A scarcity is reported of young women qualified to act as stewardesses on trans-Atlantic airlines. Eligible females must be in the 21 to 27 age group, height 5 feet 2 to 5 feet 7, weight from 110 to 135. Salary $56 a week to start. Compensation can reach $112 a week after three years' service. The trans-Atlantic air queens fly on an average of 85 hours a month. Incidentally, stewardesses on trans-Atlantic airlines operated by United States organizations are paid from two to three times more than those working for British airlines.

History Quiz

How would you do on a quiz program with United States history as your category? Can you answer following quick as a flash? Who said, "I'd rather be right than President?" And under what circumstances? Just in case the query baffles you, the answer is that it was Henry Clay. He made the statement when told his advocating of the Missouri Compromise of 1850 might injure his chances for the presidency.

Asides What were you doing when you were 17? When Charles Laughton, the actor, was 17, he was an officer in the British Army and saw plenty of action at the front in World War I. . . . Blue eyes are not especially fascinating in women. All the outstanding and most successful charmers of men have green-gray eyes.

Passing By Alfred Hitchcock. Grimly whimsical film and television producer. Rightly rated one of the four greatest fellows named Hitchcock of all time; the other three being, of course, Raymond Hitchcock, the comedian, Tommy Hitchcock, the polo player and Oliver Hitchcock, the Park Row Manhattan restaurateur. Incidentally, Hitchcock has some interesting plans for his future productions.

Sidelights Temple Fielding, well-known globe trotter and travel guide writer, who travels about 15,000 miles annually, says the two best hotels in the world are the Savoy and Claridges, both in London. . . . Sign in window of a Brooklyn corset shop reads, "Even if you're built like a house we have the right foundation for you."

Among the Married Of newly married couples seven in ten will have a baby after two years. One couple in ten will be childless. When a couple is childless, the husband is responsible in 40 per cent of the cases. So says an expert on the subject. It takes a very long time for a couple to know for certain if they are to be childless.

Doctors You rarely encounter a doctor or surgeon of 35 or over who is a bachelor. Doctors and surgeons think that unless they are married people will not have confidence in their steadiness. Registered nurses and actresses make the best wives for doctors and surgeons.

It Figures Q. Am 24. Height, 5 feet 1 1/2. Weight, 118 1/2; bust, 34; waist, 22; hips, 36. How would your horses and women experts classify my figure? A. You are out of proportion. However, clip two inches off the hips and you will rate a grade A petite figure according to our experts. If you were a dancer you would be in the "pony" division same as the Radio City Rockettes.

In a Few Words "How often the spell of beauty is rudely broken by coarse, loud talking. How pleasant it is to hear a woman talk in that low key which always characterizes the true lady," said Charles Lamb. "In the sanctuary of home how such a voice soothes the fretful child and cheers the weary husband."

Quotes From the News

By UNITED PRESS London—Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev on intercontinental guided missiles: "I am quite sure we will have very soon a guided missile with a hydrogen bomb warhead which could hit any point in the world."

London—Khrushchev on the H-bomb: "It remains a fact that we were the first to explode an H-bomb from a plane. The Americans are only intending to do so because the previous explosion was not of an H-bomb but of an H-installation."

New York—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on expansion of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization into a political and economic force as well as a bulwark against Communism: "The historic weakness of the West has been its disunity. Out of this disunity came wars, which have taken the lifeblood of its finest youth and weakened its economies."

New York—Playwright Ben Hecht in his eulogy of playwright Charles MacArthur: "We were lavish fellows and we gave no damn for anything except our youth and how to keep it going in the teeth of bald spots and greying sideburns, and God forgive us, even paunches."

Jerusalem—Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett on the arms deal between Egypt and Communist Czechoslovakia: "This arms deal is in direct conflict with the Russians' professed aim to persistently seek measures for the reduction of international tensions."

A Nichol's Worth of . . . Comment On This and That

Washington—(U.P.)—The national symphony doesn't go in for the long-hair business much any more.

