

Indians Gain 3rd Straight NWL Verdict

By RAY ANDREWS
United Press Sports Writer

It's only an infant as yet, but the Spokane Indians of the Northwest League are hoping their winning streak grows into a king-sized one.

The Indians turned in 8-4 and 4-1 decisions over Wenatchee last night to chalk up their third in a row to make things slightly rosier after a poor start.

Four Spokane hurlers allowed but two hits in the opener but gave eleven walks. Ed Luedtke took credit for the victory. Spokane sewed it up with a two-run rally in the seventh.

Jim Leahy spaced five Wenatchee hits in the nightcap. He lost his shutout when Bill Carabba homered with the bases empty and two out in the seventh and final inning.

Big Fifth Frame
Spokane got its four runs in the fifth with the aid of three walks, two singles and a fielder's choice.

Lewiston saw its winning streak reach seven straight with a 7-5 verdict over Salem.

Jerry Jacobs came on in the fifth and allowed but two hits the rest of the way to save the day.

The two teams had been scheduled for two games but decided on one when the condition of the field made necessary a lot start.

Yakima took a tighter grip on first place with a 6-4 triumph over Eugene.

Bill Eastburn got Eugene off to a fast start with a 3-run homer in the first. However, Yakima kept at it and got the eventual winning run in the top of the ninth on Herm Reich's solo home run. Doubles by Roy Nixon and Dick Neal sent another run home.

Portland Tops Stars; Loop Pacers To Clash

By DON THACKREY
United Press Sports Writer

The unshakable Los Angeles Angels, put in shape by a three-game track meet with San Diego, match biceps with the Seattle Rainiers today in the start of a Pacific Coast League series that could give one of them a good shove toward the pennant.

The Angels and Rainiers both won last night to stay in step at the top of the league. The Angels took San Diego 12-10 and Seattle got by Vancouver 4-2.

Portland edged Hollywood on a late homer again 2-1 and Sacramento hung a 5-3 defeat on San Francisco.

The three-game San Diego-Los Angeles series wore down the base paths at Wrigley Field to the tune of 59 runs, 78 hits and 16 homers. In all 23 athletes climbed onto the mound in the three games.

Homers and Homers
The Angels got behind 10-2 but then tied the score in the seventh with an eight run rally. Gale Wade and Elvin Tappe hit three run homers in the frame. Then in the eighth Bob Speake and Steve Bilko lost baseballs with nobody on to give Bob Anderson his second straight relief victory and fourth of the season without defeat.

Ebba St. Claire and Bob Usher powered earlier blasts for the losers.

Seattle got three unearned runs in the sixth to defeat the Mounties in a duel between Vic Lombardi and Fred Besana. Three Mountie errors contributed to lefty Besana's downfall as each team could manage only one earned run.

Another pitching duel took place at Portland between Rene Valdes and Roger Sawyer. Portland got one run in the second but Joe Duhem nullified it with a homer in the fifth. There was no more scoring until the bottom of the eighth when Portland's Luis Marquez parked the ball out of the lot for the go ahead run and Valdes breezed through the ninth to take the win.

Some Memories
The night before the Beavers came from behind with a grand slammer in the bottom of the ninth by Eddie Basinski to give Hollywood a one-run beating.

Sacramento got the rubber game of the three-game series from San Francisco as Bud Watkins turned in a two-hit, no-run relief stint for five innings.

Watkins came on in the fifth when Gene Bearden hurt his finger and picked up the win with a strong effort.

The lower was R. W. Smith. Nippy Jones hit a two-run homer for the Solons in the first frame. San Diego . . . 024 202 000—10 16 1 Los Angeles . . . 020 008 022—12 11 0 Mesa, Herrera (7), Kerrigan (7), Carmichael (8) and St. Claire; Thorpe, Anderson (8) and Hannah; Tappe (8).

Glennen Named Pilot Net Mentor
Portland—(U.P.)—Rich Carlascio resigned yesterday as baseball coach at Portland university and will be succeeded next season by Bob Glenn, who has been helping out this season. Glenn is a 1955 Portland graduate.

The Rev. Arthur Near, C.S.C., was named tennis coach and Bill Smith, new head of the physical education department, was named track and field coach.

The Rev. Paul E. Waldschmidt, C.S.C., athletic board chairman, praised Carlascio for devoting time from his business to direct the Pilot team for the past two seasons.

Humez Rules As Favorite

New York — (U.P.) — Frenchman Charles Humez, middle-weight champion of Europe, and Utah's Gene Fullmer, outstanding American contender, fight tonight in Madison Square Garden for the right to a shot at the world crown.

Humez, 29, is favored at 13-10 to win their nationally televised and broadcast 10-rounder, which starts at 6 p.m. (PST).

Fullmer, 24, has been well supported in the heavy betting, which was at "even money" until Wednesday night, when veteran Humez began to forge ahead because of his great experience, smoother boxing and higher world-rating.

Ranked
The Frenchman is ranked number one; Fullmer number two.

Exceptionally brisk wagering was inspired by the fact that each fought the same opponent, Ralph Tiger Jones, in his last start; and the pell-mell pummeler from West Jordan, Utah, did better than the more stylish bob-weaver from France. In his American debut on March 23, Humez lost a decision to Jones. It snapped his unbeaten string at 18. But on April 20, Fullmer outpointed Jones.

