lunch that "We have no intention of trying to persuade you to accept our system and to give up the capitalist system."

"Nor it is worth your while wasting time in trying to persuade us to give up our Socialist system," the party chief said. "And I think that it is also quite plain to you that if you try to exert pressure on us, to demand the impossible from us, that will get you nowhere. There is only one way out—peaceful coexistence. There is no other way out. Disputed questions cannot be settled by war."

Khrushchev accompanied this with accents of speedy jets, ballistic missiles and hydrogen bombs.

Not so Bulganin.

"We believe that an improvement of relations and the development of ties and contacts must be gradual and carried out only step by step," Bulganin said. "Time is needed for this."

Report of Ashland Survey Shows Need Of Dental Care

Ashland school children between the ages of 6 and 12 need as much more dental care as they have already received, according to Dr. David Witter, director of dental health for the state board of health.

Dr. Witter recently completed a dental survey among Ashland and Medford school children in the first, third, fifth and seventh grades. Medford survey results are expected to be announced soon.

Among Ashland 6-year-olds Dr. Witter said there is a total of 587 decayed, missing or filled teeth per 100 children. Of this total, 247 are decayed, 40 need extracting and 300 have been filled.

12-Year-Olds

Among 12-year-olds, a total of 938 teeth are decayed, missing or filled per 100 children. Of these, 721 are decayed, 114 have been extracted or need extracting and 103 are filled. There are almost 12 decayed, missing or filled teeth per child.

In Aurora, Ill., where water contains natural fluoride, Dr. Witter said 336 teeth are defective per 100 children in the 6-year-old group.

In the Aurora 12-year-old group, 295 teeth are decayed, missing or filled per 100 children. A total of 73 per cent of the children have decayed, missing or filled teeth and 27 per cent are free of decay. Among 12-year-old Oregon children, only about 3 per cent are free of decay.

The Aurora dental health situation has been established as a goal for Oregon, he said.

Decayed Teeth

Of all 661 Ashland children examined, Dr. Witter said 63 per cent have decayed permanent teeth needing filling; 30 per cent have filled teeth and 7 per cent have teeth needing extraction.

A total of 5,155 teeth were affected. Of this total, 3,954 were decayed and received no dental attention, 363 permanent and primary teeth needed extraction; 1,704 permanent and primary teeth had been filled and 134 permanent teeth needed extraction.

Dr. Witter commented that in Ashland oral hygiene appears to be slightly above the state average. He also said there were some indications in Ashland that children in isolated instances are now benefiting from some form of fluoride.

Purpose of the survey is to determine the extent of the dental health problem in the Ashland and Medford areas and the amount of dental care children are receiving. Cooperating in the program are Jackson county health department, Oregon state board of health, Ashland and Medford schools, Ashland and Medford dentists and the Jackson county public health association.

China Problem Is Decisions Subject

Great Decisions study groups in the valley will discuss the problem, "How should the U.S. deal with China?" during the fifth week of the program.

Seniors of Medford High school are participating in the program through the international relations unit of the American Problems, in Government class of Mrs. Justin Smith.

The eight topics, which began four weeks ago, were "related specifically to material covered in the class," she said.

Radio and television time will be devoted to discussions of Communist China, the Nationalist Chinese on Formosa, and their relation to U.S. foreign policy.

A condensation of background material will appear in Sunday's issue of the Mail Tribune. Broadcasts are scheduled for KYJC at 7:30 p.m. Saturday; KMDJ at 9:30 p.m. Sunday; KWJN, Ashland, 8 to 8:30 p.m. Monday; and KBES-TV, 2:30 to 2:45 p.m., Tuesday.

All those interested in studying and taking part in American foreign policy are encouraged to read and discuss each week's topic, according to Attorney Don Hansen, chairman.

Week End Weather Outlook Held Good

By UNITED PRESS

The weather outlook for the week-end in Oregon is good. A high pressure ridge in the Northwest and southwest Canada is blocking the eastward movement of Pacific storms. Mostly sunny weather with some cooling is expected Saturday.

Oregon had temperatures in the 80's yesterday with Medford recording 84, The Dalles 83 and Portland and Salem 80. It was far short of a record, however. On April 20, 1934, it got up to 90 in Portland.

