Women Plan Ideal House

By PATRICIA WIGGINS United Press Correspondent

Washington—(U.P.)—The standardized, convenient but cramped development home is on the way out if a representative group of housewives get their way.

The housewives, 103 from throughout the nation, built their home of tomorrow feature by feature at a three-day conference held by the Federal Housing Administration.

The composite dream house approved by a majority of the women would be built on a $10,000 to $15,000 budget.

Here is what it would include: Two living rooms a formal parlor and an "active" room including a television set; a separate dining room; "if possible budgetwise; a "functional" kitchen, and "miles and miles" of storage space.

It would have at least three bedrooms and "1 1/2 baths," as the real estate ads call a bathroom and powder room.

It would have one and one-half stories and be a "cozy, not cold" mixture of traditional and modern design.

And it would have individuality.

One group of housewives, mostly from New England, put in a special plea for the streamlining of bathrooms. Mrs. Robert C. Baldrige of Cedarhurst, N.Y., said the bathroom of the future needed "flat surfaces free from gew-gaws."

The housewives specifically rejected for the most part picture windows, flat roofs, small closets and gridiron layout of streets.

The women in order to stay within building budgets would eliminate the garage, separate dining room, den, attic or basement.

To Initiate

Talisman rosebud council, Pythian Sunshine Girls, will initiate candidates at a meeting set for tonight at 7 o'clock at the Pythian building. Members are to wear formal dress.

Refreshments will be served, with Miss Darla Walker as chairman.

SAUSAGES FOR SUPPER

New York—(U.P.)—Pork sausage, a good buy these days, provides the basis for a hearty lunch or supper as well as a nourishing breakfast. Either link or bulk sausage can be combined with corn bread for an old-fashioned dinner. Pan fry 1 pound of the sausage according to directions on the package. Drain. Line the bottom of an 8-inch baking pan with waxed paper and arrange the sausage on it. Make corn bread batter from package mix and pour on the sausage. Bake according to package directions. Turn upside down on a hot platter. Remove pan and paper and serve hot with milk gravy made from sausage drippings.

GARLIC VINEGAR

New York—(U.P.)—Make garlic vinegar for addition to salads, sauces and other foods. This way, you won't have to peel and handle garlic every time its flavor is needed. To make the vinegar, peel and slit five cloves of garlic and let them stand for one week in a pint of vinegar.

Creamed finnan haddie is a dish worth trying. Add sauteed mushrooms, diced green peppers and diced pimiento. Bake in the oven of your range, casserole style, and serve with baked potatoes and a Waldorf salad, says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

Fifteen Acting Scholarships Awarded for Festival Season

Ashland—Fifteen acting scholarships for the company of the coming Oregon Shakespearean festival have been awarded by directors of the annual theatrical event.

Recipients of the scholarships include students, teachers, and professional actors. They were chosen from almost 250 actors and actresses applying this year, according to Angus L. Bowmer, festival founder and producing director.

Seven of the scholarships went to festival veterans. These are Irene G. Baird, Carnegie Technical Institute; Joan Kugell, University of Texas, both coming back for the second season; Don Gunderson, School of the Art Institute of Chicago, returning after six years; Pat Hines, recently discharged from the Army; Michael Kasdan, Oberlin college (Ohio), returning for his second season; and Hubert Whitfield Jr., University of Texas, also returning for the second time. Whitfield will be the festival's dance director this season, in addition to acting.

New to the festival this summer will be Mary Buckner, professional actress and singer from New York; Ronald Bazarini, Stanford university; Aldo Bozzini, professional actor from Berkeley (Calif.); Philip Jacobus, Carnegie Technical Institute; David O'Brien, Stanford; Theodore van Griethuysen Jr., University of Texas; Gordon Wickstrom, drama teacher and director in Powell, Wyo., and Hugh Wilson, University of Wisconsin.

The festival's technical, music, and publicity scholarships have not yet been awarded. The final company will number over 60. Director Bowmer said. Applications for positions were received from 42 states and 3 foreign countries.

