

Election Results for State Posts Listed

Portland — (U.P.) — Slow returns from state representative races Saturday showed Republicans Shirley Field, Kenneth K. Maher and Sam Wilderman with slight edges in the west subdistrict of Multnomah county while Pat Dooley, Dennis Lindsay and James R. Hogan led Democrats.

Leading in the East subdistrict were Republicans Ernest J. Borrows, S. B. Hall and Frank W. Pender and Democrats Vernon Cook, Ed Benedict and Louis J. Lampert.

Three Democrats ahead in the south city subdistrict were Norman Howard, Grace Peck and Berkeley Lent while Republicans William J. Gallagher, Ernest E. Williams and Frederick S. Wilhelm led Republicans.

Fred Meek led Republicans in the east central city subdistrict while Bob Anderson headed the Demos.

City Subdistrict

In the north city subdistrict, Democrats were headed up by William A. Grenfell Jr. and Republicans by Homer L. Allen. Marion county Republicans were giving a slight edge to Eddie Ahrens and Lane county to Republican incumbent Ernest Schrenk. Democrat Keith Skelton led in Lane.

Samuel A. Hall held a substantial advantage over Republican Minnie W. King in Coos and Curry counties as did Democrat Katherine Musa over Allen J. Kramer in Wasco county.

Republicans Joseph D. Bottero and Kenneth Conroy were neck-and-neck in Crook and Jefferson counties. Incumbent Richard Groener maintained a slight lead over other Clackamas county Democrats as did Republicans Ken Goodall and H. H. Chindgren.

Portland — (U.P.) — Five Multnomah county Democrats appeared headed for state Senate nominations Saturday as results of Friday's primary poured in.

Alfred H. Corbett, G. A. Gleason, Walter J. Pearson, Jean L. Lewis and Ward H. Cook all took healthy leads over James Field and Victor Hasson.

State Senate

Other Senate races showed Democrats Lloyd V. Arant of Douglas county neck and neck with Dan Dimick in the fourth district.

In the sixth district, C. D. Camerson held a slight edge over Sidney Bazett of Josephine county.

Republican James B. Bedingfield Jr. had a good lead in the seventh district as did John D. Hare in the 10th. Warren McMinnee was leading in the GOP 15th district race.

Both races in the 21st district were close with Republican Anthony Yturri holding slight margin.

Spinster Questioned About Mother's Death

Denver — (U.P.) — Police questioned a 61-year-old spinster Saturday about the death of her 93-year-old mother who lay on the floor three days from a fall halfway down a flight of stairs on Mothers day.

The spinster, Nellie Camblin, said her mother, Mrs. Mary Camblin, "seemed all right" after the fall last Sunday. The daughter said she was unable to move her mother from the foot of the stairway and "didn't think of" asking help from a neighbor.

"You're just looking at this one thing, this fall," she told police. "You're not looking at all the years of service I've given. I've devoted all my life to my mother."

Mrs. Camblin died at Colorado General Hospital Thursday, one day after she was admitted. An autopsy was scheduled to day.

The coroner's office said it appeared that the elderly woman's death was due to "infirmities of old age and dehydration." Miss Camblin has not been charged.

Revolutionary Party Scores Decisive Win

San Salvador — (U.P.) — The governing Revolutionary party of Democratic Unification (PRUD) scored a decisive victory in Sunday's congressional elections, the Central Electoral Council reported Friday.

Government candidates won a majority in every one of the country's 14 administrative departments, the council said. The National Action party was the only one of several opposition groups that did not boycott the elections.

Utah has 11 mountain peaks that are 13,000 or more feet in height.

Walter Norblad Wins Congressional Nod

Portland — (U.P.) — Republican Walter Norblad won renomination to Congress and apparently will face Democrat Jason Lee this November.

Norblad was the only incumbent congressman opposed in the primary. He drubbed Silverton turkey grower R. F. Cook. Lee was leading Don H. Metheny, his rival for the Democratic nomination.

Sam Cook apparently will meet Al Ullman of Baker again in the state's second district. Ullman was defeating A. E. Glidewell in the Democratic primary battle.

In the fourth district race, Charles O. Porter of Eugene led David C. Shaw of Gold Beach for the Democratic nomination with the winner to meet unopposed Republican incumbent Harris Ellsworth.

Phil Roth had a good-sized lead over three other candidates in the third district Republican race for the right to meet Democrat Edith Green this November. She was not opposed.

Treasurer's Office Race Shaping Up

Portland — (U.P.) — Wiley Smith Saturday appeared to be the Democrat who will compete with Sig Unander for the office of state treasurer. Smith's lead over Al Richardson held up as returns continued to pour in from primary election counting boards. Unander, the incumbent Republican, was unopposed for his party's nomination.

The secretary of state contest on the Republican ticket attracted a heavy vote that placed Mark Hatfield well ahead of William Healy. Hatfield is a state senator from Marion county in his first statewide race and Healy is a former assistant secretary of state. National Democratic Committeeman Monroe Sweetland was unopposed for the state office and will meet Hatfield in the general election.

Poppelle Resigns as Chief of Radio Voice

Washington — (U.P.) — J. R. Poppelle is resigning as chief of the government Voice of America radio programs.

His resignation as assistant director of the United States Information Agency in charge of voice broadcasts will be effective July 15, the USA announced Friday. He joined the government radio service as director on May 10, 1954.

SCHRUNK LEADS

Portland — (U.P.) — Multnomah county Sheriff Terry Schrunck held a lead of some 4,000 votes over Mayor Fred Peterson Saturday but a runoff between the two for the position this fall appeared likely as six other candidates grabbed a small share of the vote.

