Dr. Jaks Speaks At Knife, Fork Club Meeting Here Dr. Stanley Jaks, internationally known biographical authority and psychologist, spoke for Rogue River Valley Knife and Fork club last night at Rogue Valley Country club, bringing the club's tenth year to a close. Meetings will be resumed in October. Eric Allen Jr., retiring president of the club, spoke briefly of the club's founding and first year, and announced election of three new directors, Mrs. T. V. Williams, William A. Barker and Dr. J. Scott Heatherington. Not "Psychic" Dr. Jaks, who insists that he is not "psychic," but a highly trained psychologist and holographer, literally astounded his audience with what he likes to call "sleight of mind" experiments, using persons in the audience as assistants. As an example of the type of "experiment" which Dr. Jaks conducts, he asked before dinner to be introduced to a club member to whom he gave a triple-sealed envelope. He then asked the member, who happened to be Neil Davidson, to state an important year in his life, and to name some personage in whose career he has been interested. This Davidson did, giving the year 1939 and the name Clifton Webb. Davidson retained the sealed envelope, which Dr. Jaks had prepared 24 hours earlier while in California, until the program hour and when it was opened, it was found to contain the exact information which Mr. Davidson has previously conveyed to Dr. Jaks. Dr. Jaks twice duplicated the signatures of club members unknown to him, writing them backwards and upside down in full view of his audience while blindfolded. One of these was the extremely complicated sig-