Meanwhile, rivers continued to rise, and weather forecasters were hopeful the snow runoff would help alleviate flood danger later. However, no decrease in the expected crest of 25.5 to 28.5 feet in the Portland area has been forecast.

Man Is Fined on Driving Charge Here

Alfred Joseph Hardy, 36, of 1122 Sunset dr., Medford, was fined $25 and given a 30-day suspended jail sentence in district court this morning after he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor.

His right to apply for a motor vehicle operator's license was revoked for 90 days. Hardy was arrested by sheriff's deputies Thursday.

Multnomah DA Orders Grand Jury Probe of Charges

Gambling Uproar Target of Hearing

Portland — (U.P.) — Multnomah County District Attorney William Langley today struck at the roots of Portland's vice and gambling uproar and ordered a sweeping grand jury investigation of all the charges, countercharges and denials that have touched the city's officialdom the past two days.

Langley said the probe was aimed at halting the "guilt by association" nature of the furor. He said "We're going to clear the air on this whole thing." The Portland Oregonian yesterday published the first of a series of copyrighted stories based on the newspaper's investigation of local conditions.

E-R Member Resigns

One of the first results of the series was the resignation last night of Clyde Crosby as a member of the Exposition-Recreation commission. He admitted published reports that he had concealed a criminal record in his past while accepting the appointment and in applying for a permit to carry firearms. He said he was only 14 years old when convicted on a burglary count in Arizona.

Crosby, who is the chief official of the Teamsters Union in Oregon, vigorously denied published charges of James B. Elkins, Portland nightlife figure, that Crosby had engineered a series of property options on the site Crosby favored for location of the $8,000,000 exposition-recreation center.

Langley tells Crosby that he has cancelled all engagements in Oregon for April 20 to 28, including his planned introduction of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt at the annual Roosevelt dinner Monday night.

Robert Holmes, Astoria, Democratic candidate for governor, will introduce Mrs. Roosevelt.

Morse said when he accepted the engagements, "it was not expected any major legislation would be voted in the senate during that period of time."

He added that "we are far ahead of schedule" and that he would remain in Washington for the senate appropriations committee report on the interior department bill Monday. "This is one of the most important pieces of legislation to be considered by the senate this session and is of vital concern to Oregon," he wrote.

The senator's announcement forced cancellation of a meeting of the Rogue Basin Water Resources and Flood Control association for Tuesday morning at the Rogue River garage.

However, Morse's administrative assistant, Bill Berg, will attend the regular association meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Josephine county courthouse, Grants Pass.

Senator Morse is anxious that Berg assemble as much information as he can get concerning flood control while he is in Oregon, a local spokesman said.

The senator advised that Berg "will meet with any group you have arranged to confer with on senate business."

(See Story on Page 2, Sec 2)

Assistant Manager Named at Bank

Alan F. Eames has been appointed assistant manager of the Medford branch, First National Bank of Portland, replacing Ray Sorenson, Elwood Hedberg, vice-president and manager, announced today. Sorenson plans to become associated with the Oregon Veneer company, Medford.

Eames was assistant manager of the bank's Coos Bay branch. He has 20 years experience in branches in Oregon, Hedberg said.

Eames was treasurer of the North Bend Kiwanis club last year and is a member of the Coos Bay Pirates, the Coos County Realty board, the Chamber of Commerce, Parent-Teachers association and is a Boy Scout troop advisor.

He began his banking career with First National in La Grande in 1936. He was appointed operations officer in 1943.

After military service and work with the bank in Salem and Sweet Home, he was named general loan officer and assistant manager of the North Bend branch.

Morse Cancels Two Appointments; To Remain in Capital

Senator Wayne Morse notified local Democrats late yesterday that he has cancelled all engagements in Oregon for April 20 to 28, including his planned introduction of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt at the annual Roosevelt dinner Monday night.

Robert Holmes, Astoria, Democratic candidate for governor, will introduce Mrs. Roosevelt.

Morse said when he accepted the engagements, "it was not expected any major legislation would be voted in the senate during that period of time."

