

Magazine Carries Festival Article; Season to Open

Ashland The Oregon Shakespearean Festival and Institute are the subject of an article in "How To Leave Home And Like It," in the June issue of House Beautiful.

The article was written by Marion Gough, long-time Shakespearean fan.

The author lists the five plays to be given this season and describes the festival, Tudor Fair, and the courses to be given at the Institute of Renaissance Studies.

This is one of several articles in national magazines heralding the festival's 1958 season which will run for an extra day, ending September 1 instead of August 31. The actors and staff members will begin arriving in Ashland the week of June 10, auditions will begin June 18, and rehearsals start in the outdoor theatre June 20.

WCTU CONVENTION

The World Women's Christian Temperance Union (WCTU) will hold its triennial international convention this year in Bremen, Germany, the first time on German soil, according to the German Tourist Information Office. Seventy countries are sending 1400 delegates to the convention, to be held from June 14-19.

Ernest Vehrs, president of the Rogue Valley Rose society of Grants Pass and consulting rosarian for the American Rose society for southern Oregon, will give a demonstration on grooming roses for the show. Also Mrs. L. G. Gentner, a past president of the local society and a co-chairman of the show last year will demonstrate arrangement exhibits for the show. Everyone is invited to this meeting as it should prove beneficial to those who are interested in exhibiting roses in the coming show.

St. Mary's Girl Scout Neighborhood Holds Annual Ceremonies Monday Night

Girls in St. Mary's Girl Scout neighborhood took part in a fly-up and court of awards ceremony Monday evening, the girls and parents met at Sacred Heart church and the Rev. Robert J. Tommiser spoke of the true value of girl scouting and expressed his wishes that every girl would derive a fuller and more useful life from her experiences.

Each Brownie wore her newly acquired wings to the parish hall where sister scouts met them under a decorated arch and each received her Girl Scout pin. Following this ceremony girls from the fifth and sixth grades were presented their proficiency badges as awards for work accomplished in various fields of scouting. Each participant lighted a candle and repeated one of the laws until all 10 were given. Mrs. Robert Lewis is the leader of troop 85 and Mrs. Joseph Barrett is the assistant leader. Mrs. Al Carrara is the leader of the sixth grade Troop 86 and Miss Nancy Stevenson is her assistant. Mrs. Carrara also presented first class awards to Troop 156 with Miss Kaye Carrara assisting.

The curved bar, highest award in Intermediate Girl Scouts, was earned by members of Troop 30 which includes more varied and difficult fields of work in scouting. Those who received these awards were Jerelyn Burroughs, Ann Haviland, Lucile Lowry, Kathleen Relling, Sue Ann Ruth-erford, Janet Young, and Lynn Parsons.

Mrs. G. N. Gitzon is the leader of this troop and Mrs. Frank Roelandt assists. Two new leaders, Mrs. Salvador C. Esquivel and Mrs. Clinton Lewis were invested. They will lead Troop 153 whose members are Kathleen Pianka, Dixie Dugan, Judy Dunlevy, Ava Maria Esquivel, Mary K. Hochstalter, Faye Lewis, Linda McCann, Kathy Zapell, Robin Ashenbner, Annette Burick, Mary Walsh and Lynn Parsons. Mrs. T. R. Eslinger, neighborhood chairman, had charge of the program and Kathleen Relling was mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Richard Finch, Girl Scout district chairman, was introduced and Mrs. W. W. Stevenson spoke on Camp Low Echo. Linda Van Dyke portrayed the part of the fairy for the fly-ups.

The program closed with the singing of several Girl Scout songs.

Meeting of Club Held Thursday At Pythian Hall

Medford Sojourners club met Thursday afternoon at the Pythian hall. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Edwin Harper, Mrs. J. G. Clark, and Mrs. Etta Pryor. An arrangement of calla lilies and white tapers decorated the tea table; a bouquet of purple and white iris, and a vase of snapdragons completed the room decorations.

About 50 members attended, including Mrs. Bob Gustifson and Mrs. James Mitchelltree, prospective members. New members welcomed into the club were Mrs. Herman Schroeder and Mrs. William Herschy.

A special award was given to Mrs. Everett DeGarmo. Prizes for bridge were awarded to Mrs. Clay Lee and Mrs. Tom Williams; pinochle awards went to Mrs. Herman Schroeder and Mrs. James Mitchelltree; Mrs. Ruby Wright and Mrs. Ted Shura won canasta awards.

Next meeting of the club will be June 14 at the Pythian hall. All newcomers who have lived in Medford less than two years are cordially invited to attend and become members.

AUTOMATIC DOUGHNUTS

New York—(U.P.)—Latest gadget for the kitchen is an automatic doughnut maker. It is cone-shaped, aluminum container with wide opening at the top and a smaller opening at the bottom which is closed by a spring-operated mechanism. Pour the batter into the container, press a plunger, and the right amount of dough for one doughnut is released. The hole is cut as the dough slides through the opening. The container holds enough batter for 24 doughnuts.

Dead line Sunday Classified is at noon Saturday; 10 a.m. Monday for Monday; other days 5:30 previous day.

Eldred Peyton is president of Medford Rose society which is making plans for the second annual rose show June 2 in the cafeteria of Medford Senior High school. Mr. Peyton and other officers of the society are urging all rose growers of southern Oregon to enter the show. Trophies and ribbons will be awarded in several divisions. Mr. Peyton is shown here in the garden at his home, 3298 Madrona lane and the rose in front of him is "Austrian Copper," an ancient species rose introduced prior to 1590. —(Brainerd photo)

Rose Society Members Given Show Committee Assignments

Every active member of Medford Rose society has been assigned to committee work for the second annual rose show of the society, to be held Saturday, June 2, in the cafeteria of the Medford Senior High school. Mrs. W. R. Peabody and Mrs. George Renaker are co-chairmen in charge of the show, and they urge every rose grower to enter blooms in the show.

Entries may be made from 7:30 to 10 a.m. and the show will be open to visitors from 1 to 10 p.m. Qualified judges have been assigned to judge the competitive exhibits and mayor Earl Miller will present the awards at 8 p.m.

A large committee will assist growers with their entries. Among those on this committee are Mrs. Carl Norris, Dr. L. G. Gentner, Miss Grace N. Stuhr, Mrs. H. E. Peyton, Mrs. L. C. McCay, and Mrs. L. M. Hamilton.

In charge of staging will be Mr. Carl Norris. Working on placement of horticulture exhibits will be Mrs. V. L. Quackenbush, Mrs. George Hartley and Mrs. A. W. McCormick. Placement of arrangements will be in charge of Mrs. Bert Simmons, Mrs. Ward Spatz, Miss Florence Bain, Mrs. Sam Harbison and Mrs. Charles Hobbs. In charge of the guest book will be Mrs. H. U. Walters.

Hospitality or hostess chairman is Mrs. L. G. Gentner. In charge of roses of yesterday exhibit, a non-competitive display, is Mrs. Ranald Axtell. Tea chairman is Mrs. Wynne P. Grier and Mr. Axtell will arrange a "wishing well."

As one of the special features of the show, all florists are invited to submit arrangements featuring roses which will be on a non-competitive basis.

The society invites everyone having species or old-fashioned roses to display them at the show.

The regular May meeting of the Medford Rose society will be held Monday, May 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the county courthouse auditorium. This meeting will be devoted to business relating to the coming rose show.