Fact is, the members of the orchestra have kicked up their heels so high they have fans among the you-play-and-we'll-do-the-swooning younger set. Dr. Howard Mitchell, the conductor, is five feet, 11, slender, dark and handsome. The baton flipper has a lot of fans, and his fan mail comes in mountains. Or did. Most of the teen-agers wrote in to ask if he was married. He gave them an honest answer: "I have five kids."

Dr. Mitchell started out as a cellist—the head man on the cello row. He sawed away for 15 years. He hasn't forgotten the trick, either. If one of the boys in the cello section comes down with a sore digit, the maestro can still pitch away his stick, run into the pit, and pick up a bow and start whacking away.

As Dr. Mitchell puts it: "There is nothing worse than a bandaged finger in an orchestra pit. Cello Player a 'Doll' It seems fittin' and proper to mention one fellow in the cello row, John Martin, tall, slender and a "doh" in the eyes of the teeners.

A young lady wrote in to the symphony manager, Ralph Black, and asked: "I love him, I love him. Is John Martin married? Your answer will allow me to decide whether to forget him completely, or go on dreaming." John is. Incidentally, there is a Frank Sinatra in the symphony. He is

Gun Accident Kills Airman Near Coos Bay Coos Bay — (U.P.)—An accidental gun blast took the life of Airman 3-c James Mathew Mannion, 18, of Carbondale, Pa., Sunday at the Harbor base near here.

Capt. James M. Stevens, base commander, said that Mannion was visiting a friend at the guard gate at the time of the accident. The friend was cleaning a rifle when it accidentally discharged.

SP Service Hearings Under Way at Roseburg Roseburg — (U.P.)—Charles Heltzel, Oregon public utilities commissioner, was scheduled to hold a hearing here today on the Southern Pacific's discontinuation of passenger service on its Eugene to Ashland run.

EGYPT TO LOSE ROBES Cairo, Egypt — (U.P.)—A government committee appointed to design unified clothing patterns for Egypt has decided on European-type dress for city dwellers to replace the traditional flowing Arab robes.

Douglas Pleased With Cargo Plane Tests

Long Beach, Calif. — (U.P.)—Douglas Aircraft Co., Inc., officials today said they were "very happy" with results of the first test flight of their new giant military cargo transport plane, the Douglas C133A turboprop. Douglas said the 255,000-pound plane would be able to fly non-stop from Los Angeles to New York with a 50,000-pound payload. The craft has a cruising speed of more than 400 miles an hour.

Jet Drops Off; Bomber Lands Safely in Iowa

Lincoln, Neb. — (U.P.)—A B47 jet bomber landed safely last night after one of its six jets dropped off in flames over the Red Oak, Ia., city airport. The pilot, Maj. Robert M. Murphy, Knoxville, Tenn., circled the field where the plane is based for nearly one and one-half hours to use up fuel before landing. The burning engine landed 150 feet from an airport hanger but injured no one.

UNITONISTS IN PEIPING Tokyo — (U.P.)—Radio Peiping said today trade union delegations from Communist countries of Mongolia, North Korea and Romania have arrived in Peiping for the May Day celebrations.

BRENDA—He got me into political activity. NAT—She's in bad company now.

BRENDA—A few years ago my husband's uncle was a candidate for office in our town and my husband was very eager to help him. As a result I became interested in political activity and the social side of politics. Now I am active in a political organization and get a great deal of satisfaction out of getting to know all kinds of people and sometimes being on the inside of public situations.

My husband, however, finds fault with what I am doing and, although he urged me to get into this in the first place, now complains that it is unwomanly and vulgar for me to be in politics. I don't like to displease him, but I find the prospect of a complete withdrawal difficult to take. My whole social life has shifted and my sense of values has changed very much since I became interested in politics. I do not think that I could go back to nothing but housework after an afternoon bridge party every now and then. What makes the situation all the more difficult for me to take is that it is pretty obvious that my husband is motivated by jealousy. When I have given him no cause whatever.

NAT—My wife is being fussed over because she is a woman and a pretty one. If she knew some of these men as I know them she would understand my objections. It is true that I got her into this, but that is no excuse for getting in too deep. I wanted to help my uncle, and you can't run a political organization suc-