He added that "we are far ahead of schedule" and that he would remain in Washington for the senate appropriations committee report on the interior department bill Monday. "This is one of the most important pieces of legislation to be considered by the senate this session and is of vital concern to Oregon," he wrote.

The senator's announcement forced cancellation of a meeting of the Rogue Basin Water Resources and Flood Control association for Tuesday morning at the Rogue River garage.

However, Morse's administrative assistant, Bill Berg, will attend the regular association meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Josephine county courthouse, Grants Pass.

Senator Morse is anxious that Berg assemble as much information as he can get concerning flood control while he is in Oregon, a local spokesman said.

The senator advised that Berg "will meet with any group you have arranged to confer with on senate business."

(See Story on Page 2, Sec 2)

Val Peterson Hinted As McKay Successor

Washington — (U.P.) — Speculation was prevalent today that Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson may be a possible successor to former Interior Secretary Douglas McKay.

Undersecretary of Interior Clarence A. Davis is considered to have the inside track for the post.

T-Men Crack Down on Gambling

By UNITED PRESS

Federal agents said today they will make more arrests in a nationwide crackdown on a vast gamblers' "lay-off" network.

Raids on bookie joints and gamblers in five cities Thursday gave the agents valuable information on how local horse parlors are linked through thousands of long-distance telephone calls, officials said.

Federal tax agents paid surprise visits to gamblers in Pittsburgh, the Chicago suburb of Des Plaines, the Boston suburb of Revere, Fort Worth, Tex., and Newport, Ky.

Arraignments Scheduled

They made at least 16 arrests, most of them on charges of failure to buy the required $50 federal gambling stamp or of failure to pay the 10-per cent tax on bets. Arraignments were scheduled in most of the cities today.

Pittsburgh was the T-men's prime target and the center of the "lay-off" network, federal agents said.

In gambling parlance, "lay-off" bets are those which are transferred from one bookie to another when he has received more bets on a particular race or event than he wishes to handle alone.

At Ice Cream Store

D. Malcolm Anderson, U. S. attorney at Pittsburgh, said the core of the network was an ice cream parlor known as "Mamie's Grill and Ice Cream Store" at nearby New Kensington.

Mamie's grill handled 8,336 telephone calls from points throughout the country and Canada during a three month period, Anderson said. The bookie joints which were raided in other cities

MEDFORD TRIBUNE
United Press—Full Lr
51st Year 32 Pa
FRIDAY, APRIL 20, 1956 Price 5c No. 26

AFTER CEREMONY—Prince Rainier and Grace Kelly wave from balcony after their civil wedding in Monaco. The happy couple was wed in a religious ceremony to complete the story-book romance. (See story on page 3, second section)

Connie Hanscom Named Queen of Pear Festival; Tours Suggested

Three-year-old Connie Jean Hanscom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hanscom, Central Point, has been selected queen of the third annual Rogue Valley Pear Blossom festival to reign over Saturday's festivities. She is sponsored by Gold Hill garage.

Princesses are Barbara Urie, 5, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Urie, 320 Hillhouse ave., sponsored by Medford Lady Lions; Raeanne Lynn Baum, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Baum, Central Point, Central Point American Legion; Janet Kent, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kent, 922 South Oakdale ave., Woman's Society of Christian Service; Greta Kathleen Lund, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lund, Prospect, Prospect Lions auxiliary; and Sherry Lynn Graves, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Graves, Central Point, Women of Moose.

Special Events

Several special events are scheduled for the festival. They include a parade at 1 p.m., starting at the Library park and proceeding east on Main st. to Hawthorne park, where the Queen will be crowned. Parade attractions will include a variety of floats and bands from McLaughlin, Talent and E. H. Hedrick schools, Bliss Heine's Juniors and the Eve Prentice accordion band.

During the week end many residents and visitors plan to drive to the country to see ar-

Peddicord Given 20-Year Sentence

Portland — (U.P.) — Clarence Peddicord, blind 38-year-old chemist who confessed last year's bombing of the Meier & Frank department store here, today was sentenced to 20 years in the state penitentiary.

Sentence was pronounced by Circuit Judge Alfred P. Dobson. Peddicord had admitted touching off 12 sticks of dynamite in a rest room of the store in a futile attempt to extort $50,000.