Festival directors are B. Iden Payne, guest professor of drama at the University of Texas; Allen Fletcher, veteran festival director of several years; and Harold Todd, of the Idaho State university faculty. Also returning to the staff this year is Richard Hay, who will act as technical director. Mr. Hay has done technical work in the theatre during several past seasons.

The festival begins August 1 and runs through September 1. Auditions will be held June 18 and 19, and rehearsals begin June 20.

Westside Group Elects Officers; Meeting Changed

At a recent meeting of Westside Extension unit, Mrs. Elmer Reinking was elected chairman for next year. Other officers elected include Mrs. Robert Russell, vice-chairman, Mrs. E. D. Davis, secretary, Mrs. T. C. Carter, treasurer.

Retiring officers are Mrs. Eston Humphrey, chairman, Mrs. Russell, vice-chairman, Mrs. Charles Taylor, secretary and Mrs. Carter, treasurer.

Members of the unit are to be ushers for the annual Homemakers' festival which is to be held May 2 at the Central Point Grange hall.

The next regular meeting of the Westside group is to be postponed from May 3 to May 10 at 10:45 a.m. and will be held in the Junior Grange hall in Central Point. The demonstration will be on "Garment Finishes" and will be conducted by Mrs. Charles Taylor and Mrs. Harrison Meyer. Members are asked to take their table service for the luncheon.

Mrs. Ted Graham Honored at Party

Members of Medford Public Library staff and their families recently honored Mrs. Ted Graham, the library's senior employee and administrative assistant, with a crab feed.

Mrs. Graham is leaving the library May 1, after 14 years' service, to take a position at a local radio station.

Hostess for the event was Mrs. Ralph McKay, 1010 Sunset drive, assisted by Mrs. Thayer Tarvin, Miss Mary Fredenburg, and Miss Barbara Lickess. Dinner was served at a long table set on the veranda. The evening's diversion was a showing of travel slides photographed by the Tarvins and the McKays.

Guests included the honoree and her husband and Mr. and Mrs. William Eubanks, Willetta Eubanks, Mr. and Mrs. Doral Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Thayer Tarvin, Terry Tarvin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, Kit Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Perkey, Terry Ann Perkey, Mrs. Joyce Fuller, Mrs. Shirley Darby and Misses Mary Fredenburg, Barbara Lickess, Helen Webster and the McKays.

Plans Completed For Style Show

Central Point—Committees in charge of the annual Blossom Time style show of Nevita Social club will complete arrangements today for the event. It will be held Friday, April 27, in Central Point Junior High school gymnasium. Luncheon at 1 p.m. will be followed by the show.

Reservations may be made by phoning Mrs. Merrill Harsh, TA6-2773, or Mrs. Wendell Vaughn, Medford 2-8924.

Singer and Wife Honored at Party

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Dean of Hollywood, Calif., were honored at a potluck dinner given Monday evening at the Rogue Valley ballroom by a group of friends.

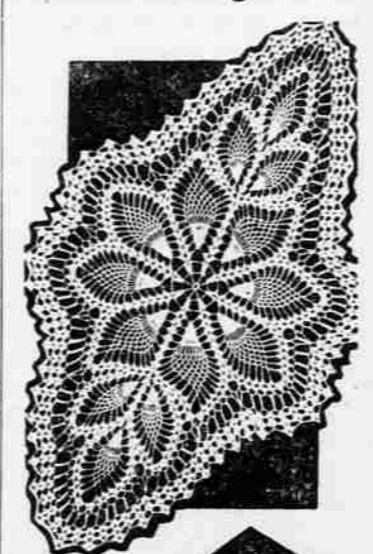

Mr. Dean, vocalist who specializes in western-type songs, is well known for his appearances on radio and television programs, and for his records.

The Deans are to leave today for Portland after visiting in the valley for several days.

WHITE COAT REVIVAL

New York—(U.P.)—The white coat, in both long and short versions, is back. Manufacturer Ben Zuckerman shows coats in pure white tweed, cut as narrow as Chesterfields, or on the voluminous side. They often are short enough to show the contrast of a dark dress or suit underneath. Other manufacturers show them in both hopsacking and smooth orlon fleeces.
