

Specs Worn By Umpire For KC Mix

Kansas City, Mo. — (U.P.) — A history-making event for major league baseball was recorded yesterday in the Kansas City-Detroit game, but Umpire Frank Umont, who achieved it, would not comment on it.

Through the years one favorite chant of disgruntled fans has been "Umpire, you're half blind. You need glasses."

Umont wore specs in the game. It was the first time a major league umpire has appeared in a game in spectacles.

After the game, sports writers went to the umpire room in the municipal stadium to question Umont, but he wouldn't talk about his new eyeglasses.

Nothing To It

He referred the newsmen to Charley Berry, a fellow umpire, who remarked:

"There's nothing to it, really. Frank has a slight defect in his left eye and his doctor told him to wear glasses, which will correct it. He can see as well as anybody."

Umont, a 37-year-old husky six-footer who played pro football with the New York Giants for several seasons, has been an American league umpire since the 1954 season. Formerly, he was an umpire in the American association and Piedmont and Carolina leagues.

If the fans noticed that Umont was bespectacled yesterday they at least didn't voice disapproval.

Conditions Look Good For Opening of Trout Season on Week End

Barring a change in weather this week, conditions of water, roads and weather look good for the opening of trout season Saturday. Cole Rivers, Grants Pass, field agent for the Oregon Game Commission has reported.

In general, there is more water in the streams than normal for the opening of the season, but in spite of snow run-off, the streams are not roily, Rivers said. Waters are colder than normal which means that best catches will be made with the use of small spinners, worms, single eggs or combinations thereof. The old angle-worm will probably produce the best catches.

The main Rogue is slightly high for good angling, the agent stated, but water temperatures are improving to possibly afford some good catches. Water color is good providing logging operations do not muddy up the river before the weekend. Bail is recommended but possibly a few catches can be made in the evening with the use of brown or black hackle flies.

Applegate Excellent

Fly fishing in the upper sections of the Rogue will be poor according to Rivers. Regardless of the bait or lure that is used in the north fork of the Rogue, catches will be poor.

Rivers reported Applegate river in excellent shape above the mouth of Little Applegate river. Intermittent silt loads from the Little Applegate have been muddying the main Applegate below Ruch. Loggers on Squaw Creek are causing some mud, but the silt load to the main river has not been too excessive for angling. Carberry creek and its forks look very good, the game man said.

Sucker creek in the Illinois valley is in excellent shape, but the water is very cold and catches will be difficult to make. Little Butte creek is good, particularly the north fork, provided logging does not discolor them before the weekend. Big twirler, went the distance. He walked five men and fanned two.

LINE SCORE:

Gold Hill Thinclads Defeat Sams Valley

Gold Hill elementary swamped Sams Valley in duel track meet recently. Gold Hill scored over Sams Valley by a 80½ to 5 score in the A division and the B squad won by a 50 2-3 to 29 1-3 count. A new record was set when Terry Cooper threw the baseball 282 feet 4 inches.

The victors won firsts in all events in Class A with Cooper a triple winner and Eldred, Turner and Jones taking two events each. Edwards won three firsts for Sams Valley in Class B and Netzel nabbed two events for GH.

The Huskies will be hosts to Central Point graders Friday.

Butte creek is high but in excellent color.

Four Soft Places

The road to Squaw Lake is generally dry and in good shape, but there are four soft places with deep ruts. If continual road maintenance is not provided, passenger cars may have trouble later in the week end. No snow remains in or around the lake. Because of recent logging operations at the lake, there will be limitations to parking area and camp facilities.

Lloyd Morris, resort owner at Fish Lake and Willow creek reservoir, said the Dead Indian rd. from Ashland to Fish Lake is in good condition, and that work is being done by the forest service on the road from Eagle Point through McAllister Springs and from Butte Falls. Both roads, he said, should be in good shape by Saturday.

The camp area at Fish Lake, he said, was partially cleared of snow. Ice on Fish Lake is almost gone, he added.

Willow Creek reservoir is in excellent shape, according to Rivers. Good catches are expected to be made provided the use of motor boats does not get out of hand. The road is good. Camp facilities are abundant and in good order. No snow remains in or around the lake area.

Ice Rotten

The Game Commission's new ruling on ice fishing allows for fishing through the ice on lakes that are open to angling. If ice remains on lakes, such as Fish Lake, it is now legal to fish that ice. Anglers should be warned that the ice is always rotten in the spring, and no one should attempt to walk on it.

Fishermen should be advised to pick up an angling synopsis at their nearest sporting goods store and become acquainted with the season, area and bag limit. Rogue river regulations (Zone 4) are found on pages 19 and 24 to 26 of the synopsis.

"Remember good sportsmanship with consideration to others, clean camps and the respect for property owners, Rivers said. "Good luck!" he added.