He implicated his sister-in-law, Joyce Keller, 28, who is scheduled to be tried at a later date on a charge that she helped him.

Judge Dobson turned down a plea for probation by Nicholas Granet, Peddicord's attorney who told the judge the crime stemmed from Peddicord's failure to adjust himself after having been stricken blind at the age of 19 while he was repairing a refrigerator.

CONNIE JEAN HANSCOM Chosen Festival Queen

rays of blossoms in the area's thousands of orchard acres.

Sightseers may follow many routes to see the blossoms. One short route starts at Main st. in Medford, east to the corner of Hillcrest orchard, and north on Foothills rd. to the 401 Orchard. At a rise in the road, sightseers can look down on about 1,000 acres of orchard.

30-Mile Tour

A tour of about 30 miles starts on the Jacksonville highway to Jacksonville, then left to the Stage Coach orchard, and along South Stage road and Kings highway. Just south of the last slight jog in the road is the area's oldest pear planting, set out in 1885. The site marks the beginning of the largest solid planting in the county, about 5,000 acres.

The tour continues to the Voorhies crossing, turns right, and keeps west of the railroad tracks to Talent. It then follows the new highway about two blocks toward Ashland, and turns east across Bear creek northward.

The Suncrest area of about 1,000 acres starts on the east side of Bear creek.

The tour brings motorists through Fern Valley. It approaches Phoenix on the Fern Valley road, turns north just east of Bear creek and proceeds to the Medford Pear company orchard on the left. After a curve in the road is the largest solid planting of Bosc in the world in the Crystal Springs orchard. In the same orchard is a 100-year-old Bartlett tree, the oldest of its kind in the county.

The tour ends on returning to the Hillcrest road.

House Group OK's Propaganda Funds

Washington — (U.P.) — The House Appropriations Committee voted today to put up a record $101,000,000 to finance America's propaganda battle against Communism.

The funds were included in a $598,000,000 appropriation to run the State and Justice Departments and the Federal judiciary for the year starting July 1.

They represent a $22,000,000 increase over last year but are $25,000,000 short of President Eisenhower's request.

The funds were earmarked for the U.S. Information Service which operates the Voice of America, overseas libraries, America's participation in trade fairs, student exchanges, and touring orchestras and sports teams.

Israel and Jordan Hurl Accusations

Jerusalem (Israeli Sector) (U.P.) — The crisis in the Middle East between Israel and its Arab neighbors flared again today despite the peace-making efforts of U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Both Israel and Jordan accused the other of border violations and an Israeli spokesman said "tension is mounting" along the border.

Both sides protested to the U. N. Mixed Armistice commission about an alleged incident that occurred Wednesday. Today, Col. Nehemia Brosh, Israel's chief military spokesman, reported another incident. He said that early Thursday Jordanian forces again opened fire from Israeli territory at an Israeli military camp moving along a highway north of Bet Govrin. He said the passengers returned the fire, but there were no casualties.

White City Station Open House Saturday

Central Point—Central Point Rural Fire Protection district will hold open house Saturday at its new White City station.

The station at the corner of Avenue G and Agate rd. will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. for inspection by the public. Volunteer firemen will be on duty to answer questions concerning equipment and to serve refreshments.

Equipment on display at the fire hall will be the district's recently purchased American LaFrance pumper truck. Apparatus at the station currently includes a pumper, tank truck and a jeep.

Fire Chief Richard Krupp has stated that the White City facility will serve the entire district. It is the second station to be built within the district. The other is on Highway 99 at the south edge of Central Point.

Medford Firm Given California Bridge Job

Sacramento — (U.P.) — The State Department of Public Works awarded a $710,276 contract to Peter Kiewit Sons' Co., Medford, Ore., for construction of a welded plate girder bridge across the Trinity river at Hoopa.

The bridge, on Sign Route 96 in Humboldt county, replaces one totally destroyed during December floods.

Portland — (U.P.) — The Department of Agriculture predicts that Oregon's winter wheat crop will be 16,860,000 bushels.

Weather

FORECAST: Considerable high cloudiness through Saturday. Chance of a few showers in mountains Saturday afternoon. Low tonight 46. High Saturday near 80.

Highest Yesterday	Temp.
Lowest this Morning	45