Brownies, Girl Scout Troops Receive Badges in Ceremony

Jacksonville — Girl Scout troops of Jacksonville neighborhood held their annual Brownie fly-up and court of awards May 11 in the school's all-purpose room. The event was directed by the neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Pete Zimmerman. Mrs. Michele Rossi, president of the Rogue Valley Area council, spoke in tribute to the girls who received the curved bar award, the highest award given in intermediate Girl Scouting. To earn the curved bar the girls must earn four proficiency badges in one field of interest, after attaining their first class badge.

Troop 123, eighth grade, led by Mrs. Wendell Matheny earned the following proficiency badges to qualify for the curved bar: Handywoman, conservation, personal health, dressmaker and homemaker. Receiving the bar were Kathleen Dowell, Judy Matheny, Rita McBeth, Heather Norris, Judith Robbins and Lynn Smith. Barbara Walters of Troop 123 received the second class badge and the above proficiency badges. She has only been in scouting one year.

The program was opened by all the troops marching in singing "There's Something About A Girl Scout", the words of which were written by Mrs. Leroy Mauroni. Mrs. Mauroni played the piano for all the singing during the program and supervised the music for the affair. After opening prayer by Lee Harter, the eighth grade troop took charge of the Juliette Low candlelight ceremony, in which all the troops took part. Several songs were sung, and the girls were urged to rededicate themselves to the Girl Scout principles.

Troop 23, second grade, led by Mrs. Albert A. Griffin, and Mrs. Al F. Pawlowski, and Troop 64, third grade, led by Mrs. W. H. Dunlap, sang "Hello, Hello", and "Make New Friends", during these songs the lights were turned off and the stage was illuminated only by flashlights held by the girls. Members of the third grade troop also received membership stars for belonging to scouts for one year.

The fly-up ceremony was conducted by the leader, Mrs. R. R. Crowley, assisted by her daughter, Alyce Crowley. The girls all crossed over a bridge, and under the wand of the star, held by Scotty Lynn Richardson, to receive their wings and the membership star. Those in Troop 179, fourth grade, flying-up were Roxanna Crowley, Venita Guymer, Nancy Harter, Jacque Long, Carol McBeth, Gayle Offenbacher, Sharon Issacs, Susan White, Kathleen Bowman, Mary and Betty Davis.

All of Troop 168, fifth grade, led by Mrs. Zimmerman, received second class badges, and all but two received stars for membership. Several also received proficiency badges for cooking were Nancy Zimmerman, Pat Clay, Melba Graham, Lana Matney, and Beatrice Rasmussen. Nancy Zimmerman also received the horsewoman badge. Besides those above the following received stars: Gladys Jean Anderson, Mary Heyerman, Mary Music, and Cora Belle Ravenor. The other members of the troop are Rosalie Lane, and Judy Hueners.

Various proficiency badges were earned by members of Troop 199, sixth grade, led by Mrs. H. O. Peterson. Homemaker, seamstress and cook badges were earned by Lynn Peterson, Letha Davis, Darlene Bowman, Yvonne Perrard, Dianne Rowe, Colleen Moore, Bonnie Umburger, and Judy Hogan. Also earning the seamstress badge was Maria Russell; she also received the second class badge. Lynn Peterson and Letha Davis also received the "daobler", and games badges. Others receiving second class badges were Colleen Moore, Bonnie Umburger, and Judy Hogan; all except the last three also received the star for membership.

Many persons helped with the program. Mrs. Fred T. Richardson mimeographed the program sheets for the troops.

A film was shown at the close of the evening, "Troop Committee At Work"; refreshments were served by the fifth grade troop. The program closed with the playing of Taps on the trumpet by Lynn Offord.

Women Given Awards At Girl Scout Luncheon

Talks, a film and reports were on the program yesterday for the annual business meeting and recognition luncheon of the Girl Scout council, Rogue Valley area, held at Rogue Valley Country club. The session opened at 10 a.m. and continued through luncheon until 2 p.m.

Speaker for the luncheon was Mrs. Mabel Winston, dean of women and registrar of Southern Oregon college. Mrs. Winston took as her topic the Girl Scout motto, "Believe, Belong and Build" and said that the most important of these is "build."