Legal Sparring Drags California Fistic Probe

Oakland, Calif. — (U.P.) — Tedious legal sparring shaped up today between Manager Sid Flaherty's corner and a state committee which is poking-fisted Irishman in the boxing business in this part of the state.

Flaherty never did make it to the stand Tuesday. He spent most of the time apparently dozing in the rear row of the hearing room while Promoter Benny Ford creaked back and forth in the witness chair.

Refused To Confirm

Acting on the advice of Howard C. Ellis, Flaherty's lawyer, Ford refused to confirm Monday's testimony by Johnny Munro that James D. Norris and Truman Gibson—top executives of the International Boxing club—also are shareholders with Flaherty in the California Boxing Enterprises, Inc.

Ford, president of the enterprises which state counsel James E. Cox termed "a bizarre corporate setup," said he was not responsible for what Munro said. The latter, a promoter in nearby Richmond, Calif., is listed as the corporation's vice president.

Southern Oregon Shades Chico State in Twinbill

Ashland — Ned and Ted Landers, the twins from Medford had a hand in both winning runs and Ned was the winning pitcher in the second game as Southern Oregon college tipped Chico State college 4 to 3 and 11 to 10 here yesterday afternoon.

Ted tallied the tie-buster in the fifth inning of the 4 to 3 opener, getting on base on an error and scoring on an overthrow when an attempt was made to pick him off second base. In the bottom of the extra eighth inning of the nightcap Ned singled and was sacrificed to second by Al Kimura. Then Ted, who hit three for three in the tussle singled home his brother.

Chico got an unearned run in the second inning of the opener. In the same frame LeRoy King walked. Vince Miller tripled home and scored, himself on an infield out by Ned Landers. Singles by Fred Luper and Ted Landers and a stolen base by Luper added up to a third inning Raider run. The Californian got markers in the fourth and fifth innings to tie up the game.

Three Home Runs

Ray Theiss, pitching for SOC fanned four men and walked two as he allowed Chico only four hits. Chico Pitchers Norm Coon and Stockton in a four hit effort tallied three whiffs and four walks.

Miller slammed a two run homer for Southern Oregon in the fourth inning of the second game and Ron Owings hit a three-run roundtripper for in the sixth. Owings, blow helped put the Raiders ahead 10 to 7. Walt Boom slapped a two-run triple to Chico aiding the Wildcats to take a brief 7 to 6 edge in the bottom of the sixth.

Ned Landers got the first two men out in the top of the seventh panel and it looked like the game would wind up in short order. But Ray Foote was safe on a miscue and Terry walked. Then Clayton Dalrymple cracked a sharp liner to right center field. It took a bad hop and went for a three-run homer. Ned Landers walked two men and whiffed four in the game. Ron Owings, slugging two for four, had five runs batted in. Miller clipped three for four.

Grants Pass Baseballers Blank Crater High 11-0

Central Point — Grants Pass high came up with a 13-hit attack, highlighted by three home runs yesterday to lace the Crater high Comet baseball club 11 to 0 at Grants Pass.

Pete Proctor socked a homer with one man on base in the first inning and Allen Drews also got a roundtripper in the frame. Chuck Nevi hit for the circuit in the fourth inning with two men on base.

The Cavemen got five of their runs in the opening stanza. There were two walks and Nevi, Butch McFarland and Tibbetts got hits along with the homers.

Proctor had three hits in four times up yesterday. Drews and Tibbetts got two for three, Walt McCurdy two for two and Nevi two for four.

Frank Thomas and Larry Cochell combined for a one-hitter for GP. Thomas yielded a single to Allen Gosnell. Thomas walked one man and fanned one over three innings and Cochell struck out two over the rest of the rouge.

Wayne Allen, Crater freshman twirler, went the distance. He walked five men and fanned two.

Sanders Standout In North-South

Pinehurst, N. C. — (U.P.) — All over Piney Woods country today they are wondering who can stop par-fracturing Douglas Sanders from waltzing off with the 56th North and South Amateur Golf championship.

Sanders for two days, in his qualifying medal play, and in his first round match Tuesday against Keely Grice Jr., shot sizzling 66's. He was so far under par, six strokes on each occasion, that he wound up just one shy of breaking the competitive course mark of 65 set by Ben Hogan in the 1951 Ryder Cup matches.

Bisplinghoff Out

Today Sanders opposes Howard Everitt of Northfield, Mass., and is a heavy favorite.

The major upset of the meet to date came when defending champion Don Bisplinghoff of Orlando, Fla., lost to Bill Williamson of Charlotte, 3 and 2.

Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., the Walker Cup captain, topped E. F. Gonsky of Mountain Top, Pa., 5 and 4.
