

GOLD HILL Receives SOC Scholarship

Gold Hill—Miss Donna Eskew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eskew, who is attending Crater High school, has just received notice that she is to receive the PTA Southern Oregon college elementary teaching four-year scholarship.

The Gold Hill 4-H club held their regular meeting Wednesday at the Roy Eskew home. Each of the 25 members gave a detailed report of their present project. Their games are designed to teach. For example, they show charts showing all the different parts of livestock. The winner must name the most parts correctly. Refreshments were served. Norman Gail, 4-H leader here, expressed satisfaction at their progress.

Gold Hill is proud of the business "clean-ups" going on. Lazy Acres are having a face lifting with gleaming white paint. The three Jays are enlarging their dairy, making it sparkling clean and modern.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jensen gave a dinner party at their home on the old Pacific highway April 26. It was a small family affair honoring Mrs. W. E. Thompson in celebration of her birthday, and in honor of Mrs. Wollosen, Mrs. Jensen's mother, up from California on a visit. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Chavner Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rosecrans have brought their baby, Melody Ann, home from the hospital where she has been confined for some time.

Mrs. C. F. Boye, who returned from the hospital a short time ago, has returned to the Sacred Heart hospital for further treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ramsey, Dunsmuir, Calif., have purchased the Hazel Kirk home on Fifth ave. Ramsey is a retired railroad man. Mrs. Ramsey is a great aunt to Mrs. Harvey Smith and Mrs. J. L. Malone, both of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Malone have purchased the Ezra Watson home on the old Pacific highway. The Malones plan to move about June 15, or before if their present home on Fourth is sold.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kamp-ing, former residents of Gold Hill now living in Medford, announced the adoption of a four-day-old baby girl. She was born on March 14 and weighed 5½ lbs. They have named her Loretta Louise. Mrs. Kamping has resigned her position as secretary of the Gold Hill Grange.

Mr. and Mrs. David N. Ennis, former residents of Lampman road, were in an automobile accident a short time ago. The Ennis family are now living in Palmdale, Calif., where Ennis is stationed at the Naval base there. The accident occurred about half way between Los Angeles and Palmdale when a pickup smashed into the rear end of their car. Ennis was uninjured but Mrs. Ennis is suffering from vertebra injury.

The Rev. and Mrs. Jerry Gear and daughter, Elizabeth, Odell, Ore., arrived Thursday for the opening of the trout season. The Gears are staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith on Sardine Creek. Mr. Gear is the former pastor of the Community Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Nichols have recently moved into the R. C. Raworth property on Sixth ave.

Miss Beth Eskew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eskew, has left for a week end visit in Portland with her fiance's family. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Neff, Miss Eskew has been practice teaching at the Central Point grade school.

The members of the two election boards of Gold Hill attended a meeting in Rogue River of the election school which is conducted by Mrs. Bereth Hopkins, county clerk, and her assistant, Mrs. E. K. Peterson, which was held Thursday afternoon.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—FIVE

Oregon Boy Governor Signs Five Measures

Salem — (U.P.) — The ninth annual YMCA youth legislature handed six bills to young Gov. Doyle Buckwalter of La Grande before adjourning late Saturday. He signed five and vetoed one. Passing a joint session of both houses were bills to provide a Lieutenant Governor; a resolution to re-apportion the Oregon Legislature on the federal plan; an act to provide stiff penalties for dealers in narcotics; an act to establish minimum teachers salaries, and an act to establish a motor vehicle training program for high schools.

Gov. Buckwalter vetoed an act relating to voting machines. He said some counties could not afford machines.

The six bills were the fewest to be presented by the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y students in several of the youth sessions.

WHAT A SHAME? River Falls, Wis. — (U.P.) — It was so cold at River Falls "May Day—USA Way," celebration Sunday that pretty girls riding on floats had to bundle up in heavy coats to keep snow flakes from nipping their knees.

Center-Post Agitator Problem!

Old center-post agitator problem

THE LAUNDROMAT
NEW WAY TO WASH

The old-fashioned Center-Post agitator washes with a jerk-jerk motion. Clothes in the center (harsh action zone) get rough treatment; clothes in the lazy outside zone hardly move.

Westinghouse removed the Center-Post entirely . . . put smooth agitator vanes at the outside of the wash basket. As the basket revolves, these vanes agitate the clothes by lifting, turning, flushing through sudsy water 50 times a minute. Every piece is washed all the time, thoroughly, equally well.

"Keep Green" Again

It's death in the woods from the Skeena river to the Humboldt, the newspapers tell. Over in Kittitas county, one story says, "a wall of water five feet high sits in the hills ready to race down to the ocean." That is, snow 143 inches deep contains 65 inches of water.

The other powerful danger, and one that will last, is in the stands of frozen young trees, and in deep carpets of needles, fallen from the big freeze. A bank of ivy up the road from my old boompond shack is black and brittle. Now comes fern-fire time. It could be a bad year.

But now we are prepared for the worst. The forestry protection forces are well trained in use of new types of forest-fire detection and suppression equipment. And the people, the young folks particularly, are informed and alert these times, on forest fire prevention. This is the encouraging effect of 16 years of "Keep Washington Green," "Keep Oregon Green" and "Keep California Green" and Golden.

Coach of the Green Team

There was a fine, fat letter in my beat-up RFD box, on the road uphill from the boompond shack. Roderic Olzendam was the name on the envelope. He was "Rod" to me and all the hands who organized themselves in February, 1940, for the first year's campaign of the "Keep Washington Green" fight against the man-caused forest fire.

Moseying back down the trail from the mailbox, I put the newspaper with all its grim news of flood and fire threats in my hip pocket, and poked a finger into Rod's letter, curious to know what he was up to now. Memory revived that February day of 1940, with its scene of state and industry forestry men packed around a big table in the office of Governor Clarence Martin at Olympia.

William B. Greeley was the dominant leader, as he always was in any gathering of foresters and lumbermen. Governor Martin and Colonel Greeley together put the question of how to fight fire with publicity to Russell Peters, then managing editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, and to Roderic Olzendam, then the top forestry public relations specialist of the Northwest. And how to do it answers were easy for them to provide.

Then "What'll we call the program?" asked Governor Martin.

"Keep Washington Green," said Rod Olzendam, and gave cogent reasons.

The name was instantly and unanimously accepted. And a minute later Rod was made chairman by acclamation.

The Green Mountain Boys

My own contribution was the nomination of Stewart Holbrook for the director of the program. There was no debate on his name, either.

July, 1940, saw "Keep Oregon Green" in action, under Edmund Hayes and John B. Woods Sr. Rod Olzendam was the orator of the evening at Oregon Gov. Charles Sprague's kickoff dinner.

Rod Olzendam was chairman throughout Stewart Holbrook's four years as KGW director, in fighting forest fires with publicity. One of the most amazing things about the record the two leaders made was its really trifling cost.

"What's amazing about that?" Rod said one day. "We're both from Vermont."

Well, Rod Olzendam moved upward and on, from one good work to another. His biggest and best accomplishment was his administration of the Social Security program of the state of Washington in the years 1949-1952. And now, as I learned at last from his letter, he is candidate for Washington Secretary of State. This was good news indeed from the mailbox, a rousing hope for the Evergreen state.
