Are You Worth Loving?

Readers are invited to present their problems to this column. All queries will receive individual attention and should be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope...

"Jim sprints for home every evening as if he were jet-propelled," says Bill. "Why the great rush?"

"Haven't you seen Jim's wife?" asks Dick. "She's the best and the most, anyway you look at her. She treats Jim like a real HEAD MAN—she's worth coming home to."

Are you worth coming home to? Are you worth loving? Are you the kind of person others like to be with? Do you make your mate happy that you are YOU, and that you are married to him for better, not worse?

Telephone Hour To Observe Day

The Telephone Hour's annual Memorial day program, to be broadcast this year on Monday, May 28, will feature baritone Thomas Uppman and the Bell Telephone chorus...

The final number on the program will be a presentation of Frederick Fleming's majestic chorale, "Praise for Peace," by Mr. Uppman and the chorus...

Mr. Uppman will also present two songs by one of America's favorite composers, Stephen Foster. One is his first published song, "Open Thy Lattice, Love."

The second is a song of the Mississippi steamboats, "The Glendy Burk."

Donald Voorhees and the Bell Telephone Orchestra also turn to the works of American composers for their two numbers on the broadcast...

The Bell Telephone Chorus, which is trained by veteran choral director Don Craig, appears on the Telephone Hour at its traditional holiday programs.

1. Do I do all I can to increase my partner's powers and sense of worth? 2. Do I complement his strength and compensate his weakness?

3. Do I make an honest effort to see at least two sides to the problems and to share responsibility? 4. Do I try to be the sort of person he, or she, admires, to grow and to retain emotional alertness?

5. Do I enjoy being married—and tell my partner so? 6. Do I think life is predominantly good and keep the chin up even when the going is rough?

7. Am I responsive to the world, and especially to my partner and his or her needs, before my own? 8. Am I honestly worth coming home to—and loving?

Rockhounds Plan Two Spring Hunts

Two spring rock hunts have been planned by the All Rockhounds Pow Wow club, the second to be held on Agate desert near Medford, the club has announced...

Ben Wood, Morton, Wash., is president of the club, and founder of the group is C. H. Robinson Jr., of Puyallup, Wash.

The release states that the rockhounds will look for agate, petrified wood, fossils and crystals during the local hunt, and that camping and digging equipment will be required.

Work begun last July on the pit houses north of Vantage under the direction of Dr. Douglas Osborne of the University of Washington will be continued during the hunt set for this week end. All artifacts uncovered are given to the university for display in one collection.

Collection of artifacts is not the prime motive of the Vantage digging, it is explained, but rather the group seeks clues which lead to further knowledge of the ways of life of the inhabitants of these houses.

Sorority Chapter To Hold Banquet Saturday Night

Alpha Lambda chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority will hold a formal banquet Saturday, May 26, at 7 p.m. at the Dardanelle, Gold Hill. Installation of officers for the coming year will be held after the banquet.