Delaware Gets Play-Off Berth

Swarthmore, Pa. — (U.P.) — The University of Delaware has been named to represent the Middle Atlantic State College Athletic Conference in the District 2 NCAA baseball playoffs at Allentown, Pa., June 1-2. Delaware posted a 14-2 record for the season. Moravian and Lafayette were other top contenders in the district.

Day Article In Argosy

John S. Day, Medford rancher and sportsman-author, relates how he made movies of a charging Kodiak bear in an article published in the June issue of Argosy magazine. The article is illustrated with some of the pictures, and the cover of the magazine is a drawing of a bear.

The article grew out of a conversation with Harry Steeger, editor of Argosy, during an Explorers' club dinner in New York a year ago. One of the dinner guests had insisted that black bear and grizzlies will charge a man, but that "barnies" do not.

Day argued that they did, having heard stories of such charges related by Alaskan guides and hunters, and at length Steeger said he would like to have pictures of a Kodiak bear during a charge. In the Argosy article author Day describes how the pictures were made and how close he was to having a first-hand "encounter" with the animal.

The editorial introduction to the article states "Never before has a giant Kodiak killer been photographed so close in full charge." Steeger also refers to the dinner conversation and article in his column, "Hunting with Breeze-Shooters," adding that Day planned to return to Alaska in an effort to locate "the largest of all Kodiak bears."

January Leads Dallas Tourney

Dallas, Tex. — (U.P.) — Slender Don January, a fledgling professional who has never finished higher than fourth in his year and four days as a pro, carried a one-stroke lead today into the second round of the $30,000 Dallas Centennial Open.

A hometown product who flirted with golf fame amateurwise as a member of three NCAA championship golf teams at North Texas State college, January toured the short, but tricky par 35-35-70 Preston Hollow Country Club layout in 33-31-64, a new course record, in Thursday's first round.

Ransom Pressing
Pressing him was a real veteran of the links wars — 45-year-old Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill., with a 32-33-65.

A stroke further back with four-under 66's were massive Mike Souchak, the season's second money winner from Grossingers, N.Y., young Bud Holsinger, N.Y., and Mario Gonzalez, ch-er of Apple Valley, Calif., and the lean Latin from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Mario Gonzalez.

Sisters Nips Talent In B Quarter Final

A spurge of five runs came at a time when defeat seemed imminent yesterday afternoon and propelled the Sisters Outlaws into a berth in the semi-finals of the eliminations deciding the Oregon Class B high school baseball championship.

The five markers in the seventh inning earned the Outlaws, titlists in District 6B, a 7 to 6 nod over the Talent high Bulldogs, who had taken the 5B crown three consecutive years. Scene of the state quarter-final struggle was the fairgrounds ball park here.

Talent had a 6 to 2 margin after six innings of play.

In the seventh inning hitting turn of the Sisters contingent, five straight swatters recorded one-base blows. The Outlaws combined the raps with a bases on balls, an error, a passed ball and a ground out for the five big runs.

Sisters' ace hurler, Willis Winkle, held the Bulldogs to six hits over the route but Talent was able to use four of them along with Outlaws to build up its four run lead.

Bulldogs Score
Two errors and a sacrifice bunt by Bob Hoffman were responsible for a second frame Bulldog tally. Sisters came back in the fourth with two counters on three Talent misplays, a stolen base and a single by Dave Ullman.

In the bottom of the fourth panel hits by Hoffman and Skip Walls, an error and walk produce two scores for a 3 to 2 Talent edge. Ron Weinholt then slammed a bases empty homerun ball over the new right field wall for the big cloud of the game. Ray Weinholt got on base on an error, stole second and third bases and romped to the plate on another miscue.

The Bulldogs picked up a final marker in the sixth inning when Snyder singled and made the rounds on a passed ball, stolen base and wild pitch.

Winkle struck out eight Talent batters and walked three. The Outlaws collected 11 hits off Hoffman who gave way to Gordy Thoreson with none out in the seventh stanza. Thoreson yielded two hits.

Three For Four
Winkle and Carrol Raines hit

three times in four tries for the Sisters nine. Vic Brackett got two for three and Ron Phillips two for four including a triple. Hoffman hit safely twice for Talent in three times up. Players getting Sisters' raps in the big seventh were Raines, Winkle, Phillips, Snooks Currier and Leonard Langelier.

* Sisters loaded the bases with one out in the third inning. Phillips cracked a sharp liner but Second Baseman Fred Helm snagged the ball sensationally and tossed to Shortstop Thoreson at second base for a double play. Another Outlaw chance to tally fizzled when Bill Moss singled with two men on and two out in sixth canto. Hoffman took the throw in from the outfield and ran down Ullman who was scampering back toward third after having rounded that sack on his way toward home.

After Talent got its two fourth inning runs a walk got the bases loaded with two out. Winkle fanned the next two batters.

LINE SCORE:
Sisters . . . 000 200 5-7 13 5
Talent . . . 010 221 0-6 6 3
Hoffman, Thoreson (7) and Combs.