Mrs. Winston stated that since American women lead such complex and busy lives, training for young girls should be such that they can accomplish the daily routine with efficiency and ease and have ample time for civic and cultural pursuits. Organizations such as the Girl Scouts can help to properly train girls for full and useful lives as adults, she said.

Mrs. Winston pointed out that the average woman leads a life which is more complex and needs more skills and training than does that of the average man. The speaker said she believed woman's training and education should particularly stress the cultural, since this will enrich their later life when the children have grown and left the family home.

"Girls can't ever know enough for the lives they must lead today," she said. She closed by telling the assembled women that they should endeavor, through Girl Scouting, to enrich the lives of the girls with whom they work and said "nothing is more rewarding than to watch children grow and develop."

Mrs. R. W. Gray introduced the speaker.

During the presentation of awards two women were particularly honored. Mrs. A. L. Cararra was presented a Girl Scout thanks badge for 10 years of volunteer service with St. Mary's troops and other phases of scouting, with Mrs. T. R. Eslinger making the presentation. Mrs. Scott Davis was presented a bronze Girl Scout statuette in recognition of 16 years service to the organization with Mrs. Michelle Rossi, council president, making the presentation.

A large number of women were given Girl Scout certificates. They included Mrs. C. A. Thatcher, an award for 19 years service; Mrs. M. N. Hogan, 17 years; Mrs. O. A. Eden, 16 years; Mrs. Don Patterson and Mrs. Rossi, 15 years; Mrs. W. H. Reichstein, 14; Mrs. Melvin Cannon and Mrs. Alan Jewett, 11 years; Mrs. Cararra, Mrs. Victor Eakin, Mrs. John Carter and Mrs. Max Leischer, 10 years; Mrs. Kenneth Denman, 9 years.

Receiving awards for 8 years of service were Mesdames Jack James, Orbin Cooksey, Charles Ely, Clifton Friend, Paul Haviland, George Ice, William Meyers, Sam Jennings, all Medford; Mrs. Hugh Moulton and Mrs. L. G. Stidham, Grants Pass; Mrs. Arthur Kellert, Cave Junction, and Mrs. Ralph Leach, Ashland.

Seven-year awards went to Mrs. Walter Garner, Mrs. Owen Kunkel, Mrs. O. J. Miller, Medford; Mrs. R. W. Hargitt, Rogue River; Mrs. Ben Newman, Grants Pass and Mrs. Fern Steward, Wolf Creek. Receiving six-year awards were Mrs. George Baker, Mrs. Gerald Foote and Mrs. Lora Hahn, Grants Pass; Mrs. John Russell and Mrs. Henry Pringle, Medford.

Five-year awards went to Mesdames Ruth Acord, Floyd Baker, Charles Barnes, Ruth Eberlius, Roy Hewitt, Frank Roelandt, W. W. Stevenson and Walter Bolz, Medford; Mesdames Calvin Ross and Merlyn Kelso, Ashland; Mesdames Ted Kell, Samuel Bode, Louis Grimmer and Ben Spalding, Grants Pass and Mrs. P. D. Brading, Cave Junction.

Among the luncheon guests were Mrs. T. M. Deter, Mrs. Jack Young and Mrs. Edgar Meek, Yreka, Calif., who were here in the interests of their district which is seeking a change from California to the Rogue Valley area jurisdiction. Also guests were Clifford Hanson, Crater Lake area executive secretary for Boy Scouts, and Richard Lamb, field director for the area.

The flag was presented by Jackie Bates, Mary Friend and Susan Gray. Miss Bates spoke briefly of the national Girl Scout roundup which she will attend this summer.

Highlight of the morning session was a talk by Miss Rosemary Murray, Seattle, council advisor on the national staff, on "The Line of Responsibility," an interpretation of a good council structure. Mrs. Richard Finch, Medford district chairman, discussed the "Neighborhood Service Team" and a film was shown on a "Neighborhood in a Girl Scout Council." She stressed that with the growth of membership in the council there is need for larger and stronger neighborhoods to give the best service to troops and leaders.

Mrs. Rossi presented the 1936-1937 council plan of work and explained that the 1937-1938 budget is based on this plan of work. Dwight Houghton, chairman of the finance committee, presented the 1937-1938 estimated budget for council approval. It was accepted and will now be sent to the district fund raising agencies.

Mrs. Thatcher, chairman of the constitution committee, read the new constitution of the Rogue Valley Area Girl Scout council, and it was adopted.
