

Dull Games, Not Longies Bother Fans

By JOHN GRIFFIN
New York—(U.P.)—American League baseball games are taking just about as much time as ever, but Manager Charley Dressen of the Washington Senators observed today, "It isn't long games that annoy the fans—it's dull games."

A United Press survey of the first eight days of the 1956 major league season reveals that the average playing time of an A.L. game is two hours and 35 minutes—almost exactly the same as the 2:38 average at the same point last year.

The National League has dropped seven minutes from 2:45 to 2:38.

The spotlight is on the American League, chiefly because of the new rule this season that only two "visits" may be made to the mound for conversations with a pitcher. On the second trip a manager or coach makes to the hill, the pitcher must be removed from the game.

"Hasn't bothered me any," commented Dressen, who is known as a manager who indulges in high strategy more than most. "They had the same type in the Pacific Coast League when I was managing there, and I'm used to it."

Canny Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Yankees, likewise insisted that the new rule hasn't shackled his mental maneuvers, either.

"But then I don't think I did so much walkin' out to the mound, did I?" asked Stengel.

"Now, there are some managers who did—like Paul Richards of Baltimore and Marty Marion of Chicago. But I don't think I did it very much."

Neither skipper has noticed any speed-up, but conceded that with some teams it might cut down a few minutes.

"Fans don't get sore at long games, anyway," said Dressen. "If a game goes three hours and it's close and there's good action out there, why, nobody notices it took that time. But if it's dull—like the 10-4 game we lost to the Yankees on opening day (Eds. Note—close to average time at 2:38), then the fans get annoyed."

Chico Track Winner Over Red Raiders

Ashland—Clean sweeps in the high and low hurdles helped Chico State college to a 73 to 58 verdict over Southern Oregon college in a dual track and field session here yesterday.

Chico headed only 59 to 58 with only two events to be tabulated. The Wildcats swept the low hurdles and the mile relay to pad out their margin.

Southern Oregon won six clean firsts in the meet and Chico seven.

Chuck Crandall established a new SOC record in winning the half-mile in 2:05.2. He held the old mark of 2:07 set last year. Earl James was a double winner for the Raiders with a :10.2 century and :23.5 furlong dash. Bill Hollingsworth of SOC won the high jump at 6 feet and tied with Toney and Urey of Chico at 11 feet 6 inches in the pole vault.

Gustafson, Allison Win

Other SOC winners were Dick Gustafson, 4:47 in the mile and Glen Allison 11:08.6 in the two mile.

Event victors for Chico were Dick Beck, :53.9 in the quarter-mile, Chuck Virey, :16.6 in the high hurdles; Lloyd Schmid, :27.3 in the low hurdles; Bob Cantrall, 40 feet in the shot put; Piercey 20-1¼ in the broad jump; Buckman, 125-5 in the discus and Balch, 169-2 in the javelin.

Southern Oregon will face Oregon Tech and the University of Oregon freshmen at 2 p.m. here Saturday at Fuller field.

HARTACK DAY

Laurel, Md.—(U.P.)—"Willie Hartack Day" will be celebrated at Laurel park Friday with one of the races on the program to be named after him. At the completion of the race, Hartack, who began his climb to racing fame here during the spring session of 1954, will present the winning owner with a trophy and then will receive an appropriate trophy himself from the owners of the track. Last year, Hartack became the nation's leading jockey with 417 victories.

Padres Nick Beavers 5 to 4 in 14 Cantos

By DON THACKREY
United Press Sports Writer
The Los Angeles Angels and the San Diego Padres moved up toward the Pacific Coast league lead last night, but the Padres had to go farther to get the same distance.

The league-leading Seattle Rainiers split with San Francisco to give their pursuers a chance. Los Angeles took advantage of it with a 4-2 win over Sacramento to get just a half game out. San Diego also won, but the Pads had to go 14 innings to beat the Portland Beavers 5-4 in order to make the same move.

The split home-opener scores at Seattle were 13-3 for the Rainiers in the daytime and 9-5 for the Seals at night. Vancouver dumped Hollywood 9-2 in the loop's other game.

Ed Kuzak hit the single that broke up the season's longest game in the bottom of the 14th after a two-base error by Lloyd Merriman, an infield out and two intentional passes had loaded the bags.

Portland's Jim Baxes homered in the first inning to highlight a four-run outburst for the Beavers. Then San Diego tied it up with one in the first and three in the second.

That the way it stayed from the second through the 13th. Big Steve Bilko hammered his sixth home run of the season, drove in another run and scored another one to lead Los Angeles to victory. Harry Perkowski got the win and Gene Beardin the loss.

In Seattle the Rainiers pleased the afternoon half of a split crowd with a 12-hit attack that smothered San Francisco 13-3. Joe Taylor set the pace with his fifth homer of the year, four of them off Seal pitching, but Arnie Atkins was the big hero. Atkins came on in relief in the third after Hayward Sullivan and Joe Tanner had homered and gave the Seals only one hit the rest of the way.

In the night game Seal catcher Ed Sadkowski donned the hero's robes. Sadkowski hammered a grand slam homer off Larry Jansen in the seventh as the Seals scored five times and came from behind to take the game.

Earlier Art Schult of Seattle and Dor. Lenhardt of San Francisco had traded three-run home runs.

Jerry Casale went the route for San Francisco and held the Rainiers to seven hits. Jansen was the loser.

George Bamberger pitched the victory for Vancouver, although he had to have late-inning help. The loss went to Fred Green, first of five Hollywood hurlers.

Residents Reminded Of Trash Burning Law

City firemen reminded residents today that trash burning is prohibited at all times of the year in the No. 1 and No. 2 fire zone of Medford.

The reminder resulted from a run to a residential lot in the 100 block on South Ivy st. yesterday to extinguish a rubbish blaze. Firemen were dispatched at 9:25 a.m.

Permission for burning in Medford in all zones must be obtained at all times of the year and can be had by telephoning 2-2790, firemen pointed out.

No. 1 zone is bounded roughly by Oakdale and Riverside aves. and Fourth and 10th streets. The area at the corner of Sixth and Main sts. is included No. 2 zone fringes No. 1.

Salem—(U.P.)—Dr. Dean Brooks, superintendent of the Oregon State hospital, says there is a shortage of qualified male attendants at the institution.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—THIRTEEN

Nixon Campaign Boss Named in Testimony

Washington—(U.P.)—Senators heard testimony yesterday that Vice-President Richard M. Nixon's campaign manager received a $5000 legal fee from a uniform maker who was being investigated by the government.

Accountant Murray M. Kimmel of Monticello, N. Y., told the Senate Investigating Subcommittee that his worksheets for the A-C Clothing Co. of New Jersey showed payment of $5000 on Oct. 1, 1951, to "M. Chotiner" for professional services.

Murray Chotiner of Los Angeles, a lawyer, has been Nixon's campaign manager in several elections, including the 1952 campaign.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) told newsmen the subcommittee had established that Murray Chotiner is the "M. Chotiner" referred to in Kimmel's notes.

The A-C Clothing Co. was owned by Samuel Kravitz and his son, Herman, who are under investigation by the subcommittee for reported payoffs to government contract officials.
