

Larson Equals Oregon Hurdles Record As Tornado Licks Pels; Three Smash School 880 Mark

Medford high hurdler Wally Larson equalled the state record in the 180-yard low hurdles. Three Medford men ran the half-mile in less than two minutes and the Medford 880-yard relay team was only .1 second off the state standard yesterday as the Black Tornado turned in another spectacular track and field exhibition in a dual engagement here with Klamath Falls.

Turning in best efforts of the season also in four other events, the Tornado thumped the Pelicans 84 3-5 to 27 2-5. McLoughlin junior high of Medford defeated Klamath 64 to 55 in a ninth grade tangle held in conjunction with the varsity affair.

Larson ran the low barriers in .19.3 to equal the state record set in 1951 by Frank Morris, also of the Black Tornado. Blond Wally also won the 120-yard high hurdles as Medford annexed first in 12 of the 14 events. His time of 14.7 equalled the best reported for a prepster so far this year.

lack of Medford went 21 feet but didn't place. Tisdal was second at 21-2 and Butch Kimpton of Klamath nabbed third with 21-1 1/2.

Hawkins beat out Klamath's stellar Dave Peppie in the dashes and Larson headed the Pelican sprinter on the lead off leg of the relay.

The Tornado swept the javelin as well as the half-mile with Gary Lewis second and Tony Brauner third.

In the ninth grade meet McLoughlin took seven firsts and Klamath six and the schools tied for another. Mike Murray won clear cut firsts for the Bulldogs in the shot put and discus and Jim Priest was double winner for KP, taking the javelin and 150 dash.

grade action will be published Monday.

Baltimore Rookie Fans 13 But Fails To Set Record

By UNITED PRESS
Left hander Don Ferrarese of the Baltimore Orioles celebrated his first major league start Saturday by striking out 13 batters but lost the game when Jim Hegan's double with two out in the ninth scored Al Rosen for a 2-1 Cleveland Indian victory.

Ferrarese's strikeout total was the highest for a rookie's first start in the American League since Bob Feller of the Indians struck out 15 in his debut against the St. Louis Browns in 1937.

Ferrarese limited the Indians to six hits, the first a homer by Rosen in the fifth inning. Bob Lemon held the Orioles to four hits, including an inside the park homer by Chuck Diering in the fourth inning. Hal Smith followed with a double but Lemon then retired the next 16 men to outlast Ferrarese.

In the other American League games, Mickey Mantle hit his eighth and ninth homers to help the New York Yankees defeat the Kansas City Athletics, 5-1; Washington downed Chicago, 4-2; and Detroit swamped Boston, 16-4.

Ken Boyer's grand slam home run, coupled with Tom Poholsky's three-hit pitching, gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-1 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers and Gus Bell's 10th inning hit enabled the Cincinnati Redlegs to edge the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-6.

The other National League games, Philadelphia at Chicago and New York at Milwaukee, were rained out.

Mantle drove in three runs at Yankee Stadium to boost his runs-batted-in total to 23, highest in the majors. Hank Bauer and Yogi Berra hit homers for the other Yankee runs. Mickey McDermott was the winner but got help from Don Larsen in the last two innings.

Chuck Stobbs' six-hit pitching and the batting of Jim Lemon helped the Senators defeat the White Sox at Washington. Lemon hit his third homer in as many games and two doubles. Roy Sievers blooped a single to center in the seventh to score Ernie Cravetz with the decisive run.

The Tigers started their romp against the Red Sox at Boston when rookie Frank Malone dropped Fred Hatfield's pop fly in the fourth inning with the score tied at 2-2. Detroit went on to send 13 men to the plate during the inning and scored seven runs, five of them unearned, off starter Ike Delock and Leo Kiely.

The Tigers got six of their 20 hits during the fourth inning. Harvey Kuenn doubled home two runs and Frank House drove in two more with a single. Charley Maxwell and Earl Torgeson each singled home another run and pitcher Billy Hoelt walked with the bases loaded to force in the seventh.

Goyer's four-run homer came off Roger Craig in the first inning at St. Louis and the Dodgers never caught up. Poholsky walked only one Dodger and struck out five.

Bell got only one hit during a see-saw slugfest at Cincinnati but it came at the right time. With Rocky Bridges on second and Frank Robinson on first and one out in the tenth, left hander Jack McMahan became the fifth Pittsburgh pitcher. Bell greeted him with a single over short to score Bridges with the winning run, making reliever Paul LaPalme a winner in his pitching debut with the Redlegs.

Rogue Loop Full Slate Announced

Complete schedule for this summer has been announced by officials of the Rogue Valley Baseball league.

Addition of the Cheney Colts to the circuit boosts the membership in the loop to eight teams. For the first time in several years the RVL will have a complete round of games on Sundays.

The slate opens on May 27. Concluding date is April 26. The four top clubs at the end of the regular slate will engage in a play-off.

Hamia Gets Nod Over Chestnut

Washington (U.P.)—Cherif Hamia, unconcerned about the loss of his French featherweight championship but apologetic about the closeness of his televised victory over Ike Chestnut, began making plans today for the next step in his world title campaign.

Hamia, a 2-1 favorite, had to settle for a majority decision by the slender margin of three points in Friday night's 10-rounder.

He also had to survive a third-round incident that saw him on the floor after Chestnut had landed a left-right combination. However, Referee Charles Reynolds ruled it was not a knock-down and there were no other trips to the canvas during the fight.

Hamia was stripped of his French featherweight crown the other day by French officials for failure to defend within the required time.

LINFIELD TRIUMPHS
McMinnville (U.P.)—Linfield won eight events and tied for two others in scoring 81 1-3 to defeat Portland State and Clark Junior college of Vancouver, Wash., in a triangular track and field meet here Friday. Portland State was second with 53 5-6 points and Clark trailed with 35 5-6.