Adlai 'Delighted' Over Vote Outcome

Sarasota, Fla. — (U.P.) — Adlai Stevenson said Saturday he is "delighted" over the results of the Oregon primary. He said he is leading by a "much larger" margin than he anticipated.

The Democratic presidential aspirant was given the latest returns by his campaign aides shortly after he awoke this morning at a swank beachside hotel here. Stevenson is campaigning now in Florida.

"Of course I am delighted," he said. "I am deeply grateful to all my many friends out there who have given me this immense encouragement."

"I said I expected to win when I was in Oregon. This is a much larger margin than I had foreseen."

Meanwhile in Washington, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said he wants to confer with his state campaign manager before making any comment on the voting.

He told the United Press he might have a statement on the Oregon results later.

Morse Acknowledges Heavy Vote Friday

Eugene — (U.P.) — Sen. Wayne Morse Saturday acknowledged the heavy vote handed him by his new compatriots in the Democratic party in yesterday's primary election.

Morse, the first United States senator from Oregon to be nominated to the post by both Republican and Democratic voters, stood for election yesterday for the first time as a Democrat. His previous two terms in the Senate he was a Republican.

He pledged to Democratic supporters that "in the historic campaign ahead, I shall devote myself to a discussion of the merits of legislative issues."

Morse will meet arch-foe Douglas McKay in the general election on a campaign certain to be based on the public vs. private development of natural resources issue.

Portlanders Uphold Pinball Machine Ban

Portland — (U.P.) — Portlanders were upholding by a substantial majority Saturday the city council's ban on pinball machines.

The issue of whether to locate the proposed Exposition-Recreation center on the east side of the Willamette river remained undecided. Another undecided race was whether to raise pay of city employees.

Mellbye Appointed Vice Principal

Central Point — Clarence Mellbye, dean of boys and head baseball coach at Crater High school, last week was officially appointed vice-principal of the school, effective for the 1956-57 term.

Melbye, who has periodically been acting as assistant principal, will continue his teaching duties and his capacity as dean of boys. He has been in the Central Point school system for the past seven years.

The school board appointed James Gay to coach the baseball and freshman football squads.

Leonard Warren, now serving as head football coach, was appointed coordinator of Crater High athletics. In that position his duties will include checking purchase orders and scheduling athletic events. Edward Knapp, physical education director and track coach, was named a consultant on elementary school athletics. He will visit the district's grade schools during the sports season. Warren and Knapp both received minor salary increases with their new appointments.

At its meeting the board approved contracts for four new teachers, Lawrence Larson, Ronald Lamb, Lloyd Hoffine and Mrs. Olivia Ryerson. Directors also hired Mrs. Robert Monsey as secretary for the new Central Point primary school.

Ike Declares He's 'Not Displeased'

Washington — (U.P.) — The White House said Saturday President Eisenhower was "not displeased" at returns from the Oregon primary.

These gave Mr. Eisenhower more votes than the combined total cast for Democrats Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver (Tenn.) in the presidential balloting.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty was asked if the President had seen the Oregon returns, including the McKay results. Hagerty grinned and replied that Mr. Eisenhower had and "was not displeased."

Kefauver, temporarily in Washington, conferred with his Oregon campaign manager by telephone. He indicated he would have a statement later in the day on Stevenson's 2 to 1 lead in the bid for Democratic National Convention delegates.

Mr. Eisenhower, unopposed for Oregon's 10 delegates to the GOP Presidential Nominating Convention, had polled 93,386 votes with more than half of the state's 2,519 precincts counted. The combined Kefauver-Stevenson vote was less than 70,000.

Indonesia President Goes On Cross-Country Journey

Washington — (U.P.) — President Sukarno of Indonesia Saturday packed up his trunkful of charm for a cross-country tour of the nation.

The Indonesian chief of state planned to leave the capital by automobile for the first leg of his two-week trip.

President Eisenhower said Friday night at a lavish dinner given in his honor by Sukarno that America must never forget "that unless we defend the freedom of the other fellow, we are endangering our own."

Mr. Eisenhower said in a toast to Sukarno: "I want to thank you for what you have reminded us of—a keener sense of our duties which our forefathers fought and died for."

Sukarno toasted Mr. Eisenhower as "a crusader not for military means but a crusader for an ideal."

Most Glittering

The dinner at the swank Mayflower Hotel was one of the most glittering of the current Washington season. Among the top U.S. officials present were Chief Justice Earl Warren, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, and Adm. Arthur W. Radford.

Woman Indicted on Four Murder Counts

Montgomery, Ala. — (U.P.) — A red-haired waitress who admitted using poison to kill her children and husbands for their insurance money was indicted Friday on four counts of first-degree murder.

Mrs. Rhonda Belle Martin, 49, admitted using arsenic to kill six of her relatives.

The stocky waitress admitted poisoning her mother, two husbands and three young daughters for "several thousand dollars" insurance money.

A Montgomery County grand jury charged the woman with the deaths of two former husbands, Claude C. Martin and George Garrett, and two daughters, Carolyn Garrett, 3, and Elynn Elizabeth Garrett, 11.

In Mobile, she was indicted earlier for the murder of her mother, Mrs. Frances Gibbons, and two daughters, Elynn Elizabeth and Emogene Garrett, 3.

Hearings Conclude On Klamath Compact

Eureka, Calif. — (U.P.) — Hearings concluded here Friday with out opposition on the proposed Klamath River Compact involving sections of California and Oregon.

The main purpose of the compact is to facilitate the orderly and comprehensive development of the water resources of the Klamath River Basin. It must be approved by state and federal legislation.

R. F. Denbb, manager of the Eureka Chamber of Commerce, pointed out that Klamath River below the Oregon border should be maintained for recreation and log transportation purposes.
